Sewer debate begins

MARY FOLEY
Staff Reporter

It was a full house Tuesday night as representatives from homeowner associations and subdivisions gathered to discuss a sewer feasibility study for Antioch Township. The study, which would not commit residents, would provide information about potential costs, problem areas, and even the feasibility of sewers in the township.

Representatives of the sewer and water committee of United Homeowner Associations of Unincorporated Antioch (UHAUA), Bill Liniewicz and Carole Jonites met with Al Galantha, supervisor of Lake County Public Works, several weeks ago to discuss the possibility of bringing sewers to Antioch Township. Over and over again, residents of Antioch Township have been told a sewer system is not a possibility for the next 20 years or, the predicted costs for such a system were simply too high. However, Galantha told UHAUA representatives no study had ever been done and without a study, no cost estimates can be made.

"He (Galantha) told us a study has never been done," Jonites told the group. "No matter what anyone tells you."

Association representatives initially voiced concerns about See SEWER page A8

Antioch plans holiday fun

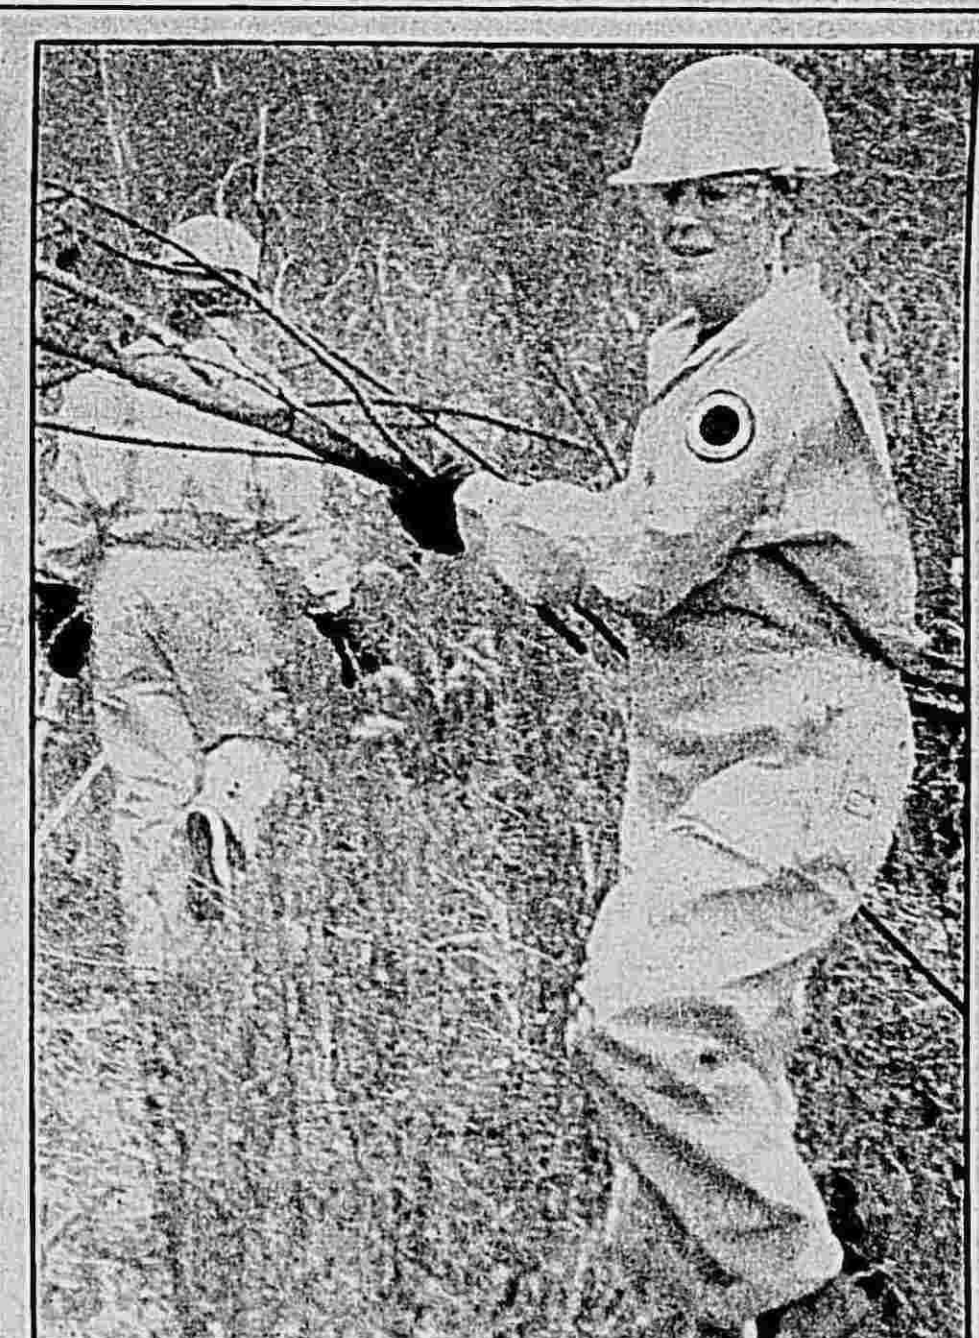

MARY FOLEY
Staff Reporter

The Thanksgiving and Christmas parade will kick off Antioch's annual holiday celebration next week. The parade, which will be held on Saturday, Nov. 26, at 9:30 a.m. brings Mr. and Mrs. Santa Claus to town.

The Claus' will be host to Santa's Enchanted Castle Monday through Friday, from 5:30 to 8 p.m., and from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Saturdays and Sundays. The castle will be open starting Nov. 26 until Dec. 23, when the Claus' must return to the North Pole to finish Christmas preparations.

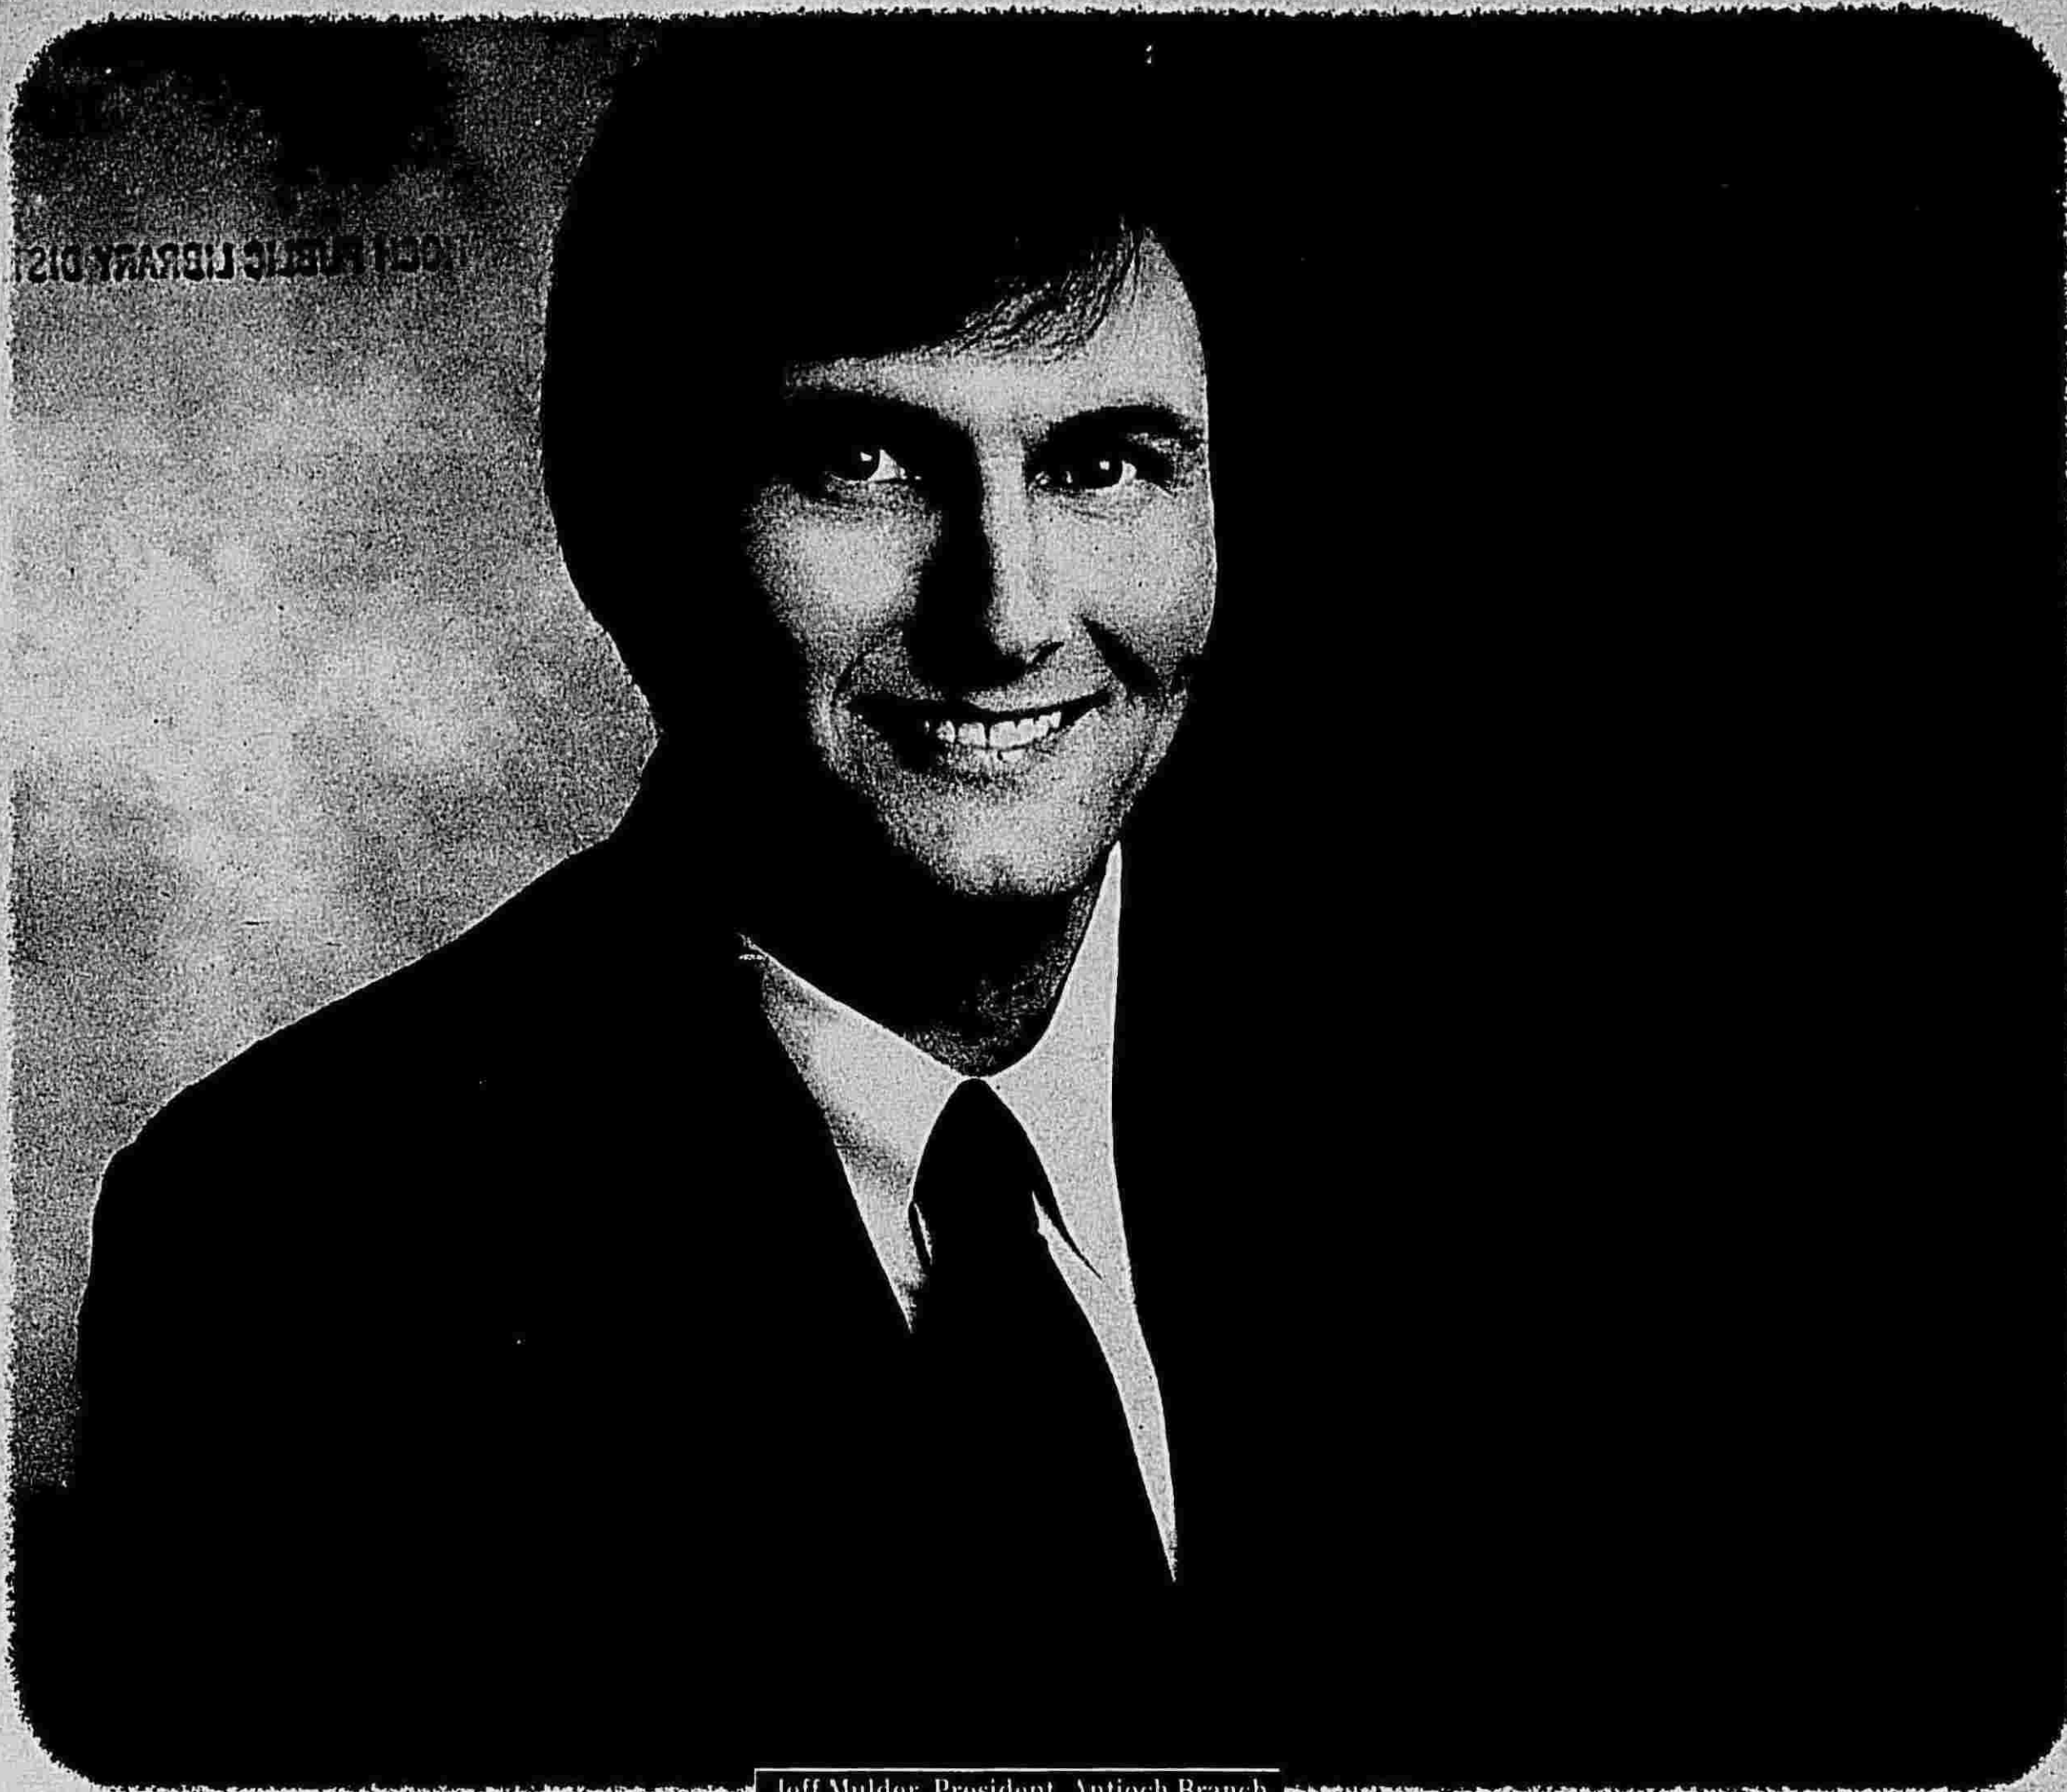

Following the parade, there will be entertainment for the kids, great bargains by local merchants, carriage rides, and decorating the Antioch Family Christmas Tree. In the evening, the fun continues with the tree lighting ceremony along with Christmas caroling. Hot chocolate and cookies will also be served.

A holiday season would not be complete without viewing PM&L Theater's presentation of the Charles Dickens classic, "A Christmas Carol." Make sure to get tickets early for this popular production.

Conservation volunteer

Dawn Wells of Antioch was one of a group of volunteers led by Lake County Forest Preserve volunteer coordinator Tom Smith who helped clean out brush at Grant Forest Preserve. The volunteers pulled out non-native species, such as honeysuckle, multi-floral rose and buckthorn, which have choked out the native species such as Indian grass, switch grass and bluestem. By next growing season, the native species should return. Volunteers are needed in the fall and spring. For volunteer opportunities, call Smith at 948-7750. — Photo by Kevin Freeley

Jeff Mulder, President, Antioch Branch

The New President Of Our Antioch Branch Is Certainly Not New To Antioch.

Meet Jeff Mulder—that is, if you haven't already. After all, Jeff's been with our Antioch branch for three years, and he's a home-grown Antioch native. In fact, he's currently chairperson of the facade committee of Community Action Now (C.A.N.), and was recently named to the Antioch Economic Development Commission. He's also a past president of the Chamber of Commerce.

And that's very important to us. Because even though we're a fast-growing family of more than 80 branches, we're also community banks in every sense of the word. Committed to them. And very much a part of them. So when you bank with us, you're going to feel right at home.

Which brings us back to Jeff. If you get a chance, drop by and say hi to the new president. More than likely, he'll be there. And as always, he's there for you.

Students learn meaning of Vets Day

Waving flags and reciting poems, students at Grass Lake School participated in a history lesson before the Veterans Day Holiday. The all-school assembly was designed to teach students the meaning of the remembrance.

The ceremony began with the posting of colors by Girl and Boy Scouts at the school. Megan Obecnny was the flag bearer.

"We felt it was important to teach the children why they have the day off," said Marilyn Bowen, a second-grade teacher. Seven of her second-graders recited the poem, "Flanders Field," during the assembly. They were: Kelsey Dent, Angel Simonini, Stacy Emmerling, Steven Anderson, Jeffrey Henschberg, Wally Malecki and Thomas Marquart.

Army Veteran John Ruffin told the children about his experiences in the Armed Forces as did Principal Jim Beveridge, also an Army veteran. Beveridge explained Veterans Day is also celebrated on the 11th day of the 11th month at the 11th hour in remembrance of the treaty which ended World War I.

Members of the Kim Phillips' fourth-fifth grade combination class recited the story of the flag. Reading selections were: Jessica Lehmann, Dan Miodonski, Crissy Bloom, Nicole Morrison, Holly Clarke and Lauren Bezdon.

Sandy Nolan's third-grade class recited "America the Beautiful," with photographs.—by RHONDA HETRICK BURKE

Park law makes parents responsible

MARY FOLEY
Staff Reporter

A new section to the Antioch Village park ordinances has been approved. The amendments to the original ordinance include a section making parents or the legal guardian of a minor financially responsible for fines and even restitution if a minor is caught damaging or violating park ordinances.

Other changes include a more sweeping definition of firearms, the addition of skateboards and rollerblades to the list of prohibited vehicles in parks (except in the parking lots), and other changes to the ordinance which are probably obsolete.

The penalty section of the ordinance has been beefed up. The original ordinance set fines for violations between $25 and $500 for each offense. The amendment increases the fine range from $50 up to $500, or the maximum allowed by law. Also, the amendments add restitution for damages. A second offense will range in fines of $100 to $500. All of which doubly impacts the parental responsibility section.

Graduation rate dips in ACHS report card

MARY FOLEY
Staff Reporter

By now, most parents of students at Antioch Community High School have received the 1994 School Report Card, which is distributed every year to provide some objective measurements to assess the school. While students at the school continue to perform at a level higher than the state averages on IGAP and ACT tests, there are some disturbing numbers as well.

The 1993-94 graduation rate was a surprise. This rate compares the number of students enrolled in the ninth grade in the fall of 1990 with the number from that group that actually graduated within four years. Adjustments are made for transfers.

For the 1993-94 class, only 85.7 percent of the students graduated. While this is above the state average of 78 percent, consider the last few years' numbers. In 1991-92, the school reported 98.5 percent of the students graduated. In 1992-93, 91.5 percent. In only three years, the graduation rate has dropped 12.8 percent.

Assistant Principal Mick Torres has a number of suggestions about the steep decline. First of all, the school has a new software program which he believes is more accurate. He admits there may have been some errors in the past. "I am not criticizing my predecessor," said Torres. "The change in software has provided a higher accuracy in reporting."

Torres also cites the increase in mobility of students moving in and out of the area. "The state formula is influenced by mobility," he said. "It has a negative impact on graduation rates."

Number crunching aside, Torres said out of 403 students beginning at the high school in 1990, there were 36 legitimate drop-outs. This is roughly 9 percent. "That's a lot," Torres admitted.

On the plus side, chronic truancy is down this year. Last year, the school reported 49 chronic truants, which are students absent from school in excess of 10 percent of the school year. This year, the school is reporting only 42 chronic truants.

Village accepts bid for lot

MARY FOLEY
Staff Reporter

After receiving only one bid for a 20-by-150-foot lot in Oakwood Knolls subdivision, the Antioch Village Board approved the sale for $250. Only Trustee Don Amundsen objected to the sale.

"I don't think this is an appropriate way to sell this property," said Amundsen at the Sept. 5 meeting of the board. "We are talking about giving property away to one individual."

The small lot has a paved driveway on it, built by the new owners many years ago. Permission to place the driveway on village property was granted by a previous village board on May 11, 1973. Prior to that time, a plan to extend Zelinger Road had been considered.

The new owners, Charles and Shirley Bolin, had told village officials there had been promises made to them by a previous administration that they would be able to purchase the property. However, the sale never took place.

Now, the homeowners are having difficulties selling their property.

"There was no prior promise by the administration," Amundsen had told the board. "God help us," Amundsen said, if the village was required to "make good" on campaign promises.

Mayor Marilyn Shineflug felt differently about the promises. "I feel it is up to this board to stand behind what prior administrations have promised," she had said at the Sept. 5 meeting.

"Their driveway is already built. They are unable to sell their home. They were told it would be 'taken care of.'"

Antioch trustees could not agree whether promises were made. "I personally believe there were representations made," said Trustee Marvin Oldenburger. Amundsen, however, disagreed. "I don't think there were any valid representations made to those people," he said.

'I don't think this is an appropriate way to sell this property.'

—Don Amundsen, trustee

In an effort to compromise, the board agreed to hire an appraiser to look at the property. The village owned Oakwood Knolls lot was valued as it stands and also valued with half of the lot in question, as though it was abandoned (without the black-topping). In that way, the village was able to get a sense of what the property is worth and be able to judge bids.

The board was told that the addition of the lot would do little or nothing to the value of the village owned adjacent property. As a result, the board approved the ordinance allowing the sale of the property through the bid process.

In a related action, the board plans to sell the adjacent lot.

This lot is buildable and is roughly 70 feet by 150 feet. Requests for bid will be placed in local newspapers.

Lotus Shores Homeowners to meet

Lotus Shores Home and Property Association will be meeting on Nov. 29 at the Patio Restaurant. Members of the association are encouraged to come. The meeting will begin at 7 p.m.

In addition to the regular business, residents will be discussing the proposed sewer feasibility study.

Homeowner associations are being asked to send a letter of intent asking the Lake County Public Works to requesting a study to evaluate the feasibility of running a sewer system to Antioch Township.

ACHS to perform children's plays

This weekend, children of all ages will be delighted by Antioch Community High School's fall play, a children's double feature. "Little Red & the Hoods" is an updated version of the familiar story with audience participation and "The Frog Prince" is a musical version of that fairy tale.

Most of the two shows have been double cast, which means that the director and students have been rehearsing four shows in the time it takes to produce one—a challenge for students and director alike.

In addition to the public performances on Friday, Nov. 18 at 7:30 p.m. and Saturday, Nov. 19 at 2 and 7:30 p.m., the students will perform for over 1,000 elementary school students on Nov.

17. Classes from W.C. Petty School, Antioch Lower Grade School, Faith Evangelical Lutheran School and Grass Lake School are expected to attend. The students will also be hosting some Girl Scouts at two of the public performances by answering questions after the show and giving a backstage tour.

Ticket prices for the evening shows are $3 for adults and $2 for students/children and seniors. Saturday matinee prices are $2 for everyone. Groups of 10 or more can get one adult in free for every 10 children that come to either the matinee or evening shows. Groups are especially encouraged to attend the Saturday matinee.

The set is unique and cartoon-like, as only "crayola" colors have been used to decorate the set pieces. Audience members will get to play cheerleaders, bad guys and even set pieces in the Little Red show and some original arrangements of the songs in the Frog Prince by senior, Randy Love, should leave the audience sneering for more.

Lead and feature roles are played by seniors Beth Shehorn, Robin Maston, Erica Olson, Randy Love, Dan Newcomb, Niki Defer, James Dalgaard, Heather Cramond and Gail Pearson with additional feature and lead roles played by a great cast of juniors and underclassmen.

Bring the family out, support these young people in their efforts and enjoy some good family entertainment for a great price!

School Briefs

Christmas greenery

Antioch Lower Grade School will be selling various Christmas greenery again this year. The selection has expanded and will include wreaths, swags, poinsettias, and cyclamens supplied by Koeune's Greenhouse of Antioch. Students are being asked to sell only to family and close friends. If you are interested in purchasing items and do not know a student at the school, please call 395-0845.

New report cards

Primary teachers at Grass Lake School have begun using a new report card which better reflects the use of goals and assessments for state compliance. Grades will still be kept by teachers and each student's progress will be monitored better. Opinions by parents are welcome.

Congratulations

Congratulations to the Antioch Upper Grade School 1994 gymnastics teams for their successful year. The teams performed in three shows this year. Great work!

Honors Day

Antioch Upper Grade School will be holding its first Honors Day on Friday, Nov. 18. Students will be honored for academic achievement, improvement, and outstanding attendance.

Collecting soup labels

Antioch Grade School will once again begin a Campbell's Soup label drive. Last year the school was able to buy an overhead projector. Only the front portion of the label is needed.

All areas vote down ACHS referendum

ALEC JUNGE
Staff Reporter

The fall Antioch High School referendum received far less support than the one last spring. In fact, the areas that supported the referendum in the spring, rejected it in the fall.

The proposed increase in the education fund was the same 30 cent increase in the levy rate as in the last referendum.

According to election results, Lake Villa Township, which supported the referendum last time, failed to do so again. Some of the negative votes may be a result of the possible Lake Villa unit district proposal which is scheduled to make the ballot this spring.

Even if the Lake Villa Unit School is ever supported, many of those students would be going to Antioch High over a period of at least two years until a high school could be built.

For example, Lake Villa and unincorporated Lake Villa Township supported the referendum 52 percent for and 48 against in spring. In fall the percentage was 62 percent against and 38 percent for the referendum.

In the spring primary election, 1,572 votes were cast. In the fall election there were 1,418 ballots cast in Lake Villa and unincorporated Lake Villa Township.

In Lindenhurst, the results were similar with 57 percent voting no and 43 percent voting yes. In spring, 53 percent favored the referendum and 47 percent voted against it.

Lake Villa Township in the past had supported high school referendums but this time they voted it down with their Antioch Township counterparts.

In Antioch Township 65 percent of voters rejected the referendum and 35 percent approved it in the fall. In the spring, 57 percent rejected it and 43 percent favored it.

The referendum was rejected in all 29 precincts in the high school district.

MARY FOLEY

Staff Reporter

James Atkinson, age 66, of Antioch, was killed last week while walking westbound on a roadway between Antioch Community High School and Squires Restaurant. According to witnesses, Nick Ridge, age 17, of Gurnee, hit Atkinson and then left the scene of the accident.

Witnesses told police on Nov. 10, at 4:12 p.m., Ridge hit Atkinson with the right front side of his Chevrolet Nova. Atkinson flew up onto the front passenger side windshield. According to reports, Ridge then backed up, causing Atkinson to fall onto the pavement.

Ridge then left the scene and traveled eastbound on Route 173 to a private driveway approximately 2 1/2 miles from the accident. One witness followed Ridge to the driveway and apparently convinced the man to return to the scene.

Rescue workers spoke with Atkinson at the scene, but he died enroute to the hospital. "I don't have the results of the final autopsy," said Lake County Coroner Barbara Richardson. Richardson was able to say Atkinson suffered multiple injuries to his head, spine, and chest.

Ridge was arrested for leaving the scene of a personal injury involving a fatality," said Lieutenant Charles Watkins of the Antioch Police Department. Ridge was released on a $10,000 recognizance bond.

The pedestrian fatality was the second in downtown Antioch this fall.

Efficiency expert

Once again I am topped by the quick thinking of a small child.

During playtime at Camp Crayon, Miss Lois and I were busy crumbling up small pieces of white tissue paper for our of our daily projects. The children meandered over one by one and began to help.

Here I sat, grabbing one piece at a time and crumbling it in my right hand. I glanced over at little Elyse Jares and noticed she was getting the work done twice as fast. She spread the little strips of paper in front of her and would then grab one with her left hand and one with her right hand, crumble them at the same time and quickly deposit them into the big brown bag holding the rest of the crumbled papers. She definitely had it down to a science, working much faster than Miss Lois and myself, thus taking on the air of a very tiny "efficiency expert."

Getting closer

It is definitely getting closer and closer to the time I should be reserving a spot for "The Lizard" in a "Home." More and more and more, I am misplacing and/or losing things—me, who used to be Miss Organized. My list of lost or misplaced items is getting too extensive to share with you in its entirety. Therefore, I will only tell of my most recent episodes.

It was a Wednesday and I took a short afternoon nap. As I lay snoozing, I heard the phone ringing several different times. However, like a lazy old bear in hibernation, I did not budge, knowing I could refer to my caller ID unit upon rising.

About 4:15, I checked to see who called and one of the calls was from my dear friend, Darlene Olenick. Thus, the search began to locate my portable phone. I finally dialed Darlene's number on the wall phone, explaining my dilemma and asked her to please call me back. I assumed I would then be able to locate the phone by the ringing sound trail.

However, that didn't help. So I answered the wall phone, thanked Darlene for her assistance and told her I still could not find it. She suggested a few would-be/could-be hiding places, but it wasn't under the pillows, or couch, or in the microwave, or fridge, or bathroom, bedroom, nor upstairs, etc.

We continued to talk and I said, "Just a minute, I think I know where it may be." Sure enough, I found it and told Darlene.

Now, should I tell you or should I use it as a ploy to get people to call for the answer in exchange for a column tidbit. Oh, heck, I am dying to tell. However, I still encourage you to phone with a tidbit.

It was in my chest-type deep freeze. How it ended up there is for me to know and all of you to find out when you call.

Is it?

Two and 1/2-year-old Alyssa Janelle and MeeMee (that's me) were looking at Santa Claus' J.C. Penny Christmas toy catalog. There was a baby pictured on one of the pages, showing a toy for babies. Alyssa asked, "Is that baby Lindsey Paige?" I told her no, it was a baby about the same age as her sister Lindsey.

Some time after that we were visiting with Sharon Jones and her beautiful four-month-old daughter named Jordan. Once again the question, "MeeMee is this Lindsey Paige?" I said, "This is baby Jordan. Your baby sister, Lindsey Paige, is home with daddy."

I decided that after eight months, surely Alyssa knows the difference between her baby sister and other small babies. She must mean to say, "MeeMee, that is a baby like Lindsey Paige." If I am wrong in my assumption, maybe the next stop should be the eye doctor. Once again, "out of the mouths of babes."

Nasty talk

I have another cute little Camp Crayon story to share. However, since it involves a slight confrontation between two little fellows, I will not name names.

During play time, one little guy suddenly began to cry. He did so quite loudly and I rushed over to what I thought was going to be the scene of an accident. I did not see any bruises or blood and asked the crier what was wrong. He told me the other boy was saying nasty things and using bad words. "Well," said the crier, "I am really bigger than him, but he thinks his shoes are bigger than mine."

After soothing over the situation, I thought, this kind of nasty, dirty words I can handle. Once again, "Out of the mouths of babes."

Thank you

It is soon time for moms, dads, grandmas, grandpas, aunts and uncles everywhere to be cooking up a delicious Tom turkey and all the trimmings for Thanksgiving dinner. People will be setting aside time and thoughts to offer thanks for all the good things in life.

In my opinion, we should do this year-round, and I am sure most people do. However, giving thanks is made even more special as families gather in love at this special time of year to count the roses in their lives. Thank you, God, for all the blessings and roses in my life—my wonderful children, patient husband, happy and healthy grandbabies; a lucky handful of loving, terrific, special friends; my health; my two special jobs; etc., etc., etc. Life is good.

Shop Antioch Thanksgiving tradition

Traditions are very much part of the holidays. People expect to do or see certain things. By repeating these each year, they become traditions. Picture Dad at the head of the table, sharpening the knife to carve the turkey, while Mom finishes putting the vegetables on the table. Sounds a bit like a scene from a Norman Rockwell painting.

Today most of us strive to achieve this calm, pleasant family atmosphere, but with two paycheck families, extended families created by divorce or remarriage, and the distance of miles between family members it gets more difficult to enjoy the traditions we've come to expect and enjoy.

If you can't be together with family members or friends due to distance, give them a call on Thanksgiving Day. Even speaking for a few minutes will make you feel closer and it will revive the memories you share.

There's still time to mail a card, letting someone know that you'll be thinking of them on Thanksgiving. If possible, include a recent photo from your latest family outing, or just a silly picture that expresses the real you.

We all remember a past Thanksgiving that seems to stand out as one of the best. My husband and I fondly remember a Thanksgiving we spent in New Hampshire. We had a fresh four inch snowfall the day before and we were able to spend part of the day cross country skiing around our neighborhood while the turkey roasted. We still talk about that day.

It doesn't take a snowfall, the lottery, or a visit from a long lost friend to create a special memory. Sharing thoughts, spending "quality time" with family and friends, and enjoying a relaxed few hours at home or at a friends can create memories that you can treasure.

Make this holiday special. Pay close attention to the little things in life. Sharing special moments together enrich our lives.

Tax-Aide program needs help for seniors

The American Assn. of Retired Persons (AARP) is on the lookout for a few good volunteers, particularly men and women who like working with numbers and who enjoy helping senior citizens to prepare their income tax returns.

AARP is now accepting applications from adult volunteers of all ages who are interested in helping senior citizens with their income tax returns. AARP membership is not required. The AARP Tax-Aide program is co-sponsored by the Internal Revenue Service.

Persons wishing to volunteer for Tax-Aide may do so by writing or telephoning the Area 5 AARP office, 8750 W. Bryn Mawr Ave., Ste. 600, Chicago, IL 60631; (312)714-9800.

Persons living in the Lake County community who want to volunteer for Tax-Aide may do so by writing or telephoning Charles Flesher, 1020 Highland Ave., Waukegan, IL 60085; 249-3020.

Starting in January, there will be an eight-day training course for the Tax-Aide counselors. Volunteers are required to pass an exam before they can prepare income tax returns. Volunteers are reimbursed for necessary out-of-pocket expenses such as mileage, parking, meals, postage

Certified volunteers spend four hours (or more) each week from Feb. 1 through April 15 assisting senior taxpayers at an assigned convenient site such as a local senior center, bank or library. There is no charge or gratuity for doing tax returns.

Habitat needs licensed plumbers

Habitat for Humanity Lake County has an immediate critical need for licensed plumbers and experienced plumber's helpers to volunteer time to work on two homes under construction. Work on the homes, one in Waukegan and one in North Chicago, has come to a halt until volunteer licensed plumbers can be found. With winter weather imminent, time is running out for construction crews.

Habitat for Humanity is an international interfaith housing ministry which builds homes for families in need using volunteer labor and donated materials. The houses are sold at no profit and with no interest for approximately $45,000. Families selected for housing are required to give 500 volunteer hours on the construction of their home or other Habitat needs.

Plumbers are urgently needed to do basement ground work and rough interior plumbing. Licensed plumbers interested in helping Habitat for Humanity with this pressing need call 623-1020.

Sewer

Initiating a study. "I represent 112 homes," said Terry Colby. "I am not going to sign my name to a letter until I can answer my homeowner's questions."

Another association representative, Lillian Golonka, pointed out that even though a feasibility study may not initially cost Antioch Township residents anything, if sewers do come, the cost would then be borne by residents. Golonka has some experience with feasibility studies since she represents an area in Loon Lake which is already designated a special service area.

The group has decided the best way to address these concerns is to obtain a letter from the Lake County Public Works explaining the feasibility study, and what, if any, obligations residents may face. Representatives then plan to take this letter to their membership and, if approved, send a letter of intent to Galantha.

"There are a lot of questions here," said newly elected County Board Member Judy Martini. "That is why we should have a study done. I'd like more information." Martini also lives in Antioch Township, although she was not present at the meeting.

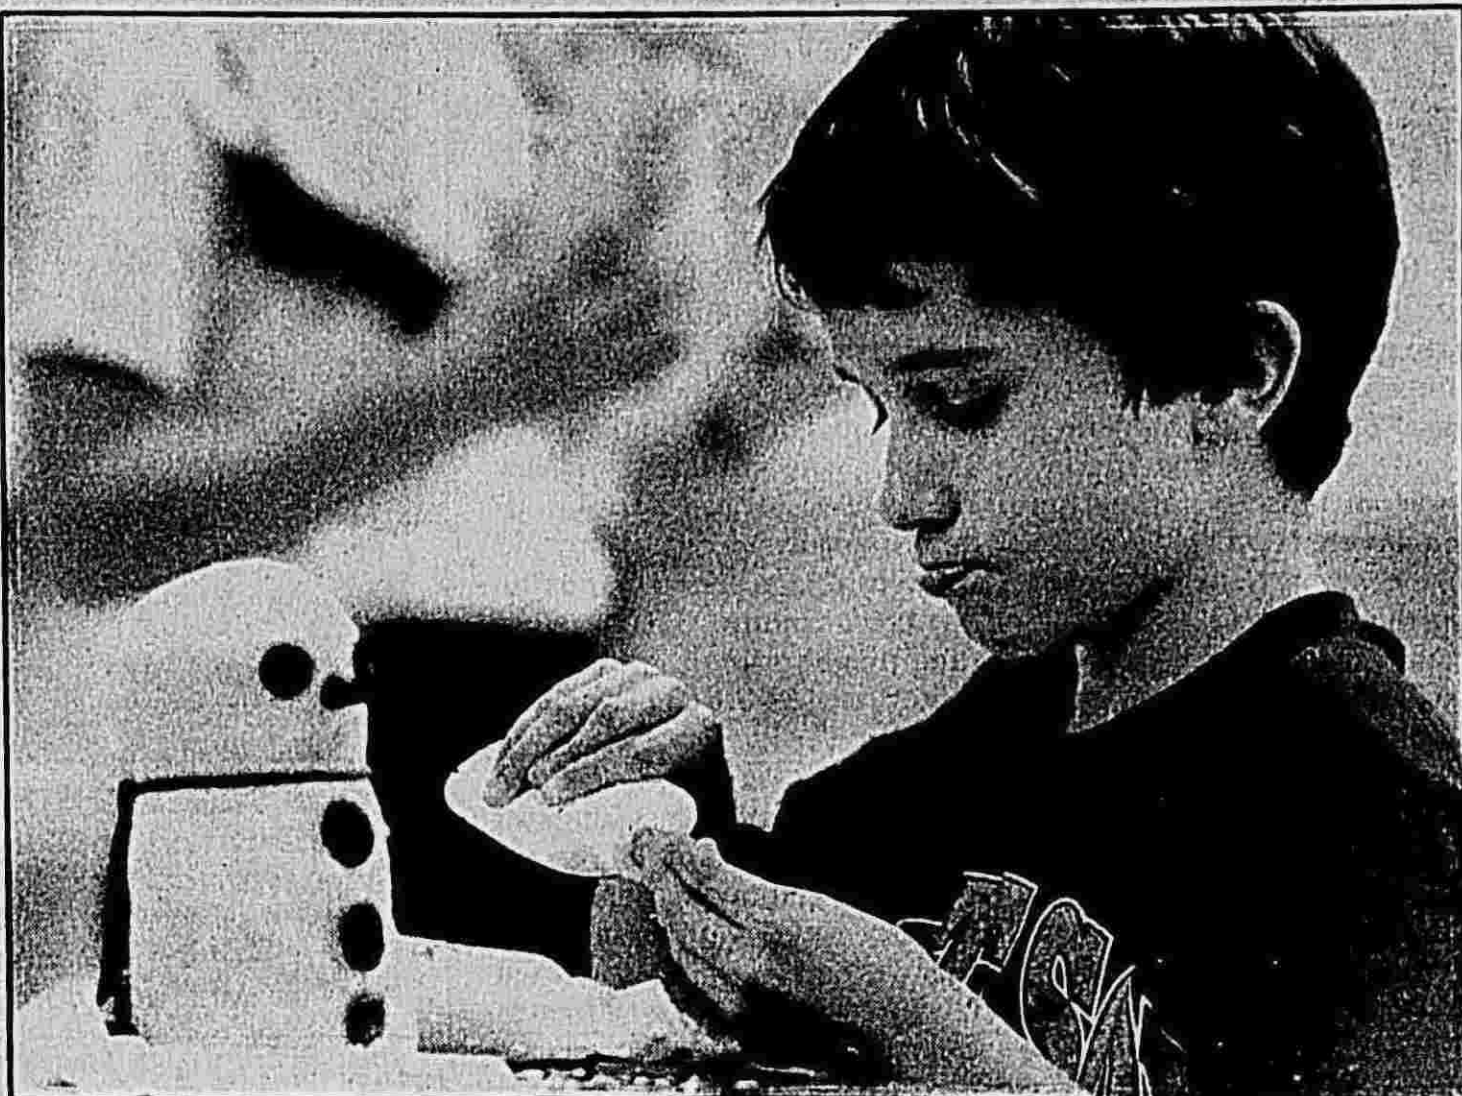

Association representatives discussed the financial problems some elderly residents may face if sewers were to come to Antioch. Jonites told the group, according to experts she has talked to, the life span of a septic field is fairly limited, depending on the soil and usage.

"We have a resident in our subdivision (Felters) who has to have work done on her septic," said Jonites. "With the County requiring her to install a 1,500-gallon tank, she is facing costs of $6,000 to $7,000." Other representatives mentioned the fact other homeowners are being required by the health department to install a mound system to replace older, non-functioning systems. Costs for the mound system can run in excess of $12,000.

But, while it is likely the bottom line for most residents will be cost, it is premature to discuss costs until a study is completed. And, a study will not take place until enough subdivisions, homeowners, and homeowner associations send a letter to Lake County Public Works requesting the study.

According to Liniewicz, after Galantha receives the letters, he would go before the Lake County Board to request a study. After the feasibility study is complete, which would provide information about any special systems that may be needed and a cost breakdown, it would then be up to the property owners to decide.

Members of UHAUA intend to get together on Nov. 30 to prepare a homeowner association and subdivision map. In this way, the group can make sure that as many residents of Antioch Township as possible can voice their opinion regarding the study. Those residents interested in more information or not represented by a subdivision or homeowners association should call 395-6606 or 395-7371.

Fire training

The Antioch Fire Department taught preschoolers at Camp Crayon about the 911 emergency number and what to do in case of a fire. Firefighters showed the children how it would sound and look at a fire so children would feel more comfortable in the event of a real fire.

Grass Lake School involved in Family Reading Night

Families of students in Grass Lake School turned off their televisions Nov. 17 to participate in Family Reading Night, along with other participating families throughout the state.

"It has been proclaimed by Governor Jim Edgar as Family Reading Night," said Grass Lake Superintendent Jim Beveridge.

Parents were told of the program during parent-teacher conferences and were given certificates of participation. These certificates are to be filled out, describing the type of reading activity (reading aloud together, reading silently together, discussing a story, etc...)

Students are to bring the completed certificates to school and they will receive a free movie coupon from Video Explosion. Video Explosion, of downtown Antioch, has donated the coupons for the readers.—by MARY FOLEY

Rescue squad provides CPR training

MARY FOLEY
Staff Reporter

Every second Wednesday of the month, the Antioch Rescue Squad offers CPR classes to the public at no cost. This vital training takes only a few hours, but the life of loved ones, friends, neighbors, and strangers may just depend on it.

This month, the Rescue Squad building was pretty crowded with residents ranging in age from high school students to retirees. While many had varying reasons for attending, all were there to learn the life saving techniques.

"I've got brothers and sisters," said Jesse Ultsch an Antioch Community High School student, who attended the class with his brother, Randy. "I also baby sit."

"I took it a long time ago," said Dr. Donald Skidmore, former Dist. 34 superintendent and currently the district's business manager. "I thought I needed a review."

The class began with a discussion about risk factors for heart disease. Rescue Squad instructors cited hypertension, high cholesterol, smoking, diabetes, obesity, lack of exercise, and stress as just a few of the lifestyle choices which increase a person's vulnerability to heart attacks.

Students were then told how critical initiating CPR is while waiting for paramedics to arrive. "Heart tissue begins to die immediately," the class was told. "It takes four to six minutes before the brain tissue begins to die."

A video was then presented highlighting the "ABC's" (airway, breathing, and circulation) of CPR. After the video it was practice time.

The class broke into small groups and practiced what they learned on adult, children, and infant dummies. It is vital to the class to practice on different aged models because CPR procedure is not the same for adults and infants.

Antioch Rescue Squad offers CPR classes for free, but reservations are requested. Call 395-0302 for more information.

Grapplers still have holes to fill before wrestle-offs

KEVIN HANRAHAN

Staff Reporter

Although Antioch grapplers will have a corps of wrestlers returning this season to defend their North Suburban Conference title, it appears that state qualifier Joe Earl could be sidelined for most or all of the season.

"For his best interest, we don't want to suggest to him to wrestle and jeopardize his knee for the rest of his life," said Coach Ted Sieckowski. But he added that Earl has been a welcomed addition as a coach to the younger wrestlers. Earl suffered an injury to his knee and has undergone surgery to help correct the problem.

With the upcoming wrestle-off still a week away Nov. 29 and 30, Sieckowski said there are still a number of holes to fill. Weight classes remaining questionable include the 125, 145, 160 and 171 weight classes.

"There are some tough kids in there still," said Sieckowski. he said for some he still did not know whether some were going to move up a weight class or move down one.

Jake Nathan is expected to take on the heavyweight slot, while Jason Krause will return at 130 and Jason Breen is expected to fill in for Earl at 152. Many of the other positions will be determined within the next week.

Sieckowski believes Antioch will remain competitive in its bid to repeat as conference champions. He said the lower weight classes will help the Sequoits capture a lot of meets.

"We can steal meets by setting the tempo at the lower weights," Sieckowski said.

He is especially enthused about the players' work ethic. For example, when Sieckowski scheduled the first 6:15 a.m. sprints down at the track, he was disappointed to find only two wrestlers dressed in the locker room. To his pleasant surprise, he learned many others were stretching and waiting on him to begin practice.

Antioch opens its season against Mundelein Dec. 2, and it quickly squares off against perennially tough Stevenson Dec. 8 and Libertyville Dec. 9. Antioch actually shared the conference title with Libertyville last season.

"I suggest that if someone wants to see some good matches, then they should come to anyone of those," Sieckowski said.

In addition to Stevenson and Libertyville, Sieckowski said Warren and Lake Forest will be other teams to beat in what can turn out to be a rather balanced conference.

"The conference is still up for grabs," Sieckowski said. "We're hoping to be right in the pack when all the smoke clears."

Antioch boys hoopsters have ingredients for good season

KEVIN HANRAHAN

Staff Reporter

If there were such a thing as basketball-winning pie, the basic ingredients would probably include height and speed mixed with good shooting and defense.

Well, Antioch boys basketball Coach Jeff Dresser believes he has found all the right ingredients to make a pretty good pie.

The Sequoits hope to turn things around after last year's dismal 5-22 season. Big man in the middle will be Eric Eckenstahler. His 6-foot, 7-inch frame and long arms will be back blocking opposing shots, grabbing rebounds and scoring points.

"He's going to win a lot of games for us," Dresser said. "He's got a lot of gifts and tools."

At guard, three-point man Adam Becker will also return to the court for the Sequoits. Becker set school records for the most three-pointers in a game and in a season. Dresser said Becker's three-point threat will open up the outside for the Sequoits.

Forward/center Dave Lawrence will be asked to set screens and play strong defense. "We're looking for Dave to use his strength on the inside," Dresser said.

He is also excited about the return of senior Dave Smith, who missed most of last season due to broken ribs. Dresser hopes Smith can find the rhythm he had during the early part of last season and when he was a sophomore. Senior Mike Tschanz, who Dresser said improved during the off-season, will also make welcomed contributions at the guard position.

Two junior guards capable of leading the offense include Eric Campbell and Kevin Geraghty.

Campbell adds quickness and good ball control, while Geraghty offers good shooting range.

Junior forwards Kevin Eckenstahler and Dan Riepe are the two players who can turn out to be the real fan pleasers. Eckenstahler is the scrapper and play-maker, while Riepe stands at 6'5" and brings more strength to the squad.

"He's such a hustler out there for us," Dresser said of Eckenstahler. "He can make a lot of plays for us."

Although the Sequoits had a tough season last year, the seniors on this year's team are proven winners together. They won 18 games as sophomores, and the juniors on the squad mesh well with the seniors.

"They like playing the game and they like playing with each other," Dresser said. "We're excited about the season."

Antioch basketball fans should enjoy the pie.

Antioch's girls basketball team could be fun to watch this year.

Only three seniors are returning this season, but Coach Dave Woods believes he has the makings of a fine team in the years to come.

"It's a team that doesn't have a lot of experience or size, but they have quickness," said Woods.

Both Rachel Hauser and Lindsay Hladnik will be the two leaders of the team. Woods called Hauser the "scorer," and he noted, "Our season turned around last year when we put in Lindsay."

Juniors who will see a lot of playing time include Erin O'Connell, Dana Pierson, Julie Case and Mary Ipsen.

"They're all good ball players," Woods said. "They just have to learn to play varsity ball together."

Woods is also excited about the prospects of sophomores Carrie Gofron and Jeanna Miller. Freshman Nicole Langley also earned a spot on the squad.

"I know there's going to be some mistakes early, but they'll learn and grow," Woods said.

But he did promise that "Once they develop as a team, they're going to be fun to watch."

Rams girls set high goals

Grayslake High's girls basketball team was hoping to play a couple of days earlier, but is thankful the season begins Nov. 18 right at GCHS. The Rams host Antioch in a 7 p.m. start.

"We still are not fundamentally where we should be. We are making too many mistakes. We really need a game," Coach Paul Missavage said.

The Rams had hoped to play Highland Park as a tune-up game Nov. 16, but that game was dropped due to parent-teacher conferences. The Rams are upbeat as Missavage heads into his second year.

Stephanie Slove, a 5-foot, 7-inch guard is emerging as a key player. "She is positive, vocal and very enthusiastic in practice and a great leader," Missavage said.

Julie Duchane, a 5-7 junior forward, is back with her lightning quickness. "She leads by example," Missavage said.

Jessica Corcoran also returns as a letterwinner from last year, but was slowed by an early-season injury. She is a 5-10 forward.

Tiffany Goutraj is a 5-7 senior forward.

One soph on the team is 5-11 Sandy Snyder. "She plays good defense and is a good post player," Missavage said.

Amy Artlet is a junior who returns after earning honorable mention honors as a soph. Her nearly half-court shot beat Grant. "She has the most talent in natural ability," the coach said.

The Rams fans can expect to see either junior Chenoa Chebny or Erin Lopez at guard.

Lisa Nelson is a 5-9 senior forward who provides consistency and has improved her scoring ability.

The Rams are coming off an 11-15 season. "They know now what I am expecting. When we win or play well, we will have fun. Otherwise, it will be hard work. I am shooting from between 16 and 20 wins," he said.

Antioch native competes in NCAA tourney

Antioch native David Johnson, a member of the University of Wisconsin-Parkside men's soccer team, will take part in the NCAA Division II men's soccer tournament.

The Rangers finished the 1994 season with a record of 14-1-2 and a national ranking of No. 3 in the country for NCAA Division II teams.

The match is set for Nov. 19 at 1 p.m. on the UW-Parkside campus.

Girls' U-16, Blitz

The Lindenhurst Blitz won the IWSL U-16 B Division Championship by outlasting the Hinsdale Hurricanes and taking the victory by a score of 4-3.

An even first half ended in a 1-0 Blitz lead on a goal by Carrie Gofron who took the pass from Sondra Lorang and pushed it past the Hinsdale keeper. The second half started out the same, but became a scoring frenzy. Hinsdale tied the score midway through the half, but one minute later Becca Bleyer and Carrie Gofron worked a series of give and go passes through the defense allowing Bleyer to fire in a left-footed shot into the net. Hinsdale marched right back and tied the score at 2-2.

The Blitz forced the Hurricane defense into making a mistake which Bleyer used to make a breakaway run on net. The Hinsdale defense brought her down from behind in the penalty area and Bleyer converted the penalty kick for a 3-2 Blitz lead. Moments later Becca Bleyer placed a pass from Carrie Gofron in the back of the net to complete the hat-trick and give the Blitz a 4-2 advantage. With three minutes left in the game Hinsdale scored once more, but that was to be all.

The Lindenhurst Blitz finished the season with a 9-1 record. Six of those victories were shut-outs. The Blitz roster: Stacey Alberts, Becca Bleyer, Jill Denoma, Allison Earl, Elly Elfering, Carrie Gofron, Melissa Helbig, Katie Hoskins, Nicki Kral, Robin Levy, Sondra Lorang, Erin Sparkman, Susan Woodruff and Tami Wright. The Blitz is coached by Scott Bleyer and Carol Wright. The trainer is Ron Wetzel.

The Blitz also opened their indoor season at Poplar Creek Sports Centre. Their first opponent in the U-16 A Div. was the highly ranked Buffalo Grove Lightning. Lindenhurst put up a valiant effort but just couldn't stop the Lightning. The final score was 4-0.

The Blitz (0-1) take on the Elia Alliance this Sunday.

Girls' U-14, Power

The Lindenhurst Power ended their outdoor season with a strong performance but came out on the short end of a 2-1 loss to the Alithsa Rowdies. Despite outshooting their opponents 18-6, and controlling play most of the game, the Power once again had difficulty finding the back of the net. Alithsa scored first in the game off a volley coming from a throw-in. Their second goal came on a rebound from a direct kick when the ball popped loose from the Lindenhurst goalie as she hit the ground after making the initial save.

Although going against the wind, the Power maintained the attack in the second half. With six minutes left to go in the game, Jamie Wismer scored on a pass from Teri LaRoche. The Power continued to pepper shots toward the Alithsa goal, but several balls never made it past the outstretched arms of the Rowdie defense.

The entire Power team put forth a solid effort, with excellent play coming from the mid-field of Lauren Beatty, Amber DeWald, Nicci Estep, Tracie Foster, Kristen Hungerland and Cara Robinson. The Power ended their season with a 4-3-3 record and will resume indoor play in February.

Girls' U-19, Enigma

The Lindenhurst Enigma Girls' U-19 opened up their indoor season with a 5-0 victory over Team Evanston. Jaimee Porter started the scoring with an unassisted goal, taking a run the entire length of the floor from her defensive position. The Enigma continued to attack, but could not manage another score in the first half.

It took just three minutes into the second half for Tanya Wiewel to find the back of the net off a pass from Chenoa Chebney. Just one minute later, Chebney scored herself off a pass from Heide Landshoff. Porter then scored her second goal of the night to make it 4-0, putting in a rebound of a shot from Chebney. The final goal was scored unassisted by Jaimee Rinehart. Angel Giangiorgi earned the shutout.

Grayslake Rams ready for a repeat

The memories will always be there for Grayslake High basketball fans.

There was the celebration of winning the Northwest Suburban Conference title, then the celebration following a home regional title win over Deerfield.

There was the two close-but-no cigar losses to Mundelein, the second keeping Grayslake from the unofficial Lake County championship game.

Coach Greg Groth believes his Rams will be giving fans plenty of reason to pack the place as they did in a 20-7 season.

Dave Mendralla, of 1,000 point fame, returns for a senior season. "He has increased his three-point range and his accuracy to 40 percent," Groth said of the 6-foot guard.

Seniors John Parr, a 6-4 forward and Brian Fischer, a 6-3 forward, saw considerable playing time. Peter Neuberger, a leader on the junior varsity next year, is back.

Football standout Jerrell Tompkins could add some quickness.

"Being the conference champs is the biggest advantage," Groth said.

Groth, in his 10th year, greeted 31 candidates for pre-season drills, 28 actually going out. "It was a tough cut," Groth said.

One possible area the Rams are concerned with is depth. "Our depth and we have a number of young kids and they will be fine," Groth said.

The Rams open the season at the Sycamore tourney. Jacobs is the first opponent Nov. 22.

Groth, who gained career win No. 100 at Grayslake last year, is assisted by Mike Jones, soph coach Troy Harper and Greg Cohen. Cohen formerly coached at Woodland Middle School and Warren Township High School.

The Girls Cross Country Team was named First Chicago/Thelen Sand and Gravel Athletes-of-the-Week for the last week of October. The team was the first Antioch Cross Country Team to win a regional title. Pictured with the team is Jeff Mulder, president of First Chicago Bank-Antioch and Cross Country Coach Dick Harland.

ACHS phys. ed. classes golf at Spring Valley

As part of the theme "Lifetime Sports," ACHS physical education students are currently involved in the final phase of a golf unit at Spring Valley Golf Course. The first part of the unit included instruction in golf technique, etiquette and safety, and was taught at Antioch High School. The game portion of the class is now giving students the opportunity to play golf at a full-size championship golf course.

ACHS Physical Education Dept. Chairman Steve Wapon feels that the experience is a "very valuable opportunity for our students to learn about an activity that they can play for the rest of their lives. We really appreciate John and Joyce Wagner at Spring Valley, and their cooperation in making this activity a success."

Waldenstrom helps Kalamazoo to make regionals

Ally Waldenstrom, a sophomore at Kalamazoo College from Grayslake, has helped the Kalamazoo College volleyball team make the regional playoffs this season. Waldenstrom, the daughter of Carl and Sharon Waldenstrom of Grayslake, is a graduate of Grayslake Community High School where she played basketball, soccer and volleyball.

Waldenstrom was a four-year letter winner in all three sports. She is starting for the Hornets as a right side attacker/blocker.

The Hornets, coached by Jeanne Hess, finished in first place in the Michigan Intercollegiate Athletic Ann. League this year, making it their fourth time capturing the title in five years. They ended their regular season with an overall record of 29-7, and because of their exceptional play this season, the Hornets received a bid to the NCAA Div. III Regionals. This is the fourth time the Hornets have reached the Div. III playoffs in five years.

Sheriff's Department releases accident list

MARY FOLEY

Staff Reporter

The Lake County Sheriff's Department has released a list of the most dangerous intersections in Lake County. The information included all traffic accidents handled by the Sheriff's Department from January to September of this year.

"I think, from this date forward, we will do a six months or even an annual report," said Lake County Undersheriff Gary Del Re. The purpose of the report, said Del Re, is to both increase the public awareness and to pinpoint problem areas for Sheriff's Department officers.

Topping the list is the intersection of Route 12 and Lake Cook Road. A total of 69 accidents occurred at the intersection while another 43 occurred less than a quarter of a mile from the intersection. The intersection at Route 45 and Grand Avenue came in second, with 32 accidents at the intersection and another 20 within a quarter mile.

The third most dangerous intersection was at Buckley and Waukegan Roads, with 26 accidents at the intersection and another seven within a quarter mile. Tied for fourth place were the intersections at Route 59 and Grass Lake Road, and Routes 41 and 173, both with 22 accidents at the intersections.

Del Re believes the growth of the county is partly responsible for the number of accidents. "Whenever you have an increase in traffic volume, you have a corresponding increase in traffic accidents."

The most dangerous township to drive in seems to be Vernon Township with a total of 617 accidents. The safest was Shields Township with only 110 accidents in that period.

Oddly enough, the day of the week with the most accidents turned out to be Thursdays, not Fridays or Saturdays as expected. Sundays were the safest days to drive.

"Whenever you have an increase in traffic volume, you have a corresponding increase in traffic accidents."

—Gary Del Re

Forest Preserve to vote on Liberty Preserve

KEVIN HANRAHAN

Staff Reporter

Lake County Forest Preserve Commissioners are expected to vote on whether to approve the master plan of the Liberty Preserve Property, Nov. 18. Ultimately, 1,100 acres of wetlands, open space, forests and a rock quarry would be transformed into a massive passive and active recreation site in the center of the county.

The Liberty Preserve, owned by the Lake County Forest Preserve, borders both sides of the Des Plaines River and is marked by Route 21 on the west, Route 120 on the north, Route 137 on the south and is east of River Road. A trail will connect the 2,500-acre Liberty Prairie Preserve west of Rte. 21.

"It provides for the restoration, preservation and improvement of the site and develops the recreational facilities planned for the site," said Steve Messerli, executive director of the Forest Preserve District.

Since 1973, the forest preserve has purchased parcels of the property. In 1979, it went on to purchase a gravel pit east of the river and eventually signed a contract with a mining operator to mine gravel, pay the Forest Preserve a royalty and restore the pit. Mining operations are expected to cease by December 1995.

An eight-member Advisory Committee has met 10 times since 1992 in an effort to formulate a strategic master plan for the site.

There will be a visitors center to provide concessions, gift shop and meeting rooms. A marina will be situated off the 120-acre lake where visitors can launch canoes, paddle boats, sail boats and other small boats. Fishing, scuba diving and swimming will be available.

A major plaza will provide an amphitheater for special events as well as gardens and ice skating. Beaches, playgrounds and family picnic areas will be available throughout the site. Walking and bicycle trails will meander through the site and along the Des Plaines River.

"The real challenge for us was to develop a site which balances environmental and recreational concerns," said Messerli, who added that winter activities such as cross-country skiing and ice fishing will also be available. The Liberty Prairie Preserve across the street will remain largely a passive, open space area.

Libertyville passed a resolution in support of the master plan. Other neighboring communities were expected to do the same.

Cost of the long-range project is estimated at approximately $8.5 million. More than $2.8 million has already been collected through mining royalties and another $1.5 million has been set aside from the referendum. In 1993, voters approved a referendum allowing the forest preserve to spend $30 million for additional land and to foster environmental programs. Messerli also noted the forest preserve will be seeking additional funds from state and federal sources.

The long-range goals may also include the re-direction of River Road, which currently divides the eastern portion of the site, into a more meandering parkway running through the site.

Messerli projects the site to be operational for public use by 1997-98.

Durkin renews call for more riverboats

Calling it a matter of economic development and community need, Waukegan Mayor William Durkin has asked state legislators to deal his struggling community back in on discussions for additional riverboat licenses in Illinois.

Waukegan, along with Chicago, was denied the chance to compete for one of the original 10 licenses in Illinois because the 1989 legislation excluded cities on Lake Michigan.

"Waukegan deserves a chance to compete for a riverboat license," said Durkin. "In economic need, we are no different from Elgin, Aurora, Joliet and Peoria. We are exactly the type of community legislators had in mind when they crafted the riverboat gaming act."

"A riverboat in Waukegan represents an opportunity to implement an extraordinary community redevelopment plan that would revitalize our lakefront, downtown and much of Northeastern Illinois," Durkin said. "This is a chance to undertake large-scale redevelopment on many fronts, something Waukegan has wanted to do for many years."

AT A GLANCE

Board takes harder line

ROUND LAKE—With the staff strike entering its fifth week, the Round Lake Unit School Board is requesting the Education Association of Round Lake come up with an economic package for teachers and teaching assistants before the board will negotiate with the union. Union officials are angered that negotiation issues are being reported to the public and are hesitant to provide a financial package. Last weekend, the two sides agreed to 11 issues and are down to around 60 issues.

No talks regarding the teachers and teaching assistants are scheduled at this time but talks with secretaries continue.

Classes to start on Monday

ROUND LAKE—Round Lake High School is scheduled to start classes on Monday with registered juniors and seniors. Students registered last Monday and Tuesday. Wednesday to Friday is scheduled as an in-service for teachers and substitutes who have crossed picket lines. Students indicated they wanted to be back in school but were unsure how classes would go.

Teen involved in traffic fatality

ANTIOCH—James Atkinson, age 66, of Antioch was killed last week while walking westbound on a roadway between Antioch Community High School and Squires Restaurant. According to witnesses, Nick Ridge, age 17, of Gurnee, hit Atkinson and then, briefly, left the scene of the accident. Ridge was arrested for leaving the scene of a personal injury involving a fatality and was released on a $10,000 recognizance bond.

Three charged in burglaries

ISLAND LAKE—Island Lake police arrested two adults and one youth charged with burglarizing a couple of townhomes. Terry D. Dolan, 22, and his brother Ned J. Dolan, 20, were located at their father's home in Round Lake Heights last week, and placed under arrest. Another offender is a 16-year-old youth. Neighbors of a 29-year-old man on Lexington told police they observed the offenders at the victims home while employed as yard help. After the man discovered his garage door broken and some items stolen, he went to his mothers home. Her home was also burglarized. Total value of the items is over $3,000. The offenders were charged with residential burglary, criminal damage to property, and possession of stolen items. Terry was also charged with unlawful trespassing to a vehicle.

Thanksgiving dance scheduled

WAUCONDA—The Wauconda Fire Department is hosting its 39th Annual Thanksgiving Dance with proceeds targeted to further its programs. The dance will be held at the Wauconda Station, 109 W. Liberty St., on Nov. 19 from 8 p.m. to midnight. Tickets are $4 apiece and can be purchased in advance at the station or at the door. Money raised from the event will be used to continue the department's smoke detectors for senior citizens program, as well as cover the purchase of equipment not covered by the budget. More than 1,000 people are expected to attend.

Rival high schools compete

LIBERTYVILLE/MUNDELEIN—The competition is not on the playing field this time for Libertyville and Mundelein High Schools. Students at each school are vying to see which can come up with the most canned goods for Libertyville and Vernon Township food pantries. The food drive will run through Nov. 23; residents of each village are encouraged to bring their contributions to the participating schools.

Orchestrated debut

GRAYSLAKE—The Lake County Youth Orchestras will make their debut performance Nov. 20 at 2:30 p.m. in the United Protestant Church in Grayslake. The Lake County Youth Orchestras are a collection of children from every region of Lake County. The group was formed by parents who were concerned that many Lake County schools do not foster a string program as part of the music curriculum. Director of the group is Ed Wilcox of Wonder Lake. Wilcox has directed orchestras and symphonies all over the country. The United Protestant Church is located at the corner of Park Ave. and Whitney St. in downtown Grayslake. Admission for the event is $5 for adults, children under 12 are admitted free. For more information on the LCYO or to reserve tickets call 223-3206.

Village talks security costs

OLD MILL CREEK—Village of Old Mill Creek may be looking for a new security firm next month. Trustees tabled discussion on the matter Monday, waiting to see what Tempel Farms decides to do. The present security service, Mill Creek Protection Services, wishes to charge $10,175 a month.

Park ordinance approved

ANTIOCH—A new section to the Antioch Village park ordinances has been approved. The amendments to the original ordinance include a section making parents or the legal guardian of a minor financially responsible for fines and even restitution if a minor is caught damaging or violating park ordinances. Other changes include a more sweeping definition of firearms, the addition of skateboards and rollerblades to the list of prohibited vehicles in parks (except in the parking lots), and some deletions to the ordinance which were obsolete.

Sewer plants fate unfolding

LAKE ZURICH—The fate of the village's two sewer treatment plants is beginning to unfold at a slow and meticulous rate. Residents are against the continued use of the southeast treatment plant on Old Mill Grove Road, which has been proposed to be used on a temporary basis as housing for the public works department, which is scattered among seven different areas in the community. Members of the public works committee have made a consensus agreement to remove the treatment tanks and sludge beds at the northwest and southeast treatment plants, but no work will take place until an all-inclusive plan can be adopted.

State mandates increase taxes

LIBERTYVILLE—Village officials are blaming state mandates for the 2.7 percent tax increase Libertyville homeowners can expect in the village portion of their next property tax bill. Officials said the village needs to collect $3,073,720 from property taxes, which is up from $2,947,304 the previous year. According to the Property Tax Limitations Act, commonly known as the tax cap, the village cannot increase taxes by more than 5 percent or above the natural inflationary increase in the cost of living, whichever is less. Officials recommended increasing the tax levy by the maximum level at 2.7 percent, although police and fire pension funds dictated by the state increased by 10 percent over last year.

RSVP honors Lake County volunteers

The Retired and Senior Volunteer Program held its 14th Annual Recognition and Awards Luncheon in Gurnee. Among the 240 seniors honored for their donation of over 60,000 hours this past year, the following were special award winners; Josephine Parks of Waukegan for Health Services, Doris Pierce and Mildred Vick of Waukegan for Knowledge and Skills, John Koch of Green Oaks and Francis Heinlen of Waukegan for Economic Development, Martin and Jennie Sisolak of Waukegan for Housing/Homelessness, Charlotte Totall of Waukegan for Community Services. The Recruiter of the Year is Frances Baczewski of Lake Villa, Grace Moore Special Achievement Award went to Angeline Palbicki of Waukegan, Station of the Year winner was Catholic Charities, and the Volunteer of the Year Award went to Stella Wiess of Waukegan.

Union strength ebbs in House

Liberals, Democrats, union teachers and union sympathizers have realized their worst nightmare in the election of a Republican majority in the Illinois House.

This is where the clout and the well spring of the Chicago Teachers Union and Illinois union teachers have rested for decades under Democratic dominance. This is about to change.

Democrats campaigned on the theme that anti-Chicago Republicans were out to dismantle Pershing Road, gut school lobbying power in Springfield and throttle the CTU. They were overpowered in one of the most tumultuous changes in the state's political history. Yes, there's going to be a new day.

With certainty, the new House leadership working with Gov. Edgar and the Republican Senate will be altering the way Illinois funds its public schools. A tip off of how the GOP will be open and creative is the "remark" made by Senate leader Pate Philip to consider an increase in the state income tax as espoused by Dawn Clark Netsch during her unsuccessful campaign for governor.

Republicans, though, will insist on reorganization and reform of the Chicago public schools. The main obstacle to change, House Speaker Michael Madigan (D-Chicago) no longer will be a factor. Even within the Democratic party itself, there are voices for school change as witness Mayor Daley's interest in privatization.

If the GOP leadership in Springfield can lessen the stranglehold the teachers union holds on Chicago schools, the entire state will benefit. As long as political history is being made in Illinois, it won't hurt at all to return power to the people in running their schools.

School questions defy U.S. trends

The Republican onslaught marking Election '94 left a curious trail in Lake County. Supposedly an anti-tax, anti-government expression, electors here and there in the county actually voted to increase their taxes.

School tax propositions predominated referenda Nov. 8. In several districts, tax increase questions were defeated decisively, but in two districts measures that will increase the burden of property owners carried handily giving rise to the observation that school tax questions still are basically local matters. Outcomes can defy trends.

That was the case for Gavin School District, a community of modest homes, where voters approved the biggest bond issue in history to remodel two schools and replace another. Voters in Grayslake Elementary Dist. 46 gave the green light to more than $13 million in bonds to erect one new building and repair others.

The other two victorious referenda in county resulted when Mundelein area voters approved a tax rate increase, the first ever, to buy more books and increase services of Fremont Public Library, and a majority of voters approved a rate increase to insure continuance of good fire protection in the Newport Township Fire Protection Dist.

Among the unsuccessful referenda were issues in Antioch High School Dist. and Hawthorn Elementary which serves Vernon Hills.

The difference between the school winners and losers Nov. 8 was that Gavin and Grayslake hewed to school needs in well organized, low key campaigns. The Antioch and Hawthorn questions were high profile, headline grabbing issues that tended to polarize electors.

In an area that has become more Republican than ever, results of the fall election are evidence that GOP voters are not knee-jerk tax haters.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

School board over-stepping

Editor:

The Round Lake School Board states in a full page ad that they are committed to their responsibilities, including curriculum development. I question who might have assigned them this responsibility, and are they qualified?

Although I have subsequently chosen another profession, I initially received a BS Ed. in 1977 from NIU. In order to obtain my teaching certification from the state of Illinois I was required to take several semesters of coursework specializing in curriculum development as well as successfully implementing those concepts within my other education classes and student teaching.

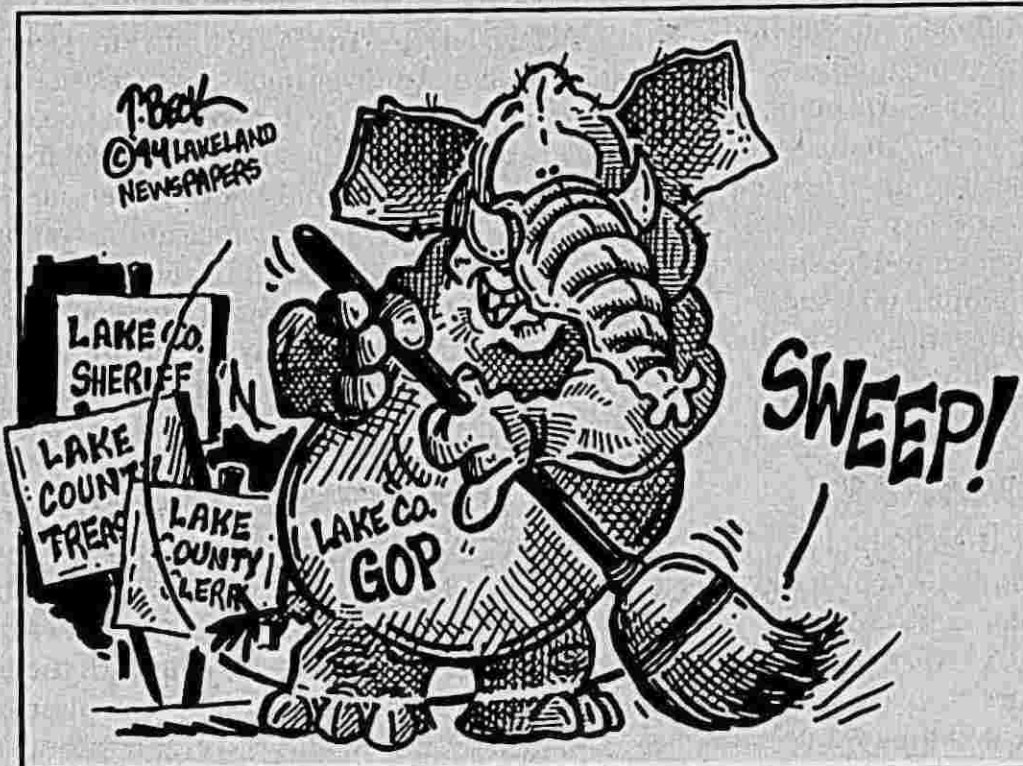

To my knowledge, none of the members of the school board have the necessary credentials to assume the responsibility of determining the appropriate learning or evaluation criteria for curriculum development. Does the electorate want amateurs making decisions in areas that affect their children? I suggest the school board concentrate on creating a better working environment for their employees and a better learning climate for their students and leave curricula to the teachers and administrators who have demonstrated and proven expertise.

"Every day is precious."

How easy it is for healthy persons to overlook the wonder of a day of health and happiness. How much we take for granted until talking to someone like Gary E. Monkman.

A prominent Lake County businessman and a pioneer in the professional barter industry, Monkman is president of Midwest Trade Exchange (MTE), a company that brokers and administers barter business. Midwest Trade also operates a travel services business. The company, headquartered in North Chicago, has 1,300 clients in 42 states.

In June, 1993, Gary was diagnosed with lung cancer. With his customary enthusiasm, he battled back, putting the cancer in remission. Sometime later, he was found to have brain cancer.

Monkman underwent radiation and chemotherapy. "They gave it the one big shot, but that wasn't enough. Now I'm terminal."

Gary informed clients of his status in a letter, underscoring the fact that he still feels strong and is "charging like rhino." But he also wanted business friends to know that changes will be taking place in Midwest Trade Exchange, that his wife of 25 years, Sue, will continue to run the organization and that a client advisory board is being organized to assist Sue.

Coming from a background in banking, Gary formed the business in 1983—"in the basement of my home on a folding chair with a dream."

The highlight of MTE's 1994 business year is Monkman's negotiation with a major long distance carrier to provide trade service to clients, a landmark for the industry. "Financially, the company is strong. We've got a great team."

Gary is thinking of his family, the company he founded and his business friends as he faces the future. "I intend to work every day for as long as I can. Every day is precious." Monkman chuckles as he relates how he turned down an around-the-world cruise on the Queen Elizabeth 2 to stay on the job. "This is where I belong," he declared. "This is where I'm happy."

The tireless businessman spent Friday greeting clients at an open house displaying MTE products and services. The conversation was lively and upbeat. Gary was talking business, not about himself.

OFF TO MOSCOW—Paul Janensch, a prominent newspaper executive with roots in Lake County, is facing the challenge of his professional life. The former editor of the Louisville Courier-Journal and Gannett publications in New York, is going to Moscow to help Russian journalists establish American-style, self-sufficient newspapers. A free press and advertising are "foreign" to Russian news professionals. As a youth, Janensch spent his summers in Long Lake.

MAKE A DATE—Partygoers who like their fun noisy and crowded will want to be on hand

Monday, Dec. 19, for the "World's Largest Office Party."

They'll be part of an expected throng exceeding 5,000 for a benefit to the Ronald McDonald Children's Charity and the Neediest Kids Fund. The party will be staged at Hyatt Regency Chicago beginning at 3:30 p.m. and last until 10:30 p.m.

WANTS INFO—Mike Graham, whose political career was cut short by charges of alleged influence peddling, is going straight to the boss, Janet Reno, to get his complete FBI file.

The former Libertyville Township supervisor and one-time County Board dynamo blames former U.S. Atty. Fred Foreman for stonewalling the FBI file. The case against Graham involved annexation earlier this year of 40 acres to Libertyville which Graham claims has dumped an additional $1.3 million tax burden on residents because of rampant home building.

PARTY LINES

Martin relishes role as union basher

Party Lines, the Lakeland Newspaper column of political commentary, is prepared from staff reports.

Martin

Jack Martin, the soft-spoken, retiring Libertyville businessman and political activist, "modestly" is taking credit for forcing the Hawthorn School board and teachers' union to reach a settlement on their contract.

Martin sees the double defeat of tax increase referenda as the result of his efforts and mailings to "force the issue." "It's not the lack of tax dollars or the future of Gregg's Landing that caused the defeat in Hawthorn's education fund," Martin declared. "It is the teachers' union contract demands, union salaries, administrators' salaries—it is not the program for students."

Establishing himself as a leading foe of unionism in public schools, Martin lumped union problems in Hawthorn, Libertyville High and Round Lake Unit. "Enough is enough. No more exorbitant teachers' union contracts," Martin stated.

Non-racial—Outsiders are viewing the defeat of an African American for state representative in the Nov. 8 election as a racial issue. Not so, exclaim professional county politicians. They say Christopher Wakefield, 28, a black Democrat, lost because Republican Tom Lachner was better qualified. The Shore Line district has a sizable minority population. Both Lachner and Wakefield are residents of Lake Bluff.

Several years ago, Dr. Paul Chung of Barrington failed in the Republican primary in his effort to become the first Asian-American elected to county office running as a political unknown.

On the lists—With ultra-liberal U.S. Sen. Paul Simon announcing his retirement, Congressman John Porter (R-Wilmette) is on everyone's list as a possible challenger in 1996.

The popular North Shore veteran won't become a chairman in the reorganized House, but as part of the majority he'll have considerable influence. Porter says it's still too early to decide whether to give up a safe seat in Congress to take a shot at a Senate seat.

Ready target—A flock of Democrats are lining up already in the 5th Congressional Dist. to take on Michael Patrick Flanagan, the giant killer, in 1996. You don't think there are any Democrats left?

Respected political commentator Thomas F. Roeser thinks David Wilhelm, the Democratic national chairman, is the most likely. State Reps. Rod Blagojevich and Nancy Kaszak, big winners Nov. 8, could be induced to step up. The perennials include State Sen. John Cullerton, a great Cook County name, and Ted Lechowicz, who's always mentioned for offices open above his Cook County commissioner's post.

The 5th Dist. is Rostenkowski territory.

Listed—State Sen. David Barkhausen (R-Lake Forest) cringed when he learned that he "made" the "Taxpayer's Enemies" list of officials with the worst tax-raising scores put out by the free-swinging National Taxpayers United of Illinois, headed by controversial Jim Tobin. Barkhausen was in the company of NTU targets Pate Philip and Democrats Gary LaPaille and Penny Severna.

Considering inquiries into his handling of state allowances for office expenditures, Barkhausen is attempting to keep a low profile until he runs for reelection in two years.

Two well known Crystal Lake Republicans made Tobin's list for the best scores in the 88th Illinois General Assembly—Cal Skinner in the House and Sen. Dick Klemm, who used to represent a major portion of west Lake County.

In case you're interested in where Tobin is coming from, he listed Gov. Edgar as a "big disappointment."

Guest speaker—Waukegan attorney David Decker, president of the 32,000-member Illinois State Bar Association, has snared U.S. Senator Carol Moseley-Braun as the featured speaker at the ISBA's midyear meeting luncheon on Dec.

8. The meeting will take place at the Sheraton Chicago Hotel and Towers and is open to the public. Decker is a Lake Bluff resident.

Thinner than water—Since he took office at the first of the year, Fremont Township Assessor Ed Sullivan Jr. has carefully reevaluated each assessment and sent out notices of changes. The owner of the Mundelein Animal Hospital is taking umbrage to his higher assessment and is threatening to take Mr. Sullivan to court over the issue. The facility is owned by none other than Ed Sullivan Sr.

Wants voice back—Joyce Frayer, former mayor of Lake Villa, has picked up a petition to run for Lake Villa trustee.

Frayer a fiscal conservative who is outspoken on public issues, lost in a bid to become Lake Villa Township supervisor last year in the April election. She currently is the chairperson of the Frayer Lake Villa Plan Commission. Also pulling candidate petitions are incumbent Trustees Robert Raukohl and Ken Lipski.

Another term—Lindenhurst Mayor Paul Baumunk will seek a second term. Baumunk hasn't decided the slate of candidates running with him for the three trustee slots which are also up for election.

Grayslake did.

This year the children at Avon School were TOLD what Halloween costumes to wear. One classroom was spiders, another classroom, bats; and yet another classroom was pumpkins. No choice. No individualization. Each child a clone of another. That was IF they were allowed a Halloween party at all. Some classroom Halloween parties were canceled due to the fact that one family did not believe in celebrating Halloween. Yes, I do believe it is their right NOT to celebrate Halloween, but when a party for 30 other children that DO celebrate Halloween is canceled, where are their rights?

According to rumors, Avon School will be canceling Halloween altogether next year. No parties, no dressing up, nothing. Halloween has been a tradition celebrated since the 1800s.

If we let them cancel one holiday, where will it end? Are we going to continue until there are no holidays or traditions left? Our children need traditions. They need holidays. They need to dress up and make believe and stay children while they can, for they grow up too fast as it is.

Truancy redefined

Editor:

As the third week of the Round Lake teachers' strike ends, perhaps it's time to take a closer look at truancy with regard to the impasse between teachers and school boards.

According to Paragraph 5/26-2a of the Illinois School Code, a truant is defined as "a child subject to compulsory school attendance and who is absent without valid cause from such attendance for a school day or portion thereof." This paragraph seems to raise more questions than answers. Although children in the state are "compelled" by law to be educated, it seems that there are more than a few children in Round Lake who seem to be absent as of late.

Well, it seems that government officials have cleverly found a way to exempt themselves from "mandatory" attendance under a loophole entitled "absent without valid cause." Obviously, strikes are considered one of those situations where government officials may relieve themselves from the responsibility of providing education to children.

It seems ironic that county school officials seem anxious to threaten home schooling families with "truancy" if they don't prove to them they really are educating at home while simultaneously sit by idly while thousands of children in Round Lake remain at home, many alone, uneducated, for the entire day.

If the government is so concerned with the education of children, why don't they just arrest the striking teachers or file an injunction against them? Answer: The government isn't concerned about a child's education. Rather, it is more preoccupied with power and control over children and families. The bottom line to the truancy question then is this: Truancy can only be caused by neglectful parents. The government, much like Congress, can exempt itself as it pleases. Truancy, then, is strictly at the convenience of the government.

Hawthorn mandate

Editor:

The failure of the two Hawthorn School Dist.'s referendums has sent a message to the Hawthorn School Board, their administration and teachers' union that more and more money for past and future years' mismanagement of Hawthorn school budgets and higher property taxes will not be tolerated. The voter mandate is clear that Hawthorn must balance its budget and get its financial house in order.

As the school board, administration, parents and teachers' union has known, the Hawthorn district teachers have been working without a union contract. The board had been working for a settlement but the teachers' union was not seriously attempting to settle. Never mind that during the past four years the teachers' union was able to extort a 36 percent across the board pay raise during a period of less than 14 percent inflation. The teachers' union was waiting until the parents' support group, teachers and administration had passed the two referendums to lay claim to all the money. After all, had the referendum passed, the teacher's union would have said the taxpayers do not mind paying higher taxes and more money for teachers' salaries.

Sees hypocritical mayor

Editor:

It was just coincidence that after voting I returned home, checked my mail and found a propaganda piece from the "Citizens for Education." This correspondence defended the Round Lake School Board's position concerning the current teacher's strike.

Personally, if I had the power I'd do something along the lines of what President Reagan did with the air traffic controllers in this strike issue. But the interesting part was that Mayor Davis of Round Lake Beach supported the school board "to manage the taxpayer's money responsibly," giving the impression that he was against higher taxes. I see flagrant hypocrisy here.

Mayor Davis resists the teachers' strike while raising taxes himself. After a failed referendum that should have told him that the Round Lake Beach voters didn't want new taxes, he raised the utility taxes by 3 percent, and then Round Lake Beach didn't know what to do with the increased revenue (Round Lake News, Oct. 7 and 28, 1994)! I wish Mayor Davis was on this year's ballot.

Oh well, after voting for Mayor Davis originally I guess that I'll have to wait for him to run again to show him what I think of his administration. I can admit my mistakes. I hope that he has re-employment rights with his last job.

Call for salary freeze

Editor:

The Antioch High School board of education has shown the community that honesty and integrity is not their forte; on a scale, the board is placed securely next to a car salesman.

On Nov. 8, taxpayers came out with a mandate.

"We're not stupid. We're not stupid," they chanted.

The obituary of the board members was written at the polling places. A call for board member resignations has been sounded. Thankfully this is before they can do any further damage to the community and children.

In my opinion, there must be salary freezes of all current teachers and administrators until academics can be raised up to average in Lake County schools. Truant officers must be hired to reduce daily absenteeism, which has reached an all-time high of 156 students per day. Additionally, the graduation rate has plummeted from 98.5 percent in 1992 to 85.7 percent in 1994.

The administration must down-size; it is the only high school in the state of Illinois that finds it necessary to employ three assistant principals (not to mention their assistants).

The board of education and their mismanagement puppets remain a cancer in our children.

CLC child care program earns national re-certification

The National Academy of Early Childhood Programs has renewed accreditation of the College of Lake County's child care center.

The three-year re-accreditation was granted after an intensive evaluation process by the National Association for the Education of Young Children (NAEYC), which sponsors the Academy. The process included an on-site study of the program and a final review by a three-member panel of commissioners who are experts in the field of early childhood education.

The re-accreditation demonstrates that CLC's child care program meets national standards of quality, said Sandy Groening, coordinator of the program. "We had to meet a variety of strict criteria related to providing a developmentally appropriate program for young children. We are proud to receive the honor from the nation's premier and largest organization for early childhood education professionals," she said.

"CLC is concerned about child care and has provided the resources to support the program. We have well-qualified and trained staff, who enjoy what they do and are professionally committed. Parent involvement is also a big factor in our program," said Groening. The CLC child care center provides preschool education for children two and a half to five years old whose parents are CLC students and staff. Evening care is available for children up to 12 years old.

The center is managed by three full-time and four part-time staff members, including teachers who have at least a two-year degree in early childhood education and assistant teachers who have completed at least six hours of early childhood education courses or are enrolled in the program. Children may be enrolled for up to five hours a day for $2 per hour.

The center is open from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. Monday through Friday and 6 to 10 p.m. Monday through Thursday. For information about CLC's child care program, call Groening at 223-6601, ext. 2345.

CLC student paper receives award

One of only 10 two-year colleges nationwide to receive a Pacemaker Finalist Award, the Chronicle is the only school in the Midwest to receive the coveted honor. Sponsored by the ACP and the Newspaper Assn. of American Foundation, the national Pacemaker Awards are the equivalent of Pulitzer Awards for the college media.

The Chronicle is a bi-weekly student newspaper, entirely written, produced and edited by the 34-member staff, all students of the College of Lake County. Journalism and English instructor Connie Kindsvater is the adviser to the paper.

Last spring the Chronicle was chosen as the best bi-weekly student newspaper in Illinois by the Illinois Community College Journalism Assn., and also received a first place with special merit award from the American Scholastic Press Assn. This is the first time that the Chronicle has been a Pacemaker Finalist.

Unidentified murder victim is buried in Kenosha

MARY FOLEY

Staff Reporter

"We simply do not understand Man's inhumanity to man," said Reverend James Kennedy of the United Church of Christ Genoa City. "Because we do not know what happened, we can only trust in he who knows."

It was a crisp, blustery fall day last week when John Doe, the unidentified murder victim found in Salem Township in Wisconsin, was laid to rest. John had been beaten and stabbed to death before his body was set on fire. He was found Oct. 24.

His mourners included Kenosha County Sheriff's Department detectives and officers, members of the Kenosha County Coroners Office, miscellaneous media representatives, the woman who found his body, and a woman from Antioch with her son, who could not bear to have this man mourned by no-one.

"It broke my heart that no one would be here," said Debra Duba of Antioch, who also brought her 10-year-old son Derek, a sixth-grade student from Emmons School. Derek had the day off from school because of parent-teacher conferences.

It was a simple service. None of John Doe's loved ones were present and officials had little to sum up his life. What is known is his last minutes of life must have been horrible. John was beaten, stabbed and burned beyond recognition, then dumped in a wooded area 1/2 mile north of Antioch.

"It is pretty upsetting to have an unsolved homicide," said Lieutenant Larry Zarletti. But, Zarletti is even more disturbed by the fact police are unable to even identify the victim.

When asked why the burial of an unidentified person was taking place, Zarletti said, "In Kenosha County, everyone, identified and unidentified is given a burial. We thought it was the only decent thing to do."

A similar situation occurred last year when basketball great, Michael Jordan's father was cremated before an identification was made. Jordan was murdered in South Carolina in, what is believed, a car-hijacking.

At this time, a team of Kenosha County Sheriff's detectives have followed up on nearly 150 leads. They have learned, through a physician/anthropologist, Dr. Bennet, the unidentified man was older than first believed.

"Dr. Bennet, an anthropologist, did determine this individual to be 30-years of age," said Zarletti in an interview after the services. The burial, in St. Scholastic Cemetery, on Highway V, was paid for by Kenosha County. Jeannies Garden Center of Twin Lakes donated the flowers on the casket.

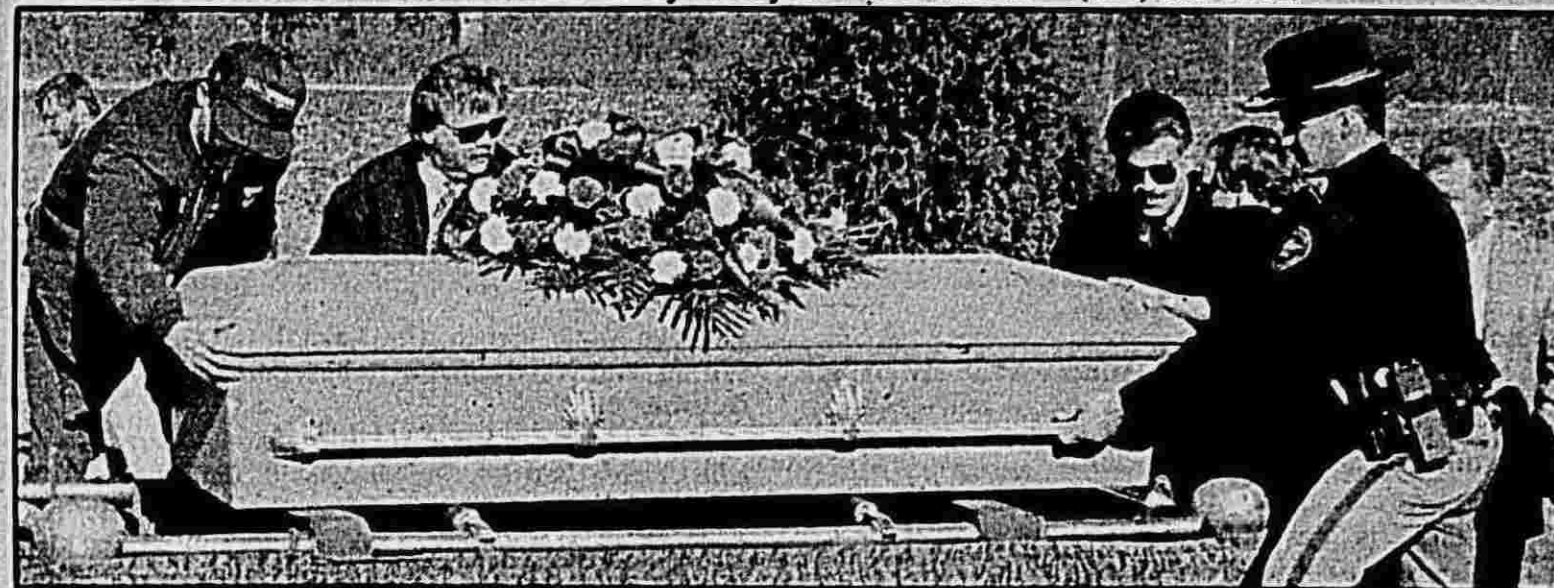

The picture released by Kenosha County Sheriff's Department may be disturbing to some, and, in fact, one reporter, Jeanne Lindstrom of the Westosha Report said she felt as though she was driving with the murdered man when she brought the photograph to her newspaper. Nevertheless, police believe publishing the picture will be the best way to learn his identification. Particularly since, drawings of the man have, as of yet, have been ineffective.

Sheriff's have released this description: white male, 5'6" to 5'9", 130 to 150 pounds with brown hair and eyes, slim build with some missing teeth and others badly decayed. The victim was wearing a blue denim jacket and black woman's size 10 regular jeans, white tennis shoes, white cotton socks and a black T-shirt. His blood type was A-positive.

John Doe had on a thin gold chain around his neck and two rings on his right hand. One ring was a silver color Harley Davidson ring and the other a silver skull ring, which the man wore on his pinkie finger.

Detectives believe the victim was killed elsewhere and then dumped and buried. Police are asking anyone who may know of someone missing matching the description to call the Kenosha County Sheriff's Department at (414) 656-7304.

PETS OF THE WEEK

Regal Rex, Prince Chauncy, Barney, and Boomer ready to warm hearts

Chauncy is a prince. He's black with unusual tan markings, only seven months old and a purebred. He was purchased by a family not fully aware of the responsibility and care involved in pet ownership, and so he came to us. He's all pup—energy, affection and a need for lots of attention.

Rex's name suits perfectly! He's quite regal in spite of the fact that he's only a year old. He sadly lost a home because of a move, but is ready to move into another home which will offer him permanency and responsibility.

Remember, the Assisi Animal Foundation has outstanding pets ready for adoption to responsible, caring homes. Also, an adult pet is an excellent choice simply because personality is formed and recognizable. Many adult pets are available—consider giving one a real chance.

Assisi also welcomes volunteers. McHenry County's only no-kill, cageless facility dedicated to sheltering animals can always use adult help just a couple of hours a week. It's rewarding work in cheerful surroundings with great people.

Contact Isabelle at Assisi Animal Foundation, (815) 455-9411.

"Barney" and "Boomer" are two of the most adorable pure bred springer spaniels we've ever seen. These two brothers are liver and white with sweet, sad, droopy eyes, long floppy ears and curly, freckled coats. Just four years old, Barney and Boomer were found severely malnourished when they were brought to our shelter in July by Lake County Animal Control. Very attached to each other, they must be adopted together.

They are in good health now, have gained weight and both have delightful personalities. Sweet-faced and well behaved, these two are very lovable, with Boomer being a bit more outgoing than Barney. He also listens exceptionally well, though both are playful and responsive and thrive on attention.

Barney and Boomer are waiting for a loving home and family in Cage 61. Cash $55 donation includes free spay/neuter, collar, leash, first shots, follow-up care and more. Orphans of the Storm is located at 2200 Riverwoods Rd. in Deerfield. Hours are 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. seven days a week. Call 945-0235 for information.

Former Bear brings message of racial diversity to schools

SPENCER SCHEIN

Staff Reporter

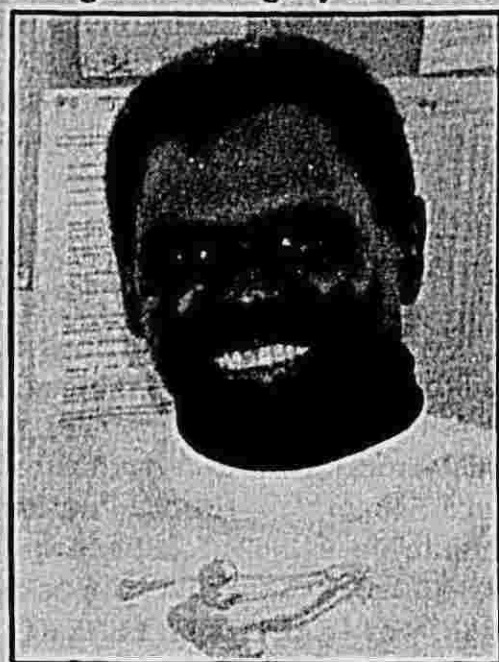

When Curtis Gentry was growing up in southern Ohio in the '40s and '50s, he says he was not personally affected by the hatred of others based on his race, but knew it existed.

The former Chicago Bear defensive standout said he still does not know how to swim to because the city fathers of Portsmouth told the African-American community the city's only pool was privately owned.

It was not until years later did they realize the pool was owned by the city, and paid for by the taxes of all residents, both white and black.

Thirty-one years after he graduated from Portsmouth High School as a member of the National Honor Society and all-state star in three sports, Gentry, 57, applied for a job as the school's football coach. Even though he had eight years of college coaching experience under his belt, he wasn't hired.

Racism exists today because of a lack of education, and Gentry said he wants to educate today's youth.

Currently working at the College of Lake County as a physical education instructor, Gentry is looking towards getting involved with a national speaking agency based in Virginia, while continuing speaking to schools, clubs and civic organizations in the Lake County area on the evils of gangs and drugs, racism and self-esteem.

"These youngsters need positive role models," he said, "and I feel I am a positive role model."

Now a resident of Round Lake Beach, Gentry has spoken at several high schools where racially motivated incidents have occurred, including Barrington High School, where he spoke earlier this year after a fight involving more than 100 students broke out.

Gentry will next speak at Wauconda High School, Nov. 21, where one of the few African-American students at the school has complained of being racially harassed at the school and on a school bus this fall.

"I am going to try to racially sensitize the students, faculty, staff and administrators at Wauconda High School," he said.

"There is so much hate in our society today," he said. "I want to try and expose to them being different does not mean bad. Being different means being different. Every ethnic group brings something positive with it and everyone has to realize that," Gentry said.

Hate exists because people do not know each other's culture, history, or what their ethnic group had contributed to make America great, Gentry said.

"No one is totally educated unless they know about somebody else," he said. "These white kids need to see African-Americans in positions of authority, doing positive things."

Gentry played football under George Halas and alongside Hall of Famers Gale Sayers, Dick Butkus and Mike Ditka during his two-year term, roaming the defensive backfield from 1966 to '68.

He has been at CLC since 1988.

KEVIN HANRAHAN

Staff Reporter

Some Wauconda people might remember Ron Vaughan when he was a 7-year-old in the early 1950s playing ukulele alongside his dad for New Year's Eve gigs at a small tavern. Nothing fancy, but they played popular feel-happy tunes, brought people together and made a few bits while doing it.

He was last seen treating the townsfolk of Wauconda to a cozy, informal piano concert at the Wauconda Area Library. For 40-plus years, Vaughan's fingers have danced their way up and down piano keys creating enjoyable background music or favorite melodies that strike a special feeling, emotion or memory in the listener.

The 49-year-old has earned a living out of music, raised a family and has never really had to leave Lake County to do so. Semi-retired now, Vaughan plays regularly at a private club and offers private piano lessons.

Through the years, times have certainly changed, but Vaughan still offers simple, genuine piano music, much like he did when he joined his dad in a New Year's Eve gig at Wauconda's former Somer's Store on the north side of Bang's Lake.

With the exception of venturing into Cook and McHenry counties, Vaughan said, "I have really not had to leave Lake County to make a living. You couldn't do that nowadays because the business is very competitive."

He describes his brand of music as "Cocktail Lounge Piano," which includes a little bit of everything with an emphasis on easy-listening songs. His most requested songs, for example, are "As Time Goes By," "Misty," and "Stardust."

"The funny thing about 'As Time Goes By' is that it's one of those songs that bridges three or four generations of people," he said. "People from 15 to 80 enjoy the song. You can't say that about too many songs."

Although Vaughan's mother played the accordion, his father's guitar and piano playing first sparked Vaughan's interest in music. He started playing the piano at age 5 and eventually picked up the ukulele for fun. His father, Tom, also played at an early age, especially during the Depression years when his extra two silver dollars a night were a luxury during those trying times.

"They said they wouldn't have been able to eat as well as they were able to without the $2," Vaughan said of his father's family. "It was the $2 a night that helped them eat meat."

Although Vaughan did not have to play side gigs to put food on the table, tavern and private piano jobs did help pay his way through college. He eventually earned an associate arts degree from Elgin Community College and a bachelor of music degree from the American Conservatory of Music in Chicago, where he studied with Barbara Crooks Enders.

His first music job came in 1963 at the Wauconda Moose Lodge, where he played the organ in the basement. Vaughan recalled having to bring a fan with him to ventilate all the cigarette and cigar smoke that laid stagnant in the windowless basement. A non-smoker, Vaughan said dealing with smoke has been his only complaint in the music business.

"The worst thing about music is the cigarette smoke," Vaughan said. "I'm just a normal white Protestant who doesn't smoke or drink."

Nevertheless, he has endured the smoke and has played every weekend since 1963 at various Lake County locations. "I have even worked out my vacations so I wouldn't have to take off a weekend," Vaughan said. He has also worked a minimum of four nights a week since 1972.

"I have probably played steadier than any other musician in this area," Vaughan said proudly. "Believe it or not, that's all I ever did was play the piano. It's really the only life I know, and if I had to do it all over again, I'd probably do it again—and make the same mistakes."

But where's the fame? Where's the glory? Where's that stereotypical image of musicians living life in the fast lane filled with excitement and, of course, naughtiness?

It's not that he didn't have the talent because he trained with the best including Enders as well as local piano entertainers Mary Lueder and Monte Parker. In fact, Vaughan was offered the opportunity to hit the road with Al Morgan and do Chicago, Las Vegas and other cities in the mid 1970s.

Enter Ray Jr., who some say is an exact clone of Ray senior. Instead of hitting the road as they say in the music business, Vaughan chose to stay home with his wife, Edie, and raise their son.

Since Vaughan generally worked nights, he was able to be with his son everyday almost the whole day and all summer long. "The result of it is that he has never been in any kind of trouble and does well in school," he said. Ray Jr. is now a freshman at Eastern Illinois University.

Besides, Vaughan preferred playing solo.

"I didn't have to worry about the other guys showing up drunk, and I knew I would always be there," Vaughan said.

The fact of the matter is that Vaughan was not intrigued by the Vegas spotlights or playing before strangers night after night in smoke-filled cabarets. He didn't crave mass fame or fortune. Instead, he simply preferred Lake County and, quite frankly, enjoyed playing "Cocktail Lounge Piano" music for the joy of playing it.

"I wish everybody could have that in life, where they like to do something," Vaughan said. "Maybe I don't have the burning desire that I had 25 years ago, but I still like it. You're doing something that makes people happy."

And as time went by, it's still just as much of a kick for Vaughan as it was 40 years ago when he was playing ukulele with his dad.

Musician Ron Vaughan in the 1950s with his ukulele and now, at a piano recital. Vaughan has been entertaining Lake County audiences for some 40 years.

LIFE'S A BEAR

DONNA ABEAR

Sugar, spice, and everything nice

We just celebrated the first birthday of my one and only daughter, and it has put me in a reflective mood which means that: A. You can spot me with your headlights at night, or B. I'm feeling sentimental, or C. I used the wrong adjective.

If you guessed "A", remember—I am not a deer and, besides that, you're wrong. If you guessed "C" give yourself a pat on the back for remembering your grammar terms, but you're still wrong. The answer is "B"—sentimental. Yes, sentimental is what happens to a mother of three sons when it really sinks in that she finally has a daughter. So I thought it might be nice to tell my little girl, in print, what her first year has been like:

Dear Samantha,

You were what they call a "surprise" baby. Actually, there's really no difference between a "surprise" baby and a "planned" baby, since you can't just say, "I think I'll get pregnant on October 9." Oh, sure, I did get slightly hysterical when that darn EPT test turned blue in a matter of seconds (that was the surprise part). And, of course, now that I know where babies come from, I have taken precautions to make sure there that you are never displaced from your current coveted position as the baby of the family. Believe me, any one of your brothers would gladly trade birth order with you.

As a newborn, you were a model baby. Ate well, slept all night, and seldom cried. Of course, I told everyone that the reason for this good behavior was because you were my daughter, a "chip off the old block." You even looked like me then, with your fair complexion and reddish blonde hair. Every time someone would say, "she looks just like you," I would beam with pride.

It didn't last, though. Somehow, through the miracle of human growth, you now resemble a pretty version of your father. I think they call that "morphing."

You'll have to let me in on your secret, since I would like to morph into Cindy Crawford.

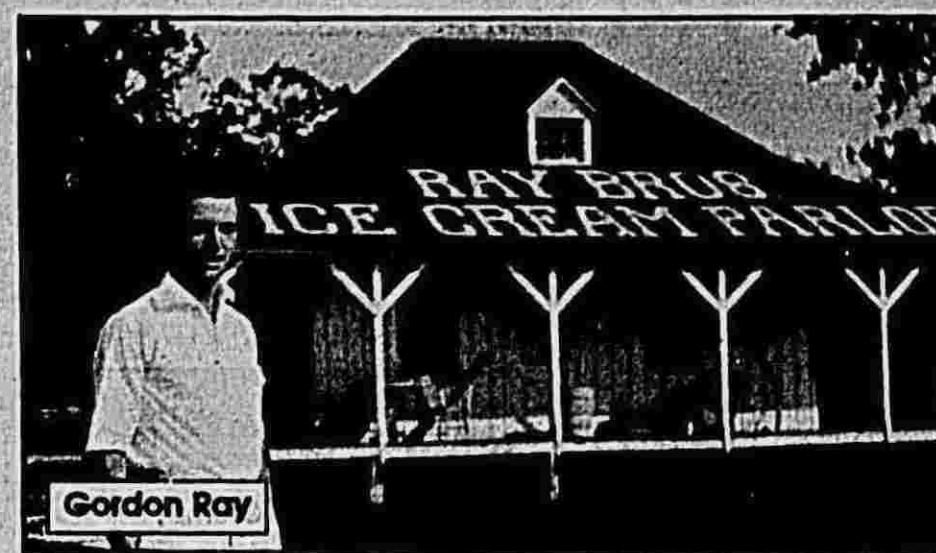

Your brothers all fell in love with you at birth, just as your father and I did. In fact, your youngest brother even sang to you in the hospital. "Rock-a-my-baby" he sang, causing everyone to cry over how cute that was. In fact, for the next week, he would sing it to you just for effect and then look at his father and say, "Are you crying?" Anyway, you were wearing a pink sleeper at the time. In fact, everything in your closet those first few months was pink. I couldn't help it. Pink is like a forbidden color for boys, so I went a little overboard when you came along.

Of course, occasionally we humored your father, and bought an outfit that wasn't pink, like the red plaid flannel pajamas you wore last Christmas. That red plaid flannel may even explain why you suddenly look like your father. Maybe there's something in the flannel...

By the age of seven months, you learned to crawl, and from that point on, things have been pretty darn exciting around here. Always a curious baby, since even from birth you were constantly trying to turn your head to see what was going on, you have now given the word curious new meaning. There is not an inch of the house that you have not explored, not a dustball under the beds left untasted, not a window around that doesn't bear your signature chubby fingerprint. But then, I knew from the minute I held you in your arms, you would manage to make your mark on the world.

Why not? You've already made your mark on my heart. Like Maurice Chevalier once sang, "Thank Heaven—for little girls!" Happy Birthday, Sammie!

'Views of Life and Leisure' photos on display

Enjoy an afternoon of fun and discovery at the Lake County Forest Preserves' Lake County Museum, Sunday, Nov. 20 from 2 to 4 p.m. to visit "Views of Life and Leisure: The Gordon Ray Photographs" traveling exhibit and discover Lake County's heritage of small resorts and farms. The program fee is $3 for adults; $1.75 for students under 18. Children under age 4 are free. The traveling exhibit illustrates a family farm and resort business on Diamond Lake in Mundelein from 1907 to 1946. The exhibit will be on display through January 1995.

Spend Christmas At Santa's Home

PRESIDENT, NORTH STAR TRAVEL, INC.

As a child, I always thought Santa lived at the North Pole. Kids in the rest of the world, however, believe the jolly bearded man in the red suit resides at the Korvatunturi Fell in the middle of Finnish Lapland. Since Santa's main means of transportation is reindeer, and there are a lot more of them in Lapland than the North Pole, I guess it makes sense.

So now that you know where Santa really lives, instead of waiting for him to visit you, why not spend Christmas at his place this year? Finnair has some really "cool" Christmas tour packages to get you there, too.

How about this for a Christmas the family will never forget.

December 22-Arrive at Kuusamo Airport in Finland, just south of the Arctic circle. After dinner at your cozy ski resort, a hostess explains the exciting holiday events ahead.

December 23-After breakfast, it's off to reindeer country. You'll be provided with a thermo outfit to keep you warm on the reindeer sled trip over Ruka Mountain where you'll be met at his kota tent by a reindeer herder who will teach you Lapp skills such as reindeer driving and lassoing.

Later that day, back at the hotel, you can relax in the sauna while the kids are busy baking gingerbread cookies with the chef.

December 24-Start the day with a little cross-country skiing. For lunch, what else but rice pudding. Then it's time to hop aboard a sleigh and head out into the forest in search of a Christmas tree to decorate later at the hotel. Hot "glogg" keeps you warm for the ride back.

After dinner, you'll be treated to a local children's choir. Then, Santa himself arrives to deliver the presents, thankful that you saved him the trip to your house.

December 25-After services at a quaint local church, bundle-up for a three-hour snowmobile safari to a log cabin in Petajavaara.

December 26 - You're off to Kuusamo Tropical Spa for a dip in pools heated by underground hot springs. For the more adventurous, grab a snowmobile and take off to a frozen lake for a day of ice fishing and a picnic lunch sitting on reindeer skins around a campfire.

Movie Pick

'Frankenstein' another 'misremake'

Kenneth Branagh and Robert DeNiro in "Mary Shelley's Frankenstein."

Kenneth Branagh, the Orson Wells of the '90s, shows flashes of his usual genius, and falls short of mediocrity, in several different scenes of "Mary Shelley's Frankenstein."

Branagh, who has handled the dual role of director and actor successfully many times, "Much Ado About Nothing," "Dead Again," and "Henry V," seems to have missed the boat as far as the director assessing the lead actor's performance.

This new version of the classic horror film, starts out well, even better than the recent version of "Dracula," with an up frenzied tempo permeating both plot and performances.

Branagh is the legendary psychotic doctor who, haunted by his mother's death, is fascinated with the new life energy generated by electricity, so he decides to play God and do a little creating.

Ergo the unrecognizable twisted monster made up of a variety of gathered human parts he has noticeably stitched together.

One of the best scenes in the picture is of course the classic one in the laboratory when the electricity shoots through the human collage, turning it into an operating monster played by Robert DeNiro.

We did not say bring the monster to life because we're not sure whether or not this monster is a result of bringing the dead back to life or just making the dead walk around.

DeNiro comes through with a monster who is child-like and deadly at the same time.

A more interesting and eerie experiment takes place closer to the movie's end when the good nutsy doctor decides to breathe life back into his girlfriend played by Helen Bonham Carter.

This version of "Frankenstein" is OK at video prices, but the Boris Karloff version in black and white is still more what the story of the doctor and his monster should be.

The film's special effects are often revolting instead of frightening, but it's still creepy enough for the usual horror buff.

We'll rate this remake 2.5 out of five stars - gory enough for horror aficionados, but filled with enough boring scenes to make many wait for the video version.—by GLORIA DAVIS

Forgat-Mig-Ej group plans Lucia procession

The Swedish children's folk-dancing and singing group Forgat-Mig-Ej will mark the beginning of the Swedish Christmas Season with a traditional Lucia procession and concert on Sunday afternoon, Dec. 4.

Forgat-Mig-Ej, which means Forget-Me-Not in Swedish, is comprised of children from the north and northwest suburbs whose families share an interest in preserving the rich cultural heritage of Sweden and Scandinavia through song and dance.

Formed in 1933, the club is sponsored by the Vasa Order of America, a Swedish-American fraternal organization. The children, ranging in age from three to 15, practice in Mundelein. They have performed for the King and Queen of Sweden, former Gov. Jim Thompson at the Governor's Mansion in Springfield, the Botanic Gardens and at the Illinois State Fair.

The annual Luciafest is a favorite of children and adults alike. Based on Nordic legends, Lucia, a young girl robed in white and crowned with flickering, white candles amidst seasonal greenery, heralds the coming of light and warmth to the Scandinavian darkness on the winter's solstice. The legend symbolizes a spiritual lighting as well—it is said that Lucia mysteriously appeared during a time of famine to distribute food to those in need.

Forgat-Mig-Ej has selected Kimberly Holden as the 1994 Lucia. Holden is the daughter of Richard and Linda Holden of Lake Zurich. Maternal grandparents are Ruth Stahl and the late Birger Stahl, formerly of Waukegan. Paternal grandparents are Robert and Mary Ann Holden of Rockford.

Forgat-Mig-Ej will hold their Luciafest on Sunday, Dec. 4 at Kathryn's Banquets, 600 River Rd., Mount Prospect. The festivities will begin with doors opening at 1 p.m. A traditional buffet dinner will be served, followed by the Lucia procession and concert. Music for listening and dancing pleasure will be provided by Arvid Andersen.

Advance reservations need to be made by Nov. 27. Ticket prices are $10.50 for adults, $5 for children (age 5 and under). Reservations may be made by calling Jeanette Lindberg at 824-6678, Julie Cashman at 680-1793 or Linda Holden at 540-8064, evenings.

Adler to feature railroad songs

Folk songster, raconteur, and songwriter Larry Penn returns to Libertyville for a David Adler Cultural Center concert on Saturday, Nov. 19 at 8 p.m. The concert will be held at the new Libertyville Civic Center at 135 W. Church.

Penn's elegantly simple songs and engaging stage banter are permeated with his experiences from a 30-plus year career as a teamster and his lifelong fascination with railroads and hoboes.

Admission to the concert is $8 for adults, $5 for members, seniors and children under 16. For ticket information call 367-0707.

WHERE TO EAT OUT

FEATURE OF THE WEEK

Yan's Hunan Inn has great food in two locations

Yan's Hunan Inn, both I and II is "the" place to go when you are craving Chinese food in Lake County. Luncheon specials, family dinners, combination plates, and formal entrees combine to make a veritable feast for diners.

Lunch begins at 11 a.m. at Yan's Hunan Inn. The restaurants boast 20 specials which include hot and spicy dishes, meatless dishes, and old-time favorites. All specials include a choice of hot and sour, wonton, or egg drop soup, and are served with white rice.

Combination plates feature a choice of soup, and are served with fried rice and an egg roll. Spare ribs, sweet and sour pork or chicken, beef chop suey, chicken or pork egg foo young, and shrimp with lobster sauce are just a few of the featured items.

There is a huge selection of dinner delights to choose from. Several of the dishes are hot and spicy, but Yan's Hunan Inn will alter the spice according to your taste. House dinners cost $15.95 per person and include a glass of house wine, soup, an appetizer, a choice from 13 main entrees, and dessert.

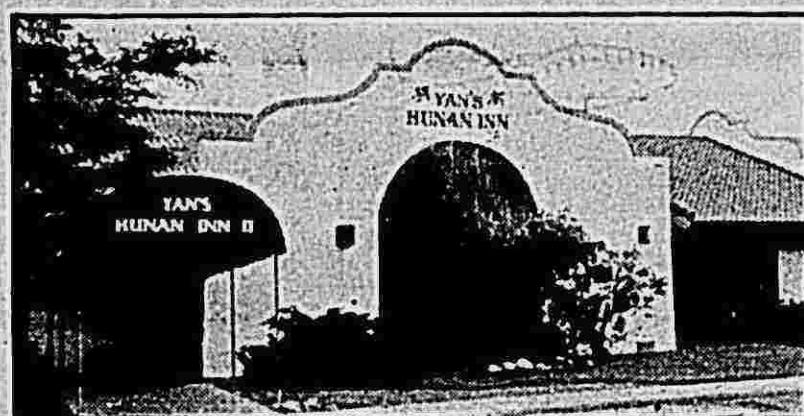

The sliced beef with scallions is absolutely delicious and the flowery chicken is out-of-this-world. Some of the spicy dishes include sliced prawns with garlic sauce, the Hunan beef, lamb with spicy and tangy sauce, and General Ching's chicken. For dessert, try the stuffed honey banana that comes with the meal.

Families are not left out at Yan's Hunan Inn. This great bargain costs $11 per person and includes from one to three main course selections with many sides. Families are offered a choice of soup, appetizers, and for dessert, an almond cookie.

Yan's has a number of house specialties priced from $7.95 to $15.95. The "Sizzling Three Musketeers" includes fresh scallops, sliced prawns and beef served with assorted vegetables prepared in the chef's special sauce and served on a hot plate. The house special beef, one of the spicier selections, is deep fried tender sliced beef that is crispy on the outside and tender in the middle. The beef is sautéed with orange peels, and has a sweet and spicy flavor.

The restaurant also offers more traditional Chinese fare including chow mein, chop suey, egg foo young, lo mein, fried rice, and vegetable dishes. Other favorites include sweet and sour chicken, seafood dishes, pork dishes, and beef and lamb selections.

Yan's Hunan Inn has two locations at 100 N. Milwaukee Avenue in Libertyville (816-6988) and at 911 Lakehurst Road in Waukegan (473-1660). The hours for both locations are 11 a.m. to 10 p.m. Sunday through Thursday and 11 a.m. to 11 p.m. on Friday and Saturday.

Good Food Time to talk turkey, Butterball continues hotline

CLAUDIA M. LENART
Regional Editor

Don't panic while preparing your Thanksgiving dinner. Butterball is continuing its holiday tradition with the Butterball Turkey Talk Line staffed by 46 professionally trained home economists and nutritionists. Just call 1-800-323-4848. Hearing and speech impaired consumers can call the Talk Line at 1-800-TDD-3848.

And now for a more traditional stuffing with a twist, from cookbook author Sarah Chase.

Multi-grain, onion, pecan, raisin stuffing
8 cups multi-grain bread cubes
1/2 cup apple juice or apple brandy
3/4 cup golden raisins
1/3 cup olive oil
1 large onion, chopped
3 cloves garlic, minced
2 cups coarsely chopped celery
1 1/2 cups pecan halves, lightly

toasted and coarsely chopped
2 tps. crumbled dried sage
1 tsp. dried thyme leaves
1 tsp. fennel seeds
1 cup minced fresh parsley
1 1/2 to 2 cups chicken or turkey broth
1 egg lightly beaten
Salt and freshly ground pepper to taste

Preheat the oven to 275 degrees. Lay the bread cubes out in a single layer in a large roasting pan. Bake, stirring from time to time, until the cubes are dried out, but not toasted, 25 minutes or until dry. Meanwhile combine the apple juice or brandy with the raisins in a small saucepan. Bring to a boil, remove from heat and let stand for at least 15 minutes.

Heat the oil in a large skillet over medium-high heat. Add the onion, garlic and celery and sauté until the vegetables are soft, 12 to 15 minutes. In a large mixing bowl, combine the dried bread cubes, raisin mixture and sautéed vegetables. Mix in the pecans and season with sage with sage, thyme, fennel and parsley. Moisten the stuffing with the broth and bind loosely with the beaten egg. Season to taste with salt and pepper.

Stuff the turkey cavities immediately before roasting. Place any remaining stuffing in a buttered casserole and bake at 325 degrees until browned and crunchy, about 45 minutes.

Horoscope

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) It's a week to exercise initiative where business interests are concerned. Guard against careless mistakes regarding money. Be careful not to misplace a credit card. Someone new and exciting comes into your life this weekend.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) You couldn't find a better week for travel and self-promotion. However, if you want things done, it's best to do them yourself. Others may not be fulfilling their obligations, causing an additional burden on you. Address this problem immediately.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) Be careful not to arrive at an incorrect conclusion regarding a job concern. Don't let wishful thinking mar your judgment. You profit from research and study. A close friend has some good advice for you.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) The week does not favor gambling or financial risk-taking. However, couples are enthusiastic about mutual interests. You'll be happily making plans together. In fact, it's a wonderful time to renew and restore romantic feelings.

LEO (July 23 to August 22) Your take-charge attitude this week wins the respect of superiors and brings you success in business. Don't let a jealous co-worker try to spoil this. This person has done nothing to deserve like treatment.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) You're not one to procrastinate as a rule, but you could forget an important detail or appointment. Guard against being absent-minded this week. This weekend, socializing leads to happy times and interesting introductions.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) Try not to be careless with money this week. It's an ideal time for beginning new domestic projects since the holidays will be here before you know it. Harmony reigns at home. This weekend, you may have to play peacemaker.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) While at home, you could misplace something of importance. Doing something new together will revitalize your relationship with a close tie. It's a good time to take some inventory and change your day-to-day routines.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) Think before you speak this week or you may inadvertently let the cat out of the bag. This could lead to a betrayed confidence and hurt feelings. You'll be making important headway toward the realization of a career goal.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) You may not quite understand why a friend is a bit envious today but agonizing over it will do no good. Just let this run its course and it will pass eventually. The weekend is good for paying visits to family.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) In business, you could be taking something for granted or overlooking an important detail. Accent practicality. Don't overshoot the mark. Place the accent on home life this weekend and family activities that promote togetherness.

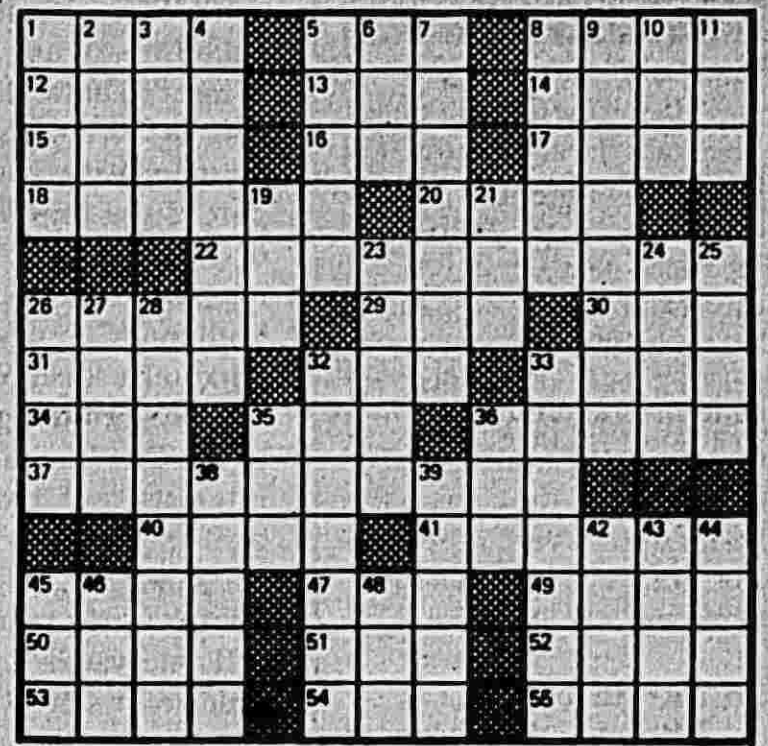

PISCES (February 19 to March 20) A story making the rounds has no basis in fact, yet you have a tendency to believe it because you somehow want to believe the worst of that person. Try to be more objective and examine your own motives before passing on this lie.

Fireplace safety tips from ComEd

As temperatures drop and the holiday season approaches, thousands of fireplaces will be lit by homeowners and apartment dwellers, seeking warmth and savings on their heating bills. While these are two good reasons for lighting a fireplace, caution must be taken to avoid accidents.

Each year an estimated 6,000 people receive emergency care treatment for injuries sustained while working around fireplaces, according to the U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission. Most of these injuries are cuts and bruises caused by handling wood, irons and other equipment.

The more serious injuries, however, are burns sustained by children. Below are some suggestions for avoiding mishaps:

- Before lighting a fireplace, check to see if it was constructed for use as a fireplace or merely for decoration. Also, have the fireplace inspected to determine whether it has all the necessary linings and clearances.
- Avoid the use of flammable liquids to rekindle a fire. The liquid vapors can cause an explosion traveling the length of a room.

- Always keep the damper open while the fuel is burning. This provides for efficient burning and prevents the accumulation of explosive gases.

- Avoid using coal, charcoal or styro-foam packaging in a fireplace, because they can produce deadly quantities of carbon monoxide.

- Avoid stacking artificial logs (made from sawdust and wax) on top of one another, as you would with wood logs. If artificial logs are stacked on top of each other, they can cause an explosion.

- Keep the telephone number of your physician and/or the nearest Poison Control Center nearby. If any of these possible hazardous substances are consumed, call for help immediately.

- Before starting a fire, remove all holiday decorations from the area and open the flue.

- Never use the fireplace as an incinerator for burning trash or other debris. Gift wrapping paper and evergreen boughs can burn suddenly and rapidly, throwing off sparks. Dispose of wrapping paper immediately.

Homeowners and apartment dwellers across ComEd's northern Illinois service territory will enjoy the warmth and good cheer of a fireplace this fall and winter season. Following the suggestions mentioned above will make this a safe as well as pleasurable experience.

Festival of Trees offers range of children's fun

Children from throughout Lake County are invited to visit "Frosty's Fantasyland" and enjoy special holiday activities designed with them in mind. It is part of the third annual Festival of Trees celebration taking place now through Sunday, Nov. 20, at Midlane Country Club, 14565 Yorkhouse Road, Wadsworth.

"We have designed a number of fun-filled holiday activities to interest children ages three through 12," says Linda Schueneman, Frosty's Fantasyland chairman.

Fantasyland is set up on the order of a school fun fair. Each activity requires a different number of tickets to participate and the tickets are available for 25 cents each. There are adult volunteers at each booth to assist children in completing activities.

Among the children's activities scheduled for this year are favorites like face painting, cookie decorating, holiday button making, and pasta necklace creating. Children can also enjoy coloring festive pictures. And, they always delight in a visit with the "Pocket Lady" to receive small trinkets while at Fantasyland.

Another favorite activity of young visitors to the Festival of Trees will be the "Teddy Bear Brunch with Santa." A delicious menu with children's appetites in mind will be served. Santa will make a special appearance along with Mrs. Claus for this special family meal. Attendance at the Teddy Bear Brunch also includes admission to the Festival of Trees.

"Because this has been such a popular part of the Festival of Trees, we are providing two opportunities for children to visit with Santa," says Verna Bellios, Teddy Bear Brunch co-chairman.

The Teddy Bear Brunch will be held at 10:30 a.m. on Saturday, Nov. 19 and again at 12:30 p.m. on Sunday, Nov. 20, at Midlane Country Club. Children must be accompanied by an adult at the Teddy Bear Brunch. Seating is limited to 350 per brunch and tickets are available only through advance sales. Tickets are on sale for $7 per person at the Victory Memorial Hospital Cashiers Office located on the first floor, 1324 North Sheridan Road, Waukegan. They may be purchased between 7:30 a.m. and 6:30 p.m., Monday through Friday, and 9 a.m. and 4:30 p.m., Saturday.

For more information on any of these activities, call Victory Memorial Hospital's Development Department at 1-800-THE CHOICE.

Victory Lakes joins long-term care association

Victory Lakes Continuing Care Center, a 120-bed skilled nursing facility, Lindenhurst, is a member of the newly formed Life Services Network of Illinois.

Formerly known as the Illinois Assn. of Homes for the Aging, Life Services Network was reorganized to better reflect the diversification and programs its members represent.

With offices in Hinsdale and Springfield, the association represents 300 member organizations that provide nursing services, retirement housing, assisted living and community services to over 35,000 older adults residing in Illinois.

"As part of the Life Services Network, Victory Lakes has the additional support needed to continue to meet the changing needs of the different populations we serve. Our dedication to changes as approved by the membership.

The changes enhance Life Services' effectiveness in better quality care is enhanced by our professional affiliation with this association," said Mary Riggs, Victory Lakes administrator.

Dennis Bozzi, president of Life Services Network of Illinois, is excited about the organization's responding to member needs and are not a departure from the historical mission of IAHA.

"There has been no change in our goals or in the quality of care our members represent. We are retooling to meet the challenges of a rapidly changing healthcare environment. We feel renewed," says Bozzi.

The name change to Life Services Network of Illinois was approved on Oct. 5 at the membership meeting of the IAHA's Fall Conference and Exhibition in Peoria.

It is effective immediately. Life Services Network of Illinois is an affiliate of the American Assn. of Homes and Services for the Aging located in Washington, D.C.

Victory Lakes has been an active member in IAHA, now Life Services Network of Illinois, since 1986. Mar Riggs' involvement includes serving as the network's district chair and treasurer.

Seminar will help you enjoy the holidays

The holiday season is a time of peace and contentment. Not always. Today, many of us find the joys of the holidays overshadowed by the pressure to "get it all done" and the knowledge that with all the partying, we are bound to gain five pounds or more before we are done. It doesn't have to be that way.

Victory Memorial Hospital invites the community to a free pre-holiday seminar, "Resolutions for a Happy Holiday" from 7 to 9 p.m., Wednesday, Nov. 30 at the Victory Health Care Center, Walden Square, 100 North Atkinson Rd., Grayslake. The program is designed to help everyone enjoy the holiday season more by reducing stress and the chance of unwanted weight gains.

Greer Fish, R.N., M.S., cardiac rehabilitation nurse; Paula Junkert, M.S., exercise physiologist; and Sue Lorber, R.D., dietitian; will discuss ways of managing holiday stress, the role of exercise in managing a healthy, happy lifestyle, and how to avoid tasty temptations without feeling deprived.

To register for this free program, call 1-800-THE CHOICE, between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m., Monday through Friday.

Abbott licenses new drug

Abbott Laboratories has signed a licensing agreement with Orion Corp. (Espoo, Finland) for the rights to develop and market dexmedetomidine, an alpha-2 agonist discovered by Orion. Alpha-2 agonists are a new class of drugs under investigation for the purpose of relieving physiological stress during and after surgery.

Abbott has been granted exclusive worldwide rights for dexmedetomidine, with the exception of Scandinavia, where Orion retains exclusive rights. Both companies will manufacture the finished product.

Dexmedetomidine has been investigated by Orion Pharma, the pharmaceutical division of Orion Corp., as an anesthetic adjunct in clinical trials. Results of these studies indicate that dexmedetomidine may have unique characteristics which may benefit patients during and after surgery. It has been shown to stabilize hemodynamic responses to stressful stimuli during anesthesia and surgery. Dexmedetomidine also has been shown to decrease the amount of anesthetic and analgesic drugs needed during and after surgery. Preliminary studies also indicate that dexmedetomidine may reduce the incidence and severity of perioperative myocardial ischemia caused by surgical stress.

Church conference held at area EHS affiliated hospitals

"The Cost of Compassion—Reclaiming the Church's Healing Ministry," was the main topic at the Fox Valley Assn. of the Illinois Conference of the United Church of Christ, which was held simultaneously at both EHS Good Shepherd Hospital, Barrington and EHS Good Samaritan, Downers Grove. Close to 100 ministers and lay persons from the Fox Valley Assn., which ranges from as far north as Waukegan to south of Downers Grove, attended.

Sponsored by EHS Health Care, the day-long program featured speakers on nine different areas and allowed for interactive participation between the two hospitals through an audio/video hookup using digital telephone lines. The nine workshops covered topics on home health, the parish nurse, health care reform and its impacts, the church and its aging population, ethics on the end of life, community health needs and programs; mind, body and spirit in wellness; mental health issues for the church and the Hospice and the church.

The Rev. Finley Brown, vice-president of religion and health for EHS Good Shepherd Hospital, was the keynote speaker who spoke on the evangelism of Jesus through his healing ministry and how ministers and churches of today can follow Jesus' lead by reaching out to parishioners and communities to meet their ongoing health needs.

"Compassion is our common mandate and the order of the day," said Rev. Brown. "In the hospital arena, we are being challenged to cut costs in every way possible, but an even bigger challenge is not to cut, but rather increase quality and compassion in all of our endeavors. Compassion is a hallmark value in EHS Health Care."

Brown referred to the continuing endeavors that the churches and the hospitals are striving to attain in this complex and confusing time in health care. Brown stated that rather than try and pin the blame for the health care crisis on everyone from politicians to drug companies to insurance companies, churches and congregations must be gearing up to confront the issues and how they can directly aid people who are in the midst of pain—physical, emotional and spiritual.

"Our concern with being compassionate disciples can come about through three major categories, including Ministry to Systems, Pastoral Care Ministry and Ministry to the Community," said Brown. He noted that the blending together of the two traditions of care through the current merger of the United Church of Christ's EHS Health Care and Lutheran General Hospital will create a healthcare system that will impact the whole Chicagoland area.

"A solid portion of its leadership comes through the churches," emphasized Brown. He added that it is part of the heritage of the two faiths in taking care of both the health and spiritual needs of its people.

Brown said that meeting their congregations' needs can be done through a pastoral care ministry. Such programs as the parish nurse program, the ministry of care groupings and Hospice, which can assist persons with longer recovery times at home. Stressing healthier life styles that address both the mind and body connection should also be part of the new healing agenda.

The conference was designed to ensure that hospitals are intimately linked with the United Church of Christ in those places where the hospital and churches come together in a variety of health care treatments, methods and issues and how they impact the membership of church congregations.

Victory Health Care Center gets mammography accreditation

The Victory Health Care Center, 100 N. Atkinson Rd., Grayslake, has received approval as a mammography site by the American College of Radiology's Mammography Accreditation Program. The three-year accreditation is awarded because the facility passed a stringent review by a panel of breast cancer-detection experts, in addition to meeting other requirements. American College of Radiology reviewers evaluated the center on a number of criteria, including: staff qualifications, equipment, quality control and quality assurance programs. To receive accreditation, the quality of the mammogram image and the amount of radiation emitted are measured and must meet rigid standards.

In the six years since the accreditation program began, only 6,000 facilities nationwide have received accreditation. The program began in response to concerns by radiologists, other medical organizations and the general public that only qualified personnel perform and interpret mammograms and that only equipment specifically designed for mammography be used. The program's goal is to ensure women receive the best mammographic examination with the lowest possible risk.

One in nine women will develop breast cancer in her lifetime. Early detection is the key to survival. Mammography, performed in conjunction with breast physical examinations, provides the most accurate diagnosis of early breast cancer.

Warning signs of Alzheimer's disease

Forgetting where you put your keys is normal. Forgetting that your keys start your car is not normal, and could be a sign of Alzheimer's disease. According to the Chicago Area Chapter of the Alzheimer's Assn., many people wrongly assume that memory loss, decline in mental abilities, disorientation and even bizarre behavior are a normal part of the aging process. They actually may be symptoms of Alzheimer's disease, requiring a physician's assessment and care.

The Chicago Area Chapter of the Alzheimer's Assn. is part of a nationwide educational campaign to increase public awareness, called "Is It Alzheimer's? Ten Warning Signs." November is National Alzheimer's Disease Month, and the campaign will also include public service announcements, educational materials and community outreach.

"There is a strong need for people to recognize the signs of Alzheimer's disease, said Kent Barnheiser, executive director of the Chicago Area Chapter. "The main goal is this campaign is to help people understand that Alzheimer's disease is not normal aging. There are an estimated 100,000 Alzheimer's patients throughout Cook, DuPage, Kane and Lake counties. It is our hope that this education campaign will reach a large percentage of the Chicagoland community."

The Alzheimer's Assn. has developed a checklist of ten warning signs to help identify early warning signs of dementia. People who know someone who exhibits these symptoms, or experiences the symptoms themselves, should see a physician.

1. Recent memory loss that affects job performance.
2. Difficulty performing familiar tasks.
3. Problems with language.
4. Disorientation of time and place.
5. Poor or decreased judgment.

6. Problems with abstract thinking.
7. Misplacing things.
8. Changes in mood or behavior.
9. Changes in personality.
10. Loss of initiative.

The Chicago Area Chapter of the Alzheimer's Assn. provides a Information/Support Line telephone information and referral service, 49 Family Support Groups throughout the four-county area, the Alzheimer's Family Care Center, the first day care center specifically created for Alzheimer's victims in Chicagoland, respite aide training programs and respite assistance for family members, an extensive education and referral network and advocacy on behalf of patients and families.

Stress management workshop held

"Stress affects everyone and most of us live with it every day," explains John Jochem, Psy.D.

"In fact, not all stress is bad. There are times when stress can actually be beneficial and provide the extra courage or energy to handle a difficult situation. But, prolonged stress can upset the biochemical balances in an individual making the person more susceptible to diseases.

"There is mounting scientific evidence linking stress to heart disease, cancer, headaches, stomach problems, arthritis, alcoholism and even acne. For example, every week more than 112 million individuals will take medicine for a stress-related illness," Dr. Jochem points out.

"The most important thing to remember is that stress can be controlled through exercise, diet and relaxation. Individuals under severe stress may require professional help," he adds.

To help individuals learn more about stress and how to cope with it, St. Therese Medical Center, 2615 Washington St., Waukegan, is sponsoring a day-long stress management workshop on Dec. 3 from 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

Clean air in home can save lives

Radon continues to be a deadly source of indoor air pollution, and the American Lung Assn. of Illinois is urging all residents to test their homes.

Radon is the second leading cause of lung cancer, responsible for thousands of deaths each year in the U.S. Radon is a radioactive gas that comes from the natural breakdown of radium, which is a decay product of uranium. Uranium and radium are both common elements in the soil. Exposure to radon in combination with cigarette smoking significantly increases the risk of lung cancer, therefore, for smokers, exposure to radon is a serious health risk.

According to the Environmental Protection Agency, as many as six million homes in the U.S. have elevated levels of radon. "Any home may have a radon problem," explained Lori Younker, deputy managing director for program and field services for the American Lung Assn. of Illinois. "If there is a strong source of radon in the soil underneath the home, the gas can enter the building a few ways, including through cracks in the foundation floor and walls, and through openings around floor drains, pipes and sump pumps," she said.

And, according to the Illinois Dept. of Nuclear Safety, because radon is a colorless and odorless, a radon test is the only way to determine whether or not dangerous levels of radon are present in the home. Radon testing firms can also test homes. Radon problems have been identified in every state, and nationwide tests are being conducted to identify the extent and magnitude of the problem.

"Do-it-yourself test kits are quick, easy and inexpensive and Radon Action Week is the perfect opportunity to try to improve the air in your home and protect your family," Younker said. "If a problem is identified, don't panic. Radon problems can be easily corrected," she explained. A variety of methods can be used to correct elevated radon levels, including sealing cracks in floors and walls, and changing the flow of air into the home.

Call the American Lung Assn. office at 1-800-586-4872 to get more information about radon and on how to purchase a short-term testing kit.

Old Navy Clothing bridges the price gap

NEAL TUCKER
Staff Reporter

When the economy began its slow rebound, economic analysts were surprised that consumer spending habits seemed to have changed. Most notably, people in general were no longer coming after the big ticket item like they once had during each economic upturn, no matter how slight those upturns were.

Once again, the consumer has proven that old axiom about being right. The saying implies that the customer decides which products and service will succeed. San Francisco-based Gap, Inc. believes it has found that formula for success with a new Gurnee store that opened in October.

Old Navy Clothing Co., located in the Grand Hunt Center at the corner of Grand Ave. and Hunt Club Rd., markets itself as Gap-like quality for the entire family at affordable prices. Old Navy achieves this paradoxical goal by trimming overhead and concentrating on letting the quality and price of the product to sell itself.

That is not to imply the Old Navy Clothing store is reminiscent of walking into a barn. The stores are neatly organized with wide aisles, efficient signage and frugal decor. A buying experience in the store more closely resembles supermarket shopping. Because of the overhead cost-cutting, Gap officials say customers can expect as much as 40 percent savings from Gap's retail prices.

Old Navy Clothing is Gap Inc.'s answer to discount retailers who have been steadily taking bites out of Gap's market dominance. After becoming the second largest apparel brand in the country behind Levi's, low-priced imitators flooded the market and threatened Gap's lofty perch.

Even though the store portends to have Gap quality at discount prices—80 percent of the store's vast selection of merchandise is sold for $22 or less—it does not anticipate robbing customers from Gap stores and its other siblings, GapKids and Banana Republic Stores. Instead, Old Navy Clothing is heading straight for the moderate to lower income consumer that typically shops Gap emulators, which are primarily the major discount retailing chains.

Naturally, Gap hopes they have defined their market niche well with the new venture. If so, analysts predict Old Navy Clothing Co. can generate as much as $240 million annually with a core group of 80 stores.

Gap intends to have 40 stores open nation-wide by the end of 1994 with two of those planned for Schaumburg and Broadview. Thirty stores are already open nationwide including one in Morton Grove and the newest location across from Gurnee Mills Mall.

Shoppers plan to spend more on gifts this holiday season

Approximately one out of every three Chicago- and Milwaukee-area residents plans to give more expensive gifts this holiday season than they did last year, according to a new study commissioned by Gurnee Mills Mall. National figures for the same period a year ago indicated that only 15 percent of shoppers were planning to buy more than the previous holiday season. The new Gurnee Mills study revealed that purse strings of Chicago area residents are loosening as 29 percent plan to buy more than last year. In Milwaukee, 31 percent plan to spend more.

The research also indicated that approximately one out of every four persons polled in the study plans to shop during the holidays at Gurnee Mills Mall.

"We're pleased, but not surprised, that people want to do their holiday shopping with us," said Harry D. Stecher, general manager of the mall. "During the holiday season and throughout the year, shoppers enjoy the challenge of getting the best deals they can."

The research also indicates that gender affects holiday purchase plans. Men plan to spend more on major gifts than women.

Among men polled, the average expenditure being considered for their major gift is $256, compared to the $200 women say they will spend. Even though Halloween decorations may just be coming down and only 4 to 5 percent of shoppers have actually begun their holiday shopping, nearly 75 percent already know what their major gift purchases will be.

The study revealed that the major gift is most often a personal item. Seventeen percent of those polled expect their major gift to be clothing; 10 percent said toys, including electronic toys and bikes; and 4 percent said they will purchase jewelry.

Among gifts for the household, the most frequently cited gifts were home electronics (14 percent) and computers (3 percent.)

"It's obvious that shoppers in Chicago and Milwaukee plan to purchase a wide variety of gifts this holiday season," stated Stecher. "The product mix at Gurnee Mills Mall is a mirror image of their buying plans. Whether shoppers are searching for jewelry, clothing, housewares or electronics, we've got it—and at prices that can't be beat."

Gurnee Mills Mall is located at the intersection of I-94 and Rte. 132 (Grand Ave.) in Gurnee.

Buy-sell agreement ensures survival of small business

Many business owners and their families have discovered the hard way that an essential survival tool for a closely held business is a buy-sell agreement. Such an agreement between the owners of a company allows for a smooth transfer of ownership upon the death or disability of one of the owners. Planning ahead for occurrences such as these can minimize business risk.

There are two basic kinds of buy-sell agreements—nonfunded and funded. This column will focus on nonfunded buy-sell agreements. A future column will discuss the various ways to fund a buy-sell agreement.

Owners may be underestimating their importance to the business by not protecting it in the event of their death or disability. The business would suffer from a loss in productivity, while the remaining partners could still be paying a percentage of the profits to the heirs. The company might not survive such a shift in responsibility and loss of resources.

Buy-sell agreements ensure that the stock of a deceased or withdrawing shareholder will not be sold to an outside third party before the other shareholders have a chance to buy it. Without a buy-sell agreement, the heirs of the deceased can technically sell their shares of the business to anyone, including family members of the deceased, parties who are not qualified to run the business or even to the competition. Important decisions like hiring and firing, changing salary levels, as well as when to pay dividends, could be influenced by forces outside of the remaining partners' control.

A buy-sell agreement can provide a market for the stock of each shareholder in the event of death, disability or retirement. It can be used to establish the value of the business for the IRS and for estate planning purposes. Therefore, these factors have important tax implications for business owners.

Preparing a business valuation helps in the estate planning process. Without a business valuation or a formula for calculating the business value, the IRS will tax the estate on the basis of its own business valuation, which can be more costly. Normally businesses use a general business valuation model to calculate the value. The buy-sell agreement should recommend that the valuation be updated on an annual basis.

Although a nonfunded buy-sell agreement should answer as many questions as possible, including:

- Setting a time frame for the transference of ownership.
- Naming the key owners and specifying each one's percentage of ownership.
- Outlining all privileges and rights granted to key owners.

Disability issues can be even more complicated than an owner's death. Statistics show that individuals are almost always more likely to become disabled than they are to die. A disabled owner may still be legally entitled to receive a salary.

As a result, the business may suffer the loss of a productive employee and the corresponding loss in revenue he or she generated. It may be possible to hire a replacement for the disabled owner. However, then the business will be paying for two people while only receiving the work of one. How long can be business and its remaining owners afford to do this?

For all of these reasons, it is important to include the issue of disability in the buy-sell agreement. For the maximum benefit, the agreement may often state that if an owner is disabled for more than a specified number of months, the disabled owner will agree to sell the company back to the remaining owners.

New income stream for older homeowners

To live a lifestyle that you are accustomed to, financial planners say a person needs to start saving 38 percent of their net income beginning in their late 30s or 40s. Such a need confirms what many of us already know—financial security in retirement years is questionable.

The FHA Home Equity Conversion Mortgage Program, better known as a reverse mortgage, backed by the U.S. Dept. of Housing and Urban Development, could promise to be a dream come true for older adult homeowners wanting extra income. The program allows homeowners 62 years of age or older to translate home equity into indispensable income based on a homeowners age and the value of their home. Monthly income, line of credit cash reserves and variations of the two are available payment options to the homeowner. The program promises a solvent retirement income base with no repayment until the homeowner no longer resides in their home.

Sounds too good to be true? Here are some consumer protections that are incorporated into the program:

•Counseling. The program requires homeowners to attend a free, confidential session with a trained housing specialist other than the lender. Independent and objective information is provided to homeowners to assist their decision making.

•Mortgage insurance. Simply, a guarantee the homeowner will never owe more than the value of their home, no matter how long they are in the program, or even if their eventual balance exceeds

Ameritech awards job training grant

The Ameritech Foundation has announced it will award $97,500 to SER, Jobs for Progress, to fund short-term job readiness training for low-income residents of Lake County.

Ameritech presented a check to SER for the first installment, $32,500, this week. On hand for the presentation at Gurnee's Grand Palace Restaurant were Waukegan Mayor Bill Durkin, Jan Edgar, president of United Way of Lake County, Pat Cox of the Private Industry Council of Lake County and representatives from the offices of Congressman John Porter and State Sen. Adeline Geo-Karis.

The grant, payable over three years, depending on results achieved, also will help fund SER's literacy and basic skills initiatives and training programs for technology-based jobs, according to Penny Lacy, Ameritech external relations manager.

The grant is part of a total award of $855,000 Ameritech has pledged to SER, Jobs for Progress. The balance will fund similar programs in Chicago, Detroit and the Bay City-Midland-Saginaw area of Michigan.

SER, which is an acronym for "service, employment and redevelopment," provides employability development and improvement programs, basic skills upgrading, literacy training and jobs for the unemployed.

Occupation-specific training includes clerical and word processing skills, computerized accounting and bookkeeping and office administrative skills.

"We're delighted that Ameritech will partner with SER to assist low-income persons who have a demonstrated need, but who otherwise would be denied training because their income is above the federal poverty level," said Gary R. Thompson, chairman of the board of SER of Lake County.

Ameritech, one of the world's largest communications companies, helps more than 13 million customers keep in touch. The company provides a wide array of local phone, data and video services in Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, Ohio and Wisconsin. Ameritech is creating dozens of new information, entertainment and interactive services for homes, businesses and governments around the world.

One of the world's leading cellular companies, Ameritech serves more than one million cellular and half a million paging customers, and holds cellular interests in Norway and Poland. Ameritech owns interests in telephone companies in New Zealand and Hungary and in business directories in Germany and other countries. Nearly one million investors hold Ameritech (NYSE: AIT) shares.

Fox Lake Harbor wins award

Fox Lake Harbor has accomplished a feat to be proud of.

Over the summer the marina on Grand Ave. was awarded "The Best of the Best" citation at a nationwide ceremony in Nashville, Tenn. by the Brunswick Corporation.

According to the amount of boats sold as well as customer service, the award was granted to the marina. Jim Moulis of Fox Lake Harbor said the award encompasses everyone at the business "from the guy who unloads the boat off the truck to the seller to the man who services them."

Many from the Moulis clan attended the dealer convention which lasted for four days. Professional speakers held seminars for the dealers, and on one evening, Country & Western star Lorrie Morgan gave a dazzling performance.

A large framed collage picture showing 150 years of service by Brunswick was also given to the Moulis family for their "outstanding performance."

Brunswick makes many of the boats that are sold at Fox Lake Harbor, including outboard motors by Mercury and Force; and inboard-outboard motors by Mercruiser; as well as Quicksilver inflatable boats and accessories.

Jim Moulis likes to term his family-owned 42-year-old business as a "full service marina" where boats are stored, repairs are made and vessels are sold. Right now, Moulis said he has pier space available at the marina.

Fox Lake Harbor is open year round and the biggest selling season is from Jan. 1 on through Labor Day. The marina sells a large number of used boats as well as new.—by TINA SWIECH

Effort for new concept in retailing art

In 1987, Nathan Harpaz moved from Israel to the U.S. with his wife, a Chicago native. In Israel, Harpaz was involved in the museum field. He was a curator and then a director of one of the Tel-Aviv art museums. He also was teaching at the Tel-Aviv University and published several articles on art and architecture in magazines in Israel and Europe.

When he had arrived in Chicago, Harpaz started a new direction and got involved in the business aspect of art. He was an art consultant and later gallery director at galleries in Chicago.

In 1992, after the chain gallery's corporation he was working for went out of business, he decided to establish a new retailing art idea. He combined educational elements—from his former experience—to the art business.

Harpaz participated in the SEED program of entrepreneurial training and at the same time founded his own company, Nathan Fine Arts.

Harpaz offers consulting to collectors, corporations, designers and art fans, produces art shows for nonprofit organizations and publishes a newsletter providing tips on different aspects of collecting art. He also teaches a course, "The Art of Collecting Fine Art," at the College of Lake County. He has selected a few artists to represent reflections of multi-cultural backgrounds—Israeli, African American, Russian and Yugoslavian.

The opening of Art Smart Gallery is a step ahead to achieve Harpaz' goal of educating the public through the art business field. The gallery intends to provide knowledge, service, affordability and reliability.

—MURPHY ON REAL ESTATE—

Winterizing home does save

Cold weather poses certain problems for vacant or seldom used properties. Besides security issues, some planning now can alleviate costly repairs later.

Many owners feel that there is no need to winterize a property if the heat remains on during the winter duration. Most of the time with the heat on low, there should be no problems, however there are those occasions that the utilities could fail and then major problems begin. Even if you are prudent and check the premises one to two times a week, think about investing a few dollars and having the home professionally winterized for added protection. Heating elements can burn out whenever they please, leaving your property unprotected during the below zero times of the winter.

The winterization process varies, but can include blowing out water lines so freezing expansion is eliminated. Toilet bowls have the water replaced with anti-freeze products to prevent freezing and cracking in the event of heat loss. Hot water heaters are drained and the water is shut off within the structure. The process can take up to two hours depending on the size of the home and is relatively an inexpensive means to avoid major problems in the event of a heating failure.

Winterized property still needs heat to keep the plaster, paint or wall-paper from deteriorating, as condensation cannot be controlled and damages can be intensified through out the property.

If the home is offered for sale without heat or electric, there are other drawbacks. As winter months offer less daylight hours, it is tough showing a home to an interested buyer with little or no lighting. When the temperature inside is uncomfortably chilly, the buyer will not spend as much time in the home if it feels cold and damp. Demonstrating the property effectively without heat or electric is more difficult when trying to interest a prospective buyer.

Without running water in the home, any light mopping to remove slush and salt will require bringing water in for periodic cleaning.

This is also a good time to let prospects know about your insulation factors. If you have spent the time, energy and money in additional insulation, include this information on your fact sheet. Most buyers and agents will not check out crawls and attics on their first inspection to see the extra insulation. Displaying upgrades and leaving several brochure copies in the home informs the buyer of seller extras.

Putting plastic on windows and doors may give the impression that the home is drafty. Keep utility averages on display to let the prospect know you are practicing energy consciousness. If it is absolutely necessary then be sure to remove plastic coverings as early as possible in the spring.

Fall is a great time to put in the window panels on your storm doors and repair worn weather stripping. Remove any debris or clutter and dead flowers from the yard. Neatly pile summer lawn furniture and be sure that shutters and light fixtures are clean and secure. Remove wasp nests so spring showings do not require dodging risky insects.

Winter poses other weather related problems as well. Without daily care, snow and ice build up on walks and stoops making showings slippery and dangerous. Getting your car stuck in an unplowed driveway does not leave a good impression with a prospective buyer. Make arrangements with a service or dependable neighbor for routine salting of walks and stoops and snow removal.

Although winterization takes one to two hours, dewaterization can be done much more quickly. If the property is being offered for sale, the prospective buyer will want an inspection conducted on the premises as a contingency to the purchase. This means all the normal functions of the home will be tested, including the plumbing, heating and electrical. Have the water turned back on, and the property de-winterized for proper checking of these functions. Be sure to allow enough time for this procedure to be performed.

Illinois continues export growth

Harris Publishing Company, the nation's leading compiler of manufacturers' databases, says Illinois has increased export activity over the past 12 months.

The good news, according to the 1995 Harris Illinois Manufacturers' Database, is that Illinois took top spot for year-over-year export growth with a 7.5 percent jump in foreign trade activity. However, it lands in third place with only 28.6 percent of its 21,453 manufacturing companies exporting. Yet, says the publisher, everything is working in unison for continued export growth in Illinois, from outstanding research and development, educational offerings, a quality labor force, low tax environment and numerous trade consulates, to a state government with a solid global strategy.

Why the sudden and phenomenal growth in export trade in Illinois?

"Illinois is strategically located to give Illinois businesses an advantage," says Greg Baise, president of the Illinois Manufacturers' Assn. "We have the modes of transportation available to move our products. In addition, Illinois has the perfect mix of agriculture, natural resources and an excellent workforce to be one of the most competitive states in the nation."

Situated in a scenic setting bordered on three sides by parks, Park View will include 142 single-family homes. The community, with affordable pre-construction prices ranging from $134,900 to $162,900, is being developed by DiMucci Development Corp., a builder of custom and semi-custom homes. Models are set for a grand opening in January of 1995. Park View is located on Fairfield Road between Hart and Nippersink Roads in Round Lake. For an appointment to view the homes under construction or for more information call Edward See, sales manager at 740-1090.

Heritage Trails breaks ground

LINDENHURST—A groundbreaking ceremony held at the site of Heritage Trails has formally marked the opening of a new single-family home community in Lindenhurst. Heritage Trails will include a total of 253 single-family homes on spacious homesites in a rural setting. Pre-construction sales are now underway, with homes priced from $156,900 to $186,900. Village officials, representatives of financial institutions and the owners of Gurnee-based Westfield Homes participated in the groundbreaking ceremony, which was held in the front of the property on Grass Lake Road, a quarter mile west of Hwy. 45.

Over half of Teal Bay sold

GRAYSLAKE—Teal Bay, a community of single family homes in Chesapeake Farms in Grayslake has reported sales eclipsing 50 percent. Being developed by Hoffman Estates-based developer Pulte Home Corporation, Chesapeake Farms will include three neighborhoods and a total of more than 650 single-family homes when completed. The three Chesapeake Farms neighborhoods remaining include Woodcreek of Chesapeake Farms with 136 single-family homes priced from $177,990; The Preserves of Chesapeake Farms with 83 homes priced from 234,990 and Teal Bay with 201 single-family homes priced from $149,990. Lipservice is a phone-in column presented as a feature of Lakeland Newspapers. Lakeland Newspapers makes no claim to the authenticity of the statements. Poor 'grammer'

I am tired of hearing about the teachers strike. The board should fire the whole bunch of high school teachers. My kids transferred from a better school. I can't believe how illiterate they are. They don't know how to spell. They don't do math in their heads. When my kids were there—they graduated just two years ago—they came out knowing nothing. I have 21 and 22-year-old children, trying to teach them basic spelling and math so they can get ahead in the job search. We should fire those teachers or pay them what they are worth, which is minimum wage. I also think the Lakeland Newspapers proofreader went to Round Lake Schools, and that is why he/she doesn't know how to spell anything.

Impeding progress

It is fine that the protesters picketing in front of the Round Lake Park District are concerned about the education of children. But please don't impede the progress of the people trying to get in the Park District. There are people who need to get there on time.

For censorship

Children today are not as appreciative as they were in the past. I was one of those kids. Those who have teenagers and cable are the ones I feel the most sorry for. I know censoring is considered unfair but today's music has taken a turn for the worse. MTV has warped the image of America. Parents should take time out to watch MTV and listen to the music their children are listening to. Some of the songs bring out the worst in children and cannot be considered art. It tells the children this world has left them behind or abused them in some way and that society does not care. The final product of these lyrics is violence. Sometimes you need to restrict what teenagers hear when it is not right.

Glorified babysitters

long you would last. I had the unique opportunity of chaperoning a group of freshmen science students on an all day field trip. I have never been so embarrassed to say I was with a group of kids. A small group of jerks ruined it for everyone. They left the McDonalds in a mess. Preschoolers don't even make such a mess. They were rude and disrespectful to every adult present including the speakers. There was more profanity on the bus than on a late night cable comedy show. We were so amazed the profanity came so easily to them. It must be used at home a great deal. If this is what teachers must deal with on a daily basis they earn their salary in babysitting alone. That is not their job. They are there to teach. My 12-year-old just babysat four and a half hours for two children and was paid $20. Calculate that by hours and students and teachers are not even getting a regular sitter's pay.

Softball first

This is to the resident from Deer Pointe Trails in Hainesville who called in to complain about the lights and the parties that go on at night at Softball City. Softball City was there long before they moved into their home. It is a good place for people to go out and have fun. The last game there is at 10 p.m. The lights are never on after 11:30 p.m.

Crying wolf

Who has their finger on the emergency alarm system in Antioch? They go off a couple of times a day. I believe it supposed to be tested once a month. How will anyone know when to respond to an emergency? Also, my office is around the corner from one of those horns and I can't even hear myself think. Did someone declare war on Antioch?

Senatorial help

I want to give special thanks to Senator Peterson and his assistant. For five months, my family tried to get my retarded son into the Kiley Center so he could get the help he needed. We called every social worker and doctor we knew, but no one seemed to be able to do anything. I finally wrote a letter to Senator Peterson's office. His office responded within a few days and my son will now be admitted into Kiley.

Bumper ride

Since Great America is now closed for the season, Avon Township can invite you to its new thrill ride—the bumper ride. Just cross the tracks at Shorewood Rd. It is probably not the Township's fault, but it is a Township Rd. Enjoy the ride.

A place for stuff

I want to know why no one does anything about all the stuff the guy on Larkdale in Wauconda has in his yard.

Teacher insult

The school board put out a flyer that said the Round Lake teachers only work seven and a half hours per day. As a teacher in another district, I find that statement ridiculous. Teachers spend a lot of hours working out of the classroom. I doubt there are teachers in Round Lake only working seven and a half hours per day. For the school board to suggest that is an insult to all dedicated teachers.

Call of virtues

This is about family values. We have a president who endorses alternate lifestyles. He believes we should allow alternate lifestyles in the military. We have a senator in Massachusetts who is a womanizer. Our kids need role models to look up to. They also do not need negative lifestyles pushed on them. Our kids need someone who can teach value, integrity and self esteem. We need to compete with the Japanese. We need someone to teach our kids computers and math. We don't need to teach preschoolers about alternate lifestyles. It's about time we got back on track and stressed family values. It is important to the American way of life.

March on

Congratulations to the Grant marching band on the wonderful job this season. Thanks also to staff members who helped.

Good for the goose

It is that time of year when all the kids are back in school and all the organizations and troops are out knocking on doors, wanting our money. They always have a nice goodie for us too. There is one school in Grayslake where the teachers are requesting the kids don't bring anything in for them to buy. What is good for the goose is good for the gander. I know all the teachers aren't the ones pushing all this stuff to sell, but they do send it home with the kids.

Consistent noise

We all know the train tracks have been here much longer than the homes. We are complaining about the engineers. Just because an engineer comes through your town at 2 a.m. and 4 a.m., they all blow the whistles differently. They should be consistent. Get it out of your heads that we don't believe the tracks were here before us.

Neither cares

I haven't figured out what is worse yet—the school board for not negotiating with the teachers or the teachers for walking out on our students. Neither side seems to care.

Beautiful within

I thank Lakeland Newspapers for printing that beautiful poem in the Antioch News-Reporter titled 'The Cold Within' by James Patrick Kinney. It was absolutely beautiful. I made copies and gave it to all my friends and several customers.

The enforcer

I am a taxpaying citizen in Fox Lake. The code enforcer is not a police officer. He can do things the police cannot do. He can come onto your property and issue tickets for violations he finds. I have complained and I was told by the police that he can do whatever he wishes on your property. I find it difficult to believe this can happen here. From page C7

Fox Lake get off thinking they can do this? I just bought a car a week and a half ago and he jumped my fence and wrote me a ticket for not having a vehicle sticker. Where is the love for the fellow man any more. I am moving out of Fox Lake.

More involvement

I am looking for a resolution soon to the teacher's strike, but not just any resolution. My children have been getting an adequate education to this point but it could be better. If no one tries to change things, it won't happen. As for educating children at home, I don't think parents have a need to panic. If you were involved in the education process in the first place, you shouldn't have any problem reviewing the math and spelling at home. Also, read with your child each day. Go to the library. If you don't have what you want at the Round Lake library, you can use your library card at another library. If there is one good thing that might come from this strike, it would be more parental involvement.

The deer hunters

I am living in a war zone. I live near the border of Barrington and Wauconda, which is near the intersection of Anderson and Rte. 59. We wake up each weekend to gun shots at day break. There are hundreds of gunshots, not just a few. In the hunting season, the shooting stretches into dusk. For the life of me I can't understand why the local police and Lake County police don't do something about it. It will only be a matter of time before a jogger or someone's pet will be seriously hurt. This is no longer rural. It is a residential district and they should be stopped.

Claude cheers

Lakeland Newspapers is starting to slip. It has been a couple of weeks now and there has not been a picture of Claude Le Mere, Antioch's development director in the paper.

Avoiding problems

I find it interesting the mayor of Lake Zurich did not meet with the two newest subdivisions in the village. I don't think I can vote for her at the next election because I think she is avoiding some problems we want straightened out.

Hard time

I saw a picture of a teacher who says she works 70 hours a week. My day starts at 6 a.m. and usually ends at 1 a.m. or 2 a.m. the next morning. That happens seven days a week. I don't get $1,000 for breaking up a fight, or $5,000 for personal injury. I don't get a spring break, two and a half months vacation, time off for Thanksgiving, or a two-week Christmas vacation. Also, I don't get off just about every holiday known to man and some that are unknown such as teacher's institute day. My choice for a career is being a wife/mother in addition to being out there in the work force. I get nowhere near a teacher's salary. It was their choice to become a teacher. If it is so rough, they should find something else to do.

Citizen rights

This has to do with our Second Amendment rights. There is a smart, sharp-tongued little creep out there in Delaware named Sen. Biden who thinks he knows everything. Diane Feinstein thinks assault weapons are a possibility for danger even though she admits they are not used in many crimes. You have a womanizer in Massachusetts running for his political life trying to get elected. Most of these liberal Democrats who have taken the rights away from the common citizens should be voted out. It is about time.

Overtime cops

The gangs are going crazy in Round Lake again with graffiti. I thought the cops were going to take care of the cops. They are spending their time making extra money on overtime at the school strike. That is a bunch of crap.

Picket problems

When I dropped my child off to the Catholic school for catechism, I saw something completely disgusting. The teachers union was picketing there because a board member teaches there. They were standing in everybody's way chanting. Those teachers are not residents of Round Lake because Round Lake people don't act like that.

Open window

I am the nonsmoker in the apartment complex in Antioch. I am responding to the Lipservice call 'Butt out.' I am doing so. But when I can't open my windows without getting pollution, it bothers me. If people want to pollute themselves, they should keep it in their homes and not infringe on me when I open my windows.

Busy updates

Getting through to the hot line for strike updates in Round Lake is almost impossible. The parents of 5,200 school children want to know what is going on. I am tired of hearing the busy signals. Please add some more lines.

Founding fathers

We need politicians like our constitutional founders again. Today's politicians have become like the kings we fought to be free of. I quote Thomas Jefferson, 'A wise and frugal government, which shall restrain men from injuring one another, which shall leave them otherwise free to regulate their own pursuits of industry and improvement, and shall not take from the mouth of labor the bread it has earned.' Also, a liar is a dangerous person who perverts truth and justice. No matter what race, country, or religion they are. It is a terrible thing to be falsely accused, or that a criminal gets away with their crimes by lying. Governments become corrupt when politicians lie. If religions have to lie to preach the gospel, they become polluted.

Taking advantage

I've lived in Antioch for three years and I can see both sides of the train noise issue. The amount of horn blowing has increased. I fail to see why there has to be two continuous pulls on these train horns well through Antioch. I appreciate they took the horns near intersections, but blowing them all through town is out of the question. These engineers have started to take advantage, especially since we started complaining.

Misinformation

My name is Jeff Maratta. I am calling regarding the teacher's strike. I do not believe the teachers union negotiators have not been dealing honestly with their union. I have been getting a lot of information on the picket line and it is false information. One of those rumors is that State Representative Al Salvi has looked at the budget and says the State has funds and has given us everything we want. I called his office and he says he has never seen the budget or the list of proposals because they are in closed session and they are not allowed to disclose what they are asking for. I would like to point out to the people that we do have a problem with the schools and the funding of them. We have voted down every referendum the last three or four years and we do not have the money to give the teachers what they are looking for. But, we do have a lot of money being funneled into the Park District. I think it is time the towns of Round Lake get their act together and their priorities straight. Do we want to teach them to be successful adults or do we want them to go and play at the Park District. What goes to the Park District equals half of the school budget. I am asking everybody in the Round Lakes to please start contacting the Park District to reduce their taxes so it can be allotted for the schools. We need to give the teachers some of what they are asking for.

Fees that cut it

I am calling regarding to higher property taxes and higher school enrollment. We should use the east and west coast as guides. There should be an increase in developmental subsidies to new home construction. What is a $2,500 impact fee versus $25,000 worth of impact? It just doesn't cut it.

More info?

This is more information on the Rockland Rd. development. The development in Libertyville with an access road off of Rockland Rd. is proposed through Earl Hoover Development and Werchek Builders. It will tentatively be called Canterbury Woods. Check with the Village Hall.

Should be better

This goes out to BEST, the so-called watch dog group. Where did they learn to add? They say teachers work five hours per day. My wife gets to school at 7:15 a.m. After school which is usually 4:15, she has two hours of homework. They are just a group of ignorant people who like to demean the hard working people at Antioch High School. They print half truths and demean community spirit toward the high school.

No homework

This is in response to the letter to the editor from Susan Nam. School board members do not get a vacation. It was the representative from the State of Illinois who took his seven-week vacation that halted negotiations. No Illinois school board members receive a salary of any kind. Superintendent Mary Davis did not get all new office furniture. Two school board members resigned. One moved to Crystal Lake and one moved to Fox Lake. It is too bad your teachers did not teach you to do your homework.

Alienating

Why does Al Salvi help all the illegal aliens instead of the ones who come here legally and all the poor people? What is the matter with him? Doesn't he know people are trying to support him? He should support us. If he wants to support illegals then why doesn't he go to other countries and stay with them.

Sign police

Let's hear it for the Wauconda Police. I was stopped at a red light at Rte. 176 and Main St. when an officer pulled up. He swung his driver's side door open and exited the car very quickly. Was he apprehending some criminal? He went over to the political signs.

Amidst all these signs was one garage sale sign which the officer quickly apprehended, tore into shreds, and ran back to his car taking it into custody. Why do the politicians have the right to put up signs when citizens don't have rights to put up signs?

Greedy teachers

This is about greedy teachers. I am a student from Round Lake. They have no concern about the students. The teachers better start negotiating because the seniors and eighth graders are losing valuable time. If they don't shape up, tell them to ship out.

Wake up call

When are the nit wit citizens of Round Lake going to wake up? There are people out there painting houses who make more than a teacher. Round Lake teachers are paid less than other school system's teachers. We should appreciate our teachers.

Payback time

This is the original caller about the train whistles at Loon Lake. I never meant to spark off such a controversy. There have been calls every week. I was only wondering why some of the trains toot their whistles and some of them hold onto them all the way through town. If it isn't necessary for some of the trains to hold down on the whistles, then why do the rest of them do it? Now I know why. Some of the conductors have the same mentality as some of the callers. I think the conductors are trying to get back at some of the callers who complained. I am sorry I caused such a controversy.

Unwilling strikers

I was in a Round Lake school on the last day of school. The teachers did not want to strike. They just want a fair wage. They were heart broken to have to go on strike.

Repossessing

This is in response to 'Repossessive.' The first step is to contact the Secretary of State. Sending in your license number. They will have the license number and address on file of the new owner. They may not give it to you in which case it will be considered stolen. If the person has received the vehicle and you have surrendered the title and they are not honest enough to pay for it, then you basically gave them the car. The key is to receive complete payment before you give them the title. Otherwise, you have no legal ground to stand on.

Native language

I read in Lipservice a paragraph titled 'Speak the language.' It was an anti-Spanish call. It said let's get in the habit of speaking the American language. That can't be English because that is from England. They must have meant the Native American Indian language.

Coming home

This is regarding the call about the Spanish homecoming. That person is very close minded. They first must find out if Spanish means the language or as in Spain. That homecoming sounded fun. I graduated from Round Lake and can't remember any of the homecomings that were fun. And regarding the Mexican Holiday, we are proud of our country. Don't you have anything better to do?

Signs of language

This is regarding 'Speak the Language.' I appreciated that you pointed out that most of the signs in Chicagoland are bilingual. I don't appreciate that you said let's get in the habit of speaking the American language. You act like Spanish is the only other language in the world. This is an ethnically diverse area where people speak many native languages.

Dirty politics

This call is in response to 'Political lumber.' Politics are alive and well in Round Lake. I just read about a business that had to have its driveway paved before they could move. Every time I go to the Village Hall my car gets dirty because their driveway is not paved. Why did this business have to jump through so many hoops? Who gets paid to do what?

Parental duty

This is in response to 'Punish them.' I am totally sick of people talking about putting kids under 14 in jail. Where are the parents? They are responsible for them. The parents should not let their kids run around carrying guns. If the parents don't know their kids are carrying guns, then they should find out. Too many people are having kids for amusement and they don't want to be responsible for them later on. Kids need to be kids. Don't put them in jail. Look to the parents. They are responsible for them until they are 18. Think about it before you have children.

Talk propaganda

I thought the newsletter 'Straight Talk' from the education association was the biggest pile of propaganda I have ever seen. If the teachers think they have it so bad, they should get a job in the real world.

Go back

This is in response to speak the language. No one here originated from this country except for the Indians. The caller also said aliens should come back where they came from. The person who called in should go back where they came from.

Strike effects

This is in response to 'Straight facts.' I am a senior at Round Lake High School and this strike affects the students the most. The teachers are partly right. Superintendent Mary Davis only thinks about herself. The teachers will have a terrible time negotiating with her. She gets her raises. I agree with the call. This is not a good lesson to the kids.

Calling 911

Whoever poured the acid all over my car last week, you don't have to worry about me calling the police. However, someone may need to call an ambulance for you.

Good mail

This is in response to the Ingleside mail delivery personnel. My postal carrier in Ingleside is great.

Key to possessing

This is to the person who wants to repossess the car they sold privately. If you still have a copy of the key, I would just go get the car back and tell them you will keep the car until you get paid. I hope you got something in writing. It is still your car until you get paid for it.

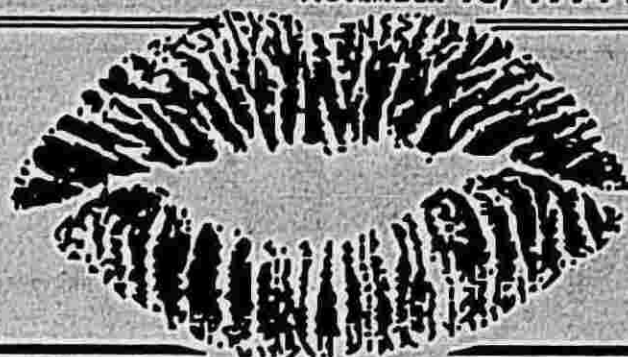

Ganged up

I wonder when the Mexican gang is going to get arrested for what they are doing. They have hangouts all over town. The Round Lake cops are wimps. I think they are scared of these gangs.

Without courage

An article written by Representative Al Salvi in the Wauconda Leader states that he sees a need for a change in the State School Aid Formula. That is true. I am disappointed he blames the Chicago Public School System for spending more than Round Lake. The problem is areas like Lake Forest that spends more than $10,000 per year per pupil. Mr. Salvi should point out these inequities. Unfortunately, he is just another politician without the courage to tell us taxes will need to be raised to get a proper education for the entire state.

Giving a smile

I would like to thank Lakeland Newspapers and the Fox Lake Press. They had made a mistake with my daughter's name. They not only put her name in the paper, but they put it in the paper with her picture. You really made my daughter smile today. Thank you very much.

Get the facts

This is directed at the people who have called in saying the teachers are overpaid. Unfortunately, they have not looked at some of the facts. Teachers spend four weeks a year doing report cards. They spend two to five hours per night doing homework. They spend Sunday evenings doing lesson plans. Most teachers take summer education to keep up their accreditation. Teachers are also involved in many extra-curricular activities they are expected to attend. Teachers who only have bachelor's degrees are usually taking classes to get their master's degree at the same time. The fact is that teachers do not compete with people in the private sector with similar educations. Teachers are well underpaid. I am not a teacher, nor am I married to a teacher. I am just someone who decided to go out and get the facts.

Teacher's gang

The most destructive gang in the Round Lake area is called the teachers' union. They are abusing the kids mentally. The gang leaders are Zembrook and Kirby.

Illegal expenses

Please consider these statistics as compiled by the Illinois Citizens for Immigration Reform the next time you get a property tax increase, vote on a school referendum, drive by a picketing teacher or the president wants us to send more foreign aid money—there are over 200,000 illegal immigrants in Illinois. We paid $178 million in taxes for public service to illegal aliens in 1993. Eighty million dollars was spent for education, and is rising at 15 percent annually. Forty-five million was spent to incarcerate illegal aliens convicted of crimes in Illinois. Fifty million was used to pay for their health care benefits. Another $2.4 million went for welfare and $1 million for housing. When considering the financial problems in Illinois, it is unbelievable that Illinois did not join with Florida, California, Texas and New Jersey in suing the federal government to recoup some of the billions of dollars that was sent there by us who live here legally.

New minority

This is response to the 'Speak the language' call. This is not your homeland either. You have a country to go home to also. You had better think before you speak. If you don't approve of us speaking Spanish, then you had better go back to your own country. Someday, you will be the minority. How do you like that?

Proud of Spanish

This is to the person who dislikes the Spanish language. Mexico is part of America. If you consider yourself to be a true American, then you must be one of the native American tribes who live here. You are not speaking the right language, either. As for signs in Spanish, get used to it. Pretty soon, you will be a minority. I speak both English and Spanish fluently, but I will not stop speaking Spanish in public just to appease someone like you.

Misinformation

This is Judy Martini. I wish the caller would have the integrity to call me or the Waterway Management Agency to get the facts about channel dredging instead of trying to slander me in the paper. This is the second time this caller has tried to do this with misinformation. The truth will prevail.

Mucho dinero

I object to my tax dollars going to Lake Villa Schools to teach children Spanish. Why can't these people learn English? They are in America now. That money could go to giving the teachers a better salary.

Thriving rumors

I am appalled that educated people in the Round Lake Area would stoop so low to call in such rumors. If our teachers went to the North Shore, who would you get to teach the children here? Think of the quality. Teachers don't want all those benefits people have been calling about. Get your facts straight. People should go to meetings and ask what they can do to make the school better instead of thriving on rumors.

Recycled vote

Grant Township is one of the last communities in this area that does not have curbside recycling. It was voted four years ago. What is the story here? It would save us some money. A few voters who said they would not bother to take an extra container to the curb would also probably not bother to vote. The landfills are getting higher and higher. How about putting planet Earth at the top of your list?

Social work

This is to the person in Fox Lake who thinks they should be the social worker for the neighborhood. It is the job of the police and the DCFS and as long as the kids are in trouble late at night we will continue to call on the authorities. If you are taking them in and counseling them, you should also clean up after them. The neighbors are tired of doing it. They are turning a vacant lot on Highview into a dump.

LET'S CHIP IN AND SAVE THE ENVIRONMENT.

A chipped or cracked windshield is a potential danger to you, and the environment. Because when it's replaced instead of repaired, your windshield winds up cluttering a landfill for years. At NOVUS Windshield Repair, we'll fix the damage in about 30 minutes with a repair that's totally guaranteed and usually free, since most insurance companies will pay for it. Plus, your windshield stays where it belongs - on your car, not in a landfill. Tell your insurance agent about NOVUS. If we all chip in, everybody wins.

WHERE TO WORSHIP

Antioch

Many have seen how radically a grateful heart can change one's whole outlook and experience. They've found that a willingness to focus on the God-given goodness in one's life, instead of on what one lacks, brings an understanding of how trustworthy God's omnipotence is. As a Christian Science hymn puts it, "A grateful heart a garden is, where there is always room for every lovely, Godlike grace to come to perfect bloom."

In this spirit of love and gratitude, the members of First Church of Christ, Scientist, Antioch, Rte. 173 and Hardin St., invite the community to join in giving thanks to God. The service will be held on Thanksgiving Day at 10:30 a.m. A special lesson will be read from the Bible and from Science and Health, with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy. Free parking, child care will be provided, and no collection will be taken.

G: Dear...Search: I have been employed as a temporary for a major corporation for a period of one year to the day. My position when brought in was said that if I work for a period of one year as a temporary then I will be up for permanent hire by the company. Well, my year has just been blown away. On my so-called anniversary the head of Personnel (or Human Resources as they now call it), came to me and told me that if I could pass a typing test then I will be hired on by their company. The criteria was that I had to type at least 45 wpm. I was caught off guard but I took the test only to find out that I can only type 36 wpm by their standards. Needless to say, I am now jobless. How can a company make a promise to hire you after one year and then pull the rug out from under you with some lame test? V.G. - Glenview.

A: Dear V.G. It sounds as though perhaps the company had set standards as to what requirements may prevail for certain positions. You have failed to mention what type of position you were holding as a temporary. The reason I say this is because if you were working in the accounting department as a general clerk, perhaps the position they were going to offer required data entry with a typing speed requirement. This is a scenario that you will find in large corporations. Requirements to set corporate standards. I would not, however, burn my bridges with the company. They have had the opportunity to check out your capabilities for a full year. You both have time invested in each other. Check with Human Resources or your Employment Counselor to see if there may be employment opportunities in other areas. Perhaps you will want to be in touch with your immediate supervisor (the person you reported directly to) and ask that a possible good word be put in by him or her in your favor. Good luck to you.

Showtime is at hand for hoops

Another basketball season is here. The sounds of bouncing basketballs have long since replaced the clashing of shoulder pads at Lake and McHenry County High Schools.

This season we welcome some new faces to the coaching ranks: John Zarr at Lake Zurich, Mark Dodd at Richmond-Burton; Ron Sapochak at Round Lake and Ed Sennett at Johnsburg.

Dodd is a former point guard at Waverly, Iowa and has some interesting thoughts about today's players tendency for razzle-dazzle.

"What we stress here is fundamentals. You have to walk before you can run. Then you can get fancy," he said.

The teams are trying to regain the basketball fever which gave regional titles for Grayslake and Mundelein to celebrate and the Elite Eight trip for Libertyville. It was the Wildcats second trip to Champaign in the 1990s.

Hoops

"You never want to be out prepared," he said.

As for predictions, we give Grayslake the nod to repeat as Northwest Suburban champs. The North Suburban Conference favorite is defending champ Mundelein, but that league appears up for grabs.

Some players to watch as one gets the first full dose of hoops action next week:

Carmel: senior guard Ruben Rivera should be a force if he is half as exciting as he is on the football field.

Grayslake: Coach Greg Groth said NWSC most valuable player Dave Mendralla has increased his accuracy from three-point land.

Grant: Dave Stone played some of his best basketball at the end of Grant's second straight 17-win season. Look for that trend to continue.

Libertyville: J. R. Jurecko could be the most impressive sophomore center to hit the courts.

Wauconda: 6-3 center Chris Van Alstine returns to lead the senior dominated Bulldogs.

Lake Zurich: point guard Pat DeVito will lead a quick Bears team in the Fox Valley Conference.

Mundelein: Sean Stackhouse will be the main man as the Mustangs defend the NSC title.

Antioch: Eric Eckenstahler will return with his shot blocking and rebounding abilities.

Richmond-Burton: Rich Petska leads from the guard position.

Stevenson: all-conference guard Pete Ferguson will be the No. 1 returnee.

Here's hoping for a pronto settlement and a return of sports in Round Lake. Although school is set to reopen, sports is still in limbo.

This section includes both boys and girls basketball teams and College of Lake County outlooks. Hats off to all the coaches who cooperated with us taking time for 26 photos in eight days.

Patriots girls bring No. 1 ranking to court

The Stevenson High School Patriots Girls Basketball Team take to the basketball court a number one state ranking behind their name.

Last season, it took until early January before the Stevenson girls basketball team was ranked No. 1 in the state. This year the Patriots carry that title even before walking on to the basketball court.

Stevenson (30-1) coasted to an undefeated regular season record last year, only losing to nemesis Libertyville in the supersectional. But, believe it or not, last season was a building year for the Patriots and, to the heartache of other North Suburban Conference teams, last season was only a sign of more sparkling seasons to come.

this season, including Pickerington of Ohio which is the current No. 1 ranked girls basketball team in the nation.

In the conference, Coach Frank Mattucci believes Warren can be a competitive team and last year's loss to Libertyville fueled a rivalry between the two schools, which Mattucci has compared to the heated Bears-Packers rivalry.

"I told them that I don't think there is anybody who can beat us except ourselves," Mattucci said. For more on the team see PAGE C 39. — by KEVIN HANRAHAN

Facts about real Christmas trees

Real Christmas trees are an all-American product, grown in all 50 states, including Alaska and Hawaii. Most artificial trees are manufactured in Korea, Taiwan or Hong Kong.

newable, recyclable resource. Artificial trees contain non-biodegradable
plastics and metals.

For every real Christmas tree harvested, two to three seedlings are planted in its place.

There about one million acres in production for growing Christmas trees.
Each acre of trees provides the daily oxygen requirements of 18 people.

There are about 15,000
Christmas tree growers in the U.S. and over 100,000 people employed full or part time in the industry.

There are approximately 5,000 choose and cut farms in the U.S.

It can take as many as 15 years to grow a tree of average retail sale height (6 feet) but the average growing time is seven years.

The top Christmas tree producing states are Oregon, Michigan, Wisconsin, California, Pennsylvania and North Carolina.

Quality, not quantity theme for CLC Lady Lancers

Low on numbers but not enthusiasm, the College of Lake County's womens basketball team looks to surprise some opponents this winter.

The Lancers have only eight players and one is sidelined with an injury. "We had 11 players, but three decided they could not do it. We have eight strong players," Coach Don Zeman said.

The only familiar face for CLC is Amy Scharlau, a 5-foot, 6-inch guard. She made her presence felt in the 81-59 season opening loss to Waukesha, scoring 14 points.

Debbie Pope, a 5-3 guard from Lake Zurich, was a perfect 3-for-3 from three-point land.

"I was not disappointed with the way we played. We were tied with them two minutes before halftime. We like to use the three-point shot more because we are not really big. We have one sophomore and seven freshmen. It will take a while for us to get to know each other," Zeman said.

CLC is at South Suburban Nov. 19 for a 1 p.m. game before the Harper Thanksgiving tournament. At Harper, CLC battles Harper at 1 p.m. Nov. 25. The semifinals and finals are 1 and 3 p.m. Nov. 26.

Nicole Pollard, 6-1 from Round Lake and Mandi Jacobsen,

Guards include two from Round Lake, Casey Bass, 5-5 and Amy Goodman, 5-6.

"We have some depth at that position," Zeman said.

Two players who have restarted hoops careers are Ria Cruz of Waukegan, a 5-3 guard and Jim Rowe from Niles West, a 5-7 forward.

"They have picked things up pretty quick. They could be a real plus for us. It has been a little hard putting it in (strategy) so far because of our lack of quality practices with a limited number of players. We have our scouts out trying to round up a few more players. You need to be able to simulate the five-on-five in practices to work on full-court presses and things like that," Zeman said.

Defensively, Zeman expects the Lancers to play man-to-man and trapping. "We can disrupt other offenses," he said.

The defense was strong until Waukesha wore down CLC in the second half.

"If their shooting continues to improve and ballhandling and passing is sharp enough, our offense could be dangerous. We have a lot of motion in our offense to offset our size," Zeman said.

Schullian helps Navy spikers gain victories

Katie Schullian, a Vernon Hills resident, is leading Navy's women's volleyball team in several categories. The senior is first in hitting, .345; kills (309), aces (56) and blocks (96).

Navy is 14-16 overall, 4-3 in the Patriot League. The team is at the ECAC championships this weekend.

Schullian prepped at Stevenson High.

YMCA offers B-ball league, traveling team

The Lake County Family YMCA will be sponsoring both an in-house basketball league as well as a traveling basketball team that will compete against other area traveling teams.

Registration deadline for the in-house league is Dec. 2. League play begins Dec. 10. The games will be played on Saturdays between 2 and 6 p.m. at the YMCA on Western Avenue in Waukegan.

All participants must be in high school and cannot represent their school team. Fee is $150 per team. League play is 10 weeks.

The YMCA will also be sponsoring a boys basketball traveling team. Tryouts are Dec. 4 from 4 to 6 p.m.

Again, all players must be in high school but cannot represent their high school team.

Traveling league play begins Jan. 9 and ends March 25. Fee is $45 for YMCA members and $60 for non-members. Jerseys are included.

For more information about the in-house league and the traveling team, call 360-9622.

Forkel overcomes spotlight, gains first at Brunswick

Eric Forkel had dominated throughout the week at the Professional Bowlers Association Brunswick Memorial World Open.

He led by hundreds of pins heading into the television round. Before the finale at Brunswick Deer Park Lanes, Forkel may have cringed when he heard the term television round. He prevailed this night, overcoming the glare of the cameras and David Ozio in a 224-192 victory.

"When you get on TV, you get a little careful, a little lethargic, a little soft. It is not the same game I have bowled all week. That is what has happened in the past. Today I felt I pushed myself farther. I kept the aggressiveness most of the time. That is the way I bowl during the week," Forkel said.

He earned $45,492 in first-place money, a Bayliner boat and a trailer package and a three-year exemption to the Brunswick World Tournament of Champions.

"When you are bowling for the title, it is dead silence and millions of people are watching. It is a whole different environment," Forkel said.

He built a lead early against Ozio, who finished with $23,492 in second-place money. Still, Ozio was one strike or two away from the title and there was some anxious moments.

Ozio had a successful season and was shooting to go over $1 million in earnings.

"What happened was I left the four pin. I had to walk around the ball return and I did it right the first time. But on the second time, I felt myself stop too far to the left. You cannot stop on a key shot like that. I sensed I walked too far around it. You just have to hope for the best," Ozio said, recalling the final frame.

He said the lanes broke down rapidly.

"This game is a gamble. You have to take calculated risks. Those risks did not come to haunt me. At least I had a chance to get up in the 10th and control my own fate. That is all I ever ask when it comes to throwing shots. I was more than prepared," Ozio said.

Ozio had the closest match in the ESPN televised finals. He downed Butch Soper of Havasu City, Arizona 228-226. Soper, the third seed, had gained two wins and earned $13,492.

"I chased Eric all week. I am just happy I bowled well. I did not think I had a good ball reaction in practice. They other guys broke the lanes down for me. It was good to qualify second. I probably would not have won my first match if I had qualified fourth or fifth," Ozio said.

Staying slow and keeping the ball tucked in tight were factors, Ozio said.

"When you lead by that much, it (losing a lead) can happen. I remember it happened to Dave Davis when he was up by 800 shots. It is a one-game match and anything can happen. I liked my moments today. That trip six came at the right time. I put all the heat on him. Fortunately, he did not get that second strike in the 10th. I knew he would hit the pocket. It was 50-50 if it would carry. When I heard the crowd scream, I knew he had the first one. I prayed a little harder something would stand. That is all you can ask for," Forkel said.

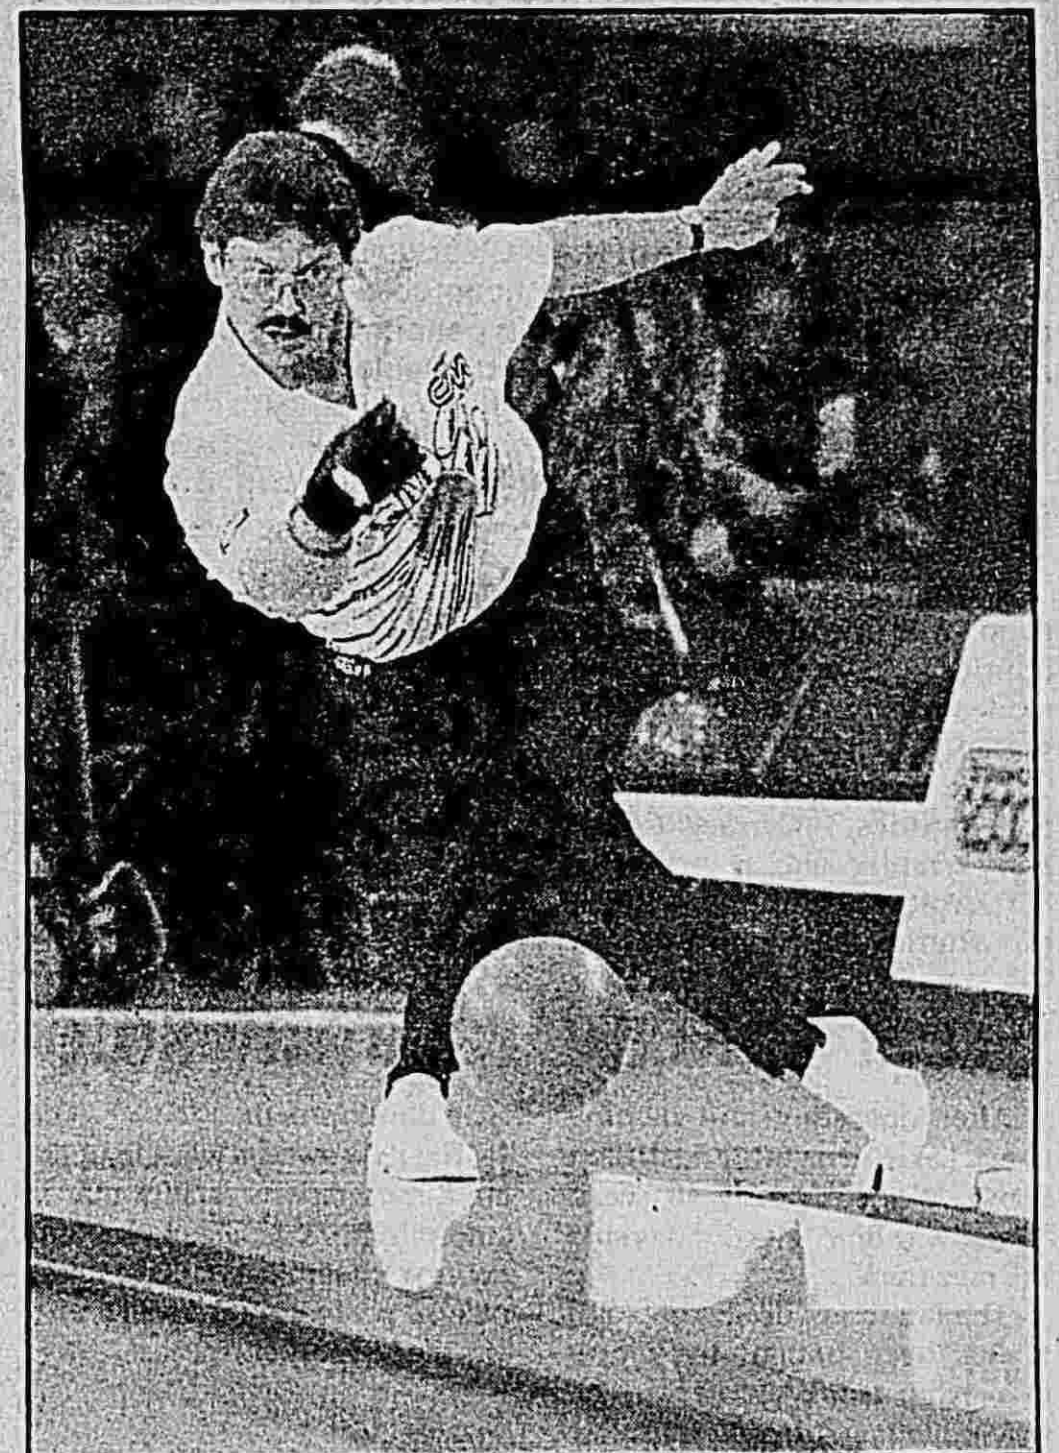

A nine by Forkel put Ozio in a position to strike out to win.

"This is a demanding lane condition. You have to make really good shots. I shot my average and it was good enough to win," Forkel said.

"To me, I have not won that much. It means a lot to get back into the Top 10 and to win again. I have not won a match on TV since 1992. That is kind of hard to deal with," Forkel said.

Soper's victims in the first two finals matches were Dave D'Entremont of Middleburg Heights, Ohio and Bob Learn Jr. of Erie, Pa. Learn Jr. took home $10,492 while D'Entremont won $8,992.

Corsairs have quickness, youth on their side

A youthful but quick Carmel High School team is expected as Coach Ben Berg enters his second year.

"We do not have a lot of kids with experience. We will not require them to do things they are not capable of," Berg said.

Pat Kraft, a 6-foot senior and Dan Graham, 6-1, lead the returnees along with 5-10 guard Manny Trillo.

Kraft was the brick wall which offenses ran into this football season.

"Trillo was out the first 10 games last year with an injured shoulder but he worked himself into a starting role," Berg said.

Trillo is also expected to be what Kraft was to the football team, an in-your-face defensive standout.

Junior Mike Graham is coming off a stellar effort as wide receiver. "He was our best sophomore player and he gives us some size at 6-3," Berg said.

Ruben Rivera did not complete his basketball season last year, but is looking to add speed to the guard slot. "He is very fast and quick. He can do a lot of things at the defensive end you just can't coach," Berg said.

Mike Malone, 5-11, hopes to add to the rebounding effort.

Berg had a tough first year in the East Suburban Catholic Conference, 5-13, 8-18 overall.

CHS opens the season by hosting a tournament with Warren, Waukegan and Fremd. Carmel battles Waukegan at 7:30 p.m. Nov. 25, Warren at 7:30 p.m. Nov. 26.

CLC men start season 2-1 in own tip-off tourney

A stifling defense and some crisp execution on offense meant the difference for the College of Lake County men's basketball team.

Add in some key plays from newcomers and the Lancers posted a 2-1 record in their own tourney. CLC beat Judson JV 77-54, lost to tournament champ Parkland 111-84 but downed Truman 71-64 in a come-from-behind effort.

Manuel Stutts, a sophomore from Waukegan was named all-tournament team. He has already impressed his teammates.

"I have been playing since the sixth grade and have not played with a big man like Stutts," Justin Hanlin said.

"Our intensity on defense kicked up," Hanlin said of the second half against Truman. "We have some new guys and they are blending in."

Stutts scored 33 points in the losing effort against Parkland, 20 against Truman.

"My job is to go in and crash the boards," Stutts said.

Ronzeyl Newsome scored 10 points against Truman for Coach Bruce Smith's team. Hanlin added 9.

"Stutts did a nice job. He is a good player," Smith said.

Ramsey Williams and Newsom were named all-tourney honorable mention from CLC.

CLC travels to South Suburban for a non-conference tilt Nov. 19 at 5 p.m. South Suburban has a new coach this year.

"We just need to do things better, be more patient and work for better shots. We need to rebound tougher, especially at the defensive end," Smith said.

Against Truman, whom CLC will meet later in Skyway play, the Lancers recovered from a 7-point halftime deficit which grew to 13 early in the second half.

CLC recovered, gaining a 55-54 lead on a lay-up by Hanlin off a Truman turnover.

A slam by Stutts gave CLC a three-point lead with 1:49 left which it did not relinquish.

Truman stayed close, but a miss led to a basket by Kurt Filiatreault, a freshman from Grant.

Coach Smith summed up his

"We played poorly the first night and better the second and third games," he said.

Indeed, CLC was only up by two against Judson before pulling away in the first 10 minutes of the second half.

Injuries, road tilts give CHS girls early obstacles

Carmel High's girls basketball team will have to overcome injuries and inexperience and road games to begin the 1994-95 season.

"We have a lot of new faces and injuries," Carmel Coach Larry Whittier said.

Despite the bumps and bruises, Whittier is optimistic as he begins the second year at Carmel.

One of the main reasons for that optimism is Colleen Krombach. She was selected all Girls Athletic Conference North Division last year. "She has played a lot of basketball in summer league and camp and has really taken strides ahead," Whittier said of the 5-foot, 10-inch senior forward.

Erin Potempa is a 5-6 senior point guard back to direct the offense. She scored 9 points a game last year.

"She has the ability to set up the offense and go to the open spot," Whittier said.

Jamie McGill, a 5-7 senior guard is back, but like Potempa, is recovering from an injury. Potempa hurt a quadriceps muscle while McGill's dilemma is a hamstring pull.

Ami Kocsis, also 5-10, is another returning forward, but has been slowed by injury.

Amy DeBoer, a 5-6 guard, is a returning letter winner.

Underclassmen looking to contribute include junior Amy DeBoer, a 5-6 guard and letter winner last year; Erin Jennings, a 5-9 junior forward with a strong outside shot and sophomore Nicole Lynch, a 5-8 guard.

Megan Pender returns after gaining experience as a sophomore on the junior varsity. She is a 5-9 forward.

Another junior varsity contributor last year, Courtney

Smith, is a 5-9 forward. "She has rebounding and ballhandling skill," Whittier said.

Senior Erin Clancey, a 5-10 forward is "100 percent better than last year," the coach said.

Carmel opened the season with six straight road games, with a tough opening night assignment at Resurrection. CHS started last year 3-11 but bounced back to be contenders in the conference tournament, winning the division title.

Great Lakes Dragaway sold

After operating and owning Great Lakes Dragaway in Union Grove, Wis. for nearly 40 years, "Broadway Bob" Metzler has sold the race track.

The landmark dragstrip facility has been bought by a new ownership team, constructed of the individuals Randy Henning, Ray Drew and Marcel Kuper, and will begin operation Jan. 1, 1995.

The motorsports facility (Great Lakes Dragaway) will continue operation in a similar fashion but with improvements to bring the facility to the 90s of motorsports entertainment, and not limiting the exposure to just drag racing.

Scott Gardner is already on staff as marketing director and will bring experience from serving as vice president of UDRA to ensure steady growth and improvement in daily operations. These improvements will be gradual and continuous throughout the years to come, with future expansions in long term development.

The new owners want to operate a motorsports facility that is entertaining, safe, clean, fun and exciting for families, CEO's, street racers, professional racers and any motorsport enthusiast.

SHS girls bring No. 1 ranking to court

It took until early January last year before the Stevenson girls basketball team was ranked No. 1 in the state. This year the Patriots carry that title even before entering the basketball court.

Stevenson (30-1) coasted to an undefeated regular season record last year, only losing to nemesis Libertyville in the super-sectional. But, believe it or not, last season was a building year for the Patriots and, to the heartache of other North Suburban Conference teams, last season was only a sign of more sparkling seasons to come.

Standout forward Danielle Mall is the only player not returning from last year. Mall graduated and took her basketball talents to Davidson.

Returning to the floor are the Catchings sisters combo of Tamika and Tauja. As a six-foot freshman, Tamika averaged 18 points a game and was consistently snatching rebounds and snuffing opposing shots. Tamika earned an all-state selection her first year in high school.

A more improved Tamika returns to action as an experienced sophomore.

Older sister Tauja, a junior, stands at 5'11" and earned all-conference honors with 15 points a game. Tauja also brings to the floor solid defensive skills.

T and T—as in dynamite?—will certainly provide for another explosive offensive season.

Coach Frank Mattucci grins when he speaks of the Catchings sisters, and he has said they have improved with summer play. But he is also quick to note that the team's depth is another contributing factor to the team's No. 1 ranking in the state.

Mattucci said he will be looking to Katie Coleman, a six-foot junior, to attack the boards this year. Coleman, too, earned an all-conference title last season.

If opposing teams don't already have enough to worry about, there is Trisha DeClark, who has become the team's three-point specialist.

"We'll be parading a pretty potent lineup," Mattucci said.

Mattucci has seven other quality players who will be competing for starting roles and who Mattucci has confidence as reserves. Some of those reserves and potential starters include seniors Rebekah Ford and Jamie Smith and juniors Felice Rosenzweig, Christy Miller, and Noelle Medenwaldt. Jennifer Warkins, a transfer student from Cincinnati, has been added to the squad as well.

"It's not important who starts. What's important is who finishes," Mattucci stressed. Stevenson faces a stiff non-conference schedule this season, including Pickerington of Ohio which is the current No. 1 ranked girls basketball team in the nation.

In the conference, Mattucci believes Warren can be a competitive team and last year's loss to Libertyville fueled a rivalry between the two schools, which Mattucci has compared to the heated Bears-Packers rivalry.

"I told them that I don't think there is anybody who can beat us except ourselves," Mattucci said.—by KEVIN HANRAHAN

Warren, Mundelein garner wins as girls hoops begins

Convincing is the best way to describe Warren Township High School girls basketball team's play in its season opening win over Lake Zurich.

Warren romped 76-39 behind a balanced scoring attack in which almost every player scored. Julie Minuskin led the way with 19 points and Felicia Sartin had 18. Carrie Scheider had 12.

In other opening night action Tuesday, Mundelein held off Wauconda 37-33 at home. Lyndsey Prezell led the winners with 16 points.

"We won the summer league at Fenton so they had some very good competition, but you are always worried about how your team will play that first game," Warren Coach Bruce Campbell said. "There are times we play pretty well, and there are times we don't. All in all, I was happy with the kids coming off the bench. We got a lot of bench support."

Warren showed it has the difficult one-two punch of quickness and size. That helped spoil the debut of Lake Zurich Coach Carl Krause.

"Schneider, a sophomore, runs well for her size and Sartin runs well for her size. We have some big people who can also run, which helps with the fast break," Campbell said.

Any doubts about whether having two players noted for scoring - Minuskin and Sartin, would work out was dismissed early as Warren led 21-5 after eight minutes.

"The three senior captains played really well - Felicia, Jodi Bodsford who is our supersub with a great game of handling the ball and great defense. She pulled down some rebounds. She has improved so much over last year."

"Everyone really put forth a lot of effort. Hopefully it will continue. We have always had some good players underneath, but Felicia has a lot of offensive skills. She was nervous tonight. She will be a big part of this team. They both look for each other," Campbell said.

The defense worked well, as the Bears high scorers were Christina Znoski and Katie Meehan with 8.

"Our goal is to keep the opponents to 40 points. You have to keep improving," Campbell said.

"They really respond to each other. They are friends. We go out and have pizza together. Not too many teams where other people are pulling for each other. That is why other people got in the ballgame there," the coach said.

"I thought they played hard. He will have a good team there," Campbell said.

Warren and Mundelein are at the MHS tourney which starts Nov. 19. Warren faces McHenry in the first game at 1 p.m. Nov. 19.

Previous Lancers to take a bow

College of Lake County will be honoring some of the best athletes from its past in the first hall of fame induction ceremony Dec. 8.

The event will take place at halftime of the men's basketball game against Harper.

"We will list the athletes' name and some of his or her accomplishments," Gene Hanson, athletic director, said.

Each sport in the college's 25-year history will be represented. Those in the hall will receive plaques. The listing will replace the current all-sports banners for the Skyway Conference.

"The hall of fame is something we can do to recognize our athletes," Hanson said.

Mundelein golfer finishes 7th in 'Golf Magazine' Senior Tour

Marty Smith of Mundelein teamed with four other amateurs to shoot a 56 in the "Golf Magazine Senior Tour Championship Pro-Am" at Dunes Golf and Beach Club in Myrtle Beach, S.C.

The score was good enough to tie for seventh place.

Smith qualified for the Pro-Am by competing at the Golf Magazine Amateur Challenge in which he finished fourth with a four-day combined score of 274 (11 under par.)

More than 300 golfers from 41 states, four countries and U.S. territory competed in the Amateur Challenge. Players with the 10 lowest scores in four handicap flights qualified for the senior tour.

Youth Pan Am baseball association is seeking fund-raising help

The baseball organization that won two gold medals for the U.S. in four years competing in the Youth Pan American Baseball Championships needs help.

Since 1990, the Youth Pan American Baseball Assn. has been sanctioned by USA Baseball and the Confederation of Pan American Baseball (COPABE) to select players to represent the U.S. in the Youth Pan American Baseball Championships.

Championships are divided into three divisions: infantile (11-12), pre-junior (13-14), and junior (15-16), and have been held in Mexico, Argentina, Guatemala, Brazil and the U.S.

During 1994, association volunteers scouted and evaluated over 2,500 players nationwide before selecting the three USA teams.

Players selected for each team are provided transportation plus room and board during a two-week training camp and for the championships. The average cost for each player is $3,000.

On Feb. 10, the YPABA will hold its fourth annual fund-raising Sports Auction at the Alta Villa Banquet Hall in Addison. Its goal is to raise $25,000. The organization is seeking support from individuals and corporations who could donate sports items, memorabilia or gift certificates for the auction or as raffle prizes. For more information, call 262-9134.

Warren's featherweight cheerleading squad took third place in the Northern Illinois Junior Football Cheerleading and Pom Pom Championships held at Grayslake High School earlier this year. Cheerleaders include Kristina Lindsay, Nicole Capola, Ashley Hill, Stephanie Christenson, Kristin Anthony, Kristen King, Morgan Hurley, Cindy Simmons, Melanie Foreman, Laura Dahm, Meghan O'Brien, Sara Peters and Kristi Jazdzewski.
